DIES IN CITY.—Dr. W. A. R. Kerr, former president of the University of Alberta and one of Canada's best-known educators who died at his home 10249 133 street on Friday night after a brief illness. He was 70 years old. A funeral service will be held at Howard and McBride's chapel at 12:30 p.m. Monday and burial will take place in Edmonton Cemetery. Besides Mrs. Kerr he is survived by one son Harry, of this city.

Ill Short Time

Dr. W. A. R. Kerr, Scholar, Teacher, Is Dead at 70

For 32 years a prominent member of the University of Alberta and its president from 1936 to 1941, Dr. W. A. R. Kerr died Friday night at his home, 10249 133 street, after a brief illness. He was 70 years old.

He was one of Canada's most outstanding educationists by reason of his academic equipment and experience in many fields. As a French scholar he was considered unsurpassed in Canada.

Dr. Kerr was chairman of the provincial government cancer commission when it was formed in 1941 and directed the work in investigating cancer cures.

AN "ORIGINAL"

He came to the University of Alberta as professor in modern languages on its formation in 1909 and in 1914 he was appointed dean of the faculty of arts and sciences, which he held until his appointment as president in 1936.

He submitted his resignation in May, 1941, following the action of the University senate in withdrawing the invitation to the late Premier William Aberhart, to accept an honorary degree of doctor of laws and to deliver the principal address at the annual convocation exercises.

Dr. William Alexander Robb Kerr was born at Toronto in 1875. He was educated at Upper Canada College and the University of Toronto, from which he was graduated in 1899 with his BA and in 1901 with his MA. He carried out postgraduate work at Harvard University, 1902; University of Paris, France, 1903; obtained his Ph.D. from Harvard in 1904 and in 1935 was awarded a doctor of laws degree by the University of Alberta.

AT UPPER CANADA

Prior to coming here, he had been modern language master at Upper Canada College in 1899-1901; professor of romantic languages at Adelphi College, Brooklyn, 1904-1909. He was vice-chairman, Carnegie Canadian committee on modern languages, 1924-28.

He was appointed officer of public instruction of France in 1935 and 1935 was made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor of France. He served as president of French-Canadian committee of Edmonton.

Reds Drive to Trap Nazis Defending East Prussia

By BRUCE W. MUNN
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Jan. 20.—(BUP)—Red armies massed along a 60-mile stretch of the German border within an even 200 miles of Berlin today and plunged into East Prussia from the south in a bold bid to trap the German defenders of the Junker province.

The German high command reported that Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's army had invaded southwestern East Prussia on a 37-mile front between Chorzele and Gilgenburg, the latter only 71 miles from the Baltic.

Other Russian forces reached the area of Kepno, seven miles from the Silesian frontier, 43 miles east of Breslau, and 60 miles northwest of Czestochowa, the opposite end of a border sector into which the Soviets were flooding for an invasion drive which may have begun.

ANOTHER THRUST

Another of the five Russian armies ripping the German defences in the east was bucking through the eastern border region of East Prussia. A Berlin communique acknowledged the flanking of Insterburg, great transport centre 36 miles in-

To Back Measure

Farm Bloc In Parliament Regardless of Party Lines Advocated at UFA Meeting

Formation of a farm bloc in the House of Commons, to actively support all measures for the benefit of farmers, in disregard of party lines, was advocated Friday afternoon at the United Farmers of Alberta convention in the Macdonald hotel.

By resolution, the convention decided to ask the Canadian Federation of Agriculture to approach all candidates for election in rural constituencies with pledges promising support in parliament of measures tending to increase farmers' incomes.

In an hour-long debate, delegates to the convention argued pros and cons of farm bloc action in Canada as compared to the United States. Finally accepting a substitute motion submitted by George MacLachlan, Clyde, delegates decided by a subsidiary motion to wire their decision to Alberta Federation of Agriculture officials now in conference at Regina.

Troops Protesting Return to Front

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—(CP)—The Globe and Mail in a newspage story today said that a number of general service personnel now in Toronto with five years service overseas to their credit are "vigorously protesting their expected imminent return to the battlefronts."

The paper said many of the men insisted that if they go overseas again it will be "manacled and under armed guard". They said what they believed to be their pre-embarkation medical examinations were "a joke".

The soldiers were some of the five-year service men permitted to leave the battlefields before Christmas and returned to Canada for a 30-day leave. They claimed they were "receiving unfair treatment."

Twenty-nine men in one group told the Globe and Mail they thought five years service was enough for one man, "especially when there are thousands of fit soldiers, both draftees and GS, who have never left Canada."

Commence Inquiry Into Woman's Death

Inquiry into the death of 33-year-old Mrs. Nettie Woytowicz, Prosperity district farm wife, will begin Saturday afternoon when a coroner's jury was scheduled to meet for purposes of identification.

Mrs. Woytowicz, a patient in a local hospital, was said to have died as the result of an overdose of paraldehyde, following an operation for goitre, on Wednesday.

Date of the inquest has not yet been set.

VICTORIA, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Charles Henry Vaughan, 53, a resident of Edmonton for many years before coming to Victoria five and a half months ago, died Thursday. He leaves a brother and niece here. Burial will be in Edmonton.

Reinforce Law

Veterans' Jobs Are Guaranteed By Legislation

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell last night announced regulations reinforcing legislation assuring service personnel reinstatement to their former employment after discharge.

The 1942 legislation ensured that veterans had three months to go back to their jobs if discharged at home and four months if discharged overseas.

The new regulations guarantee this interval between discharge and reinstatement, regardless of whether an employer may in the meantime offer the applicant an immediate return to his employment.

NEED REST PERIOD

It is felt that those discharged from the forces may require a period of rest or re-orientation.

Here is a summary of the main points of the regulations:

1. A man called for army training and rejected may claim reinstatement.

2. A man delayed by reason of hospitalization in returning to employment after discharge will be reinstated and is assured of being able to count on continuity of service for seniority, and pension.

3. A discharged man directed to essential war industry can claim reinstatement to his pre-enlistment occupation when he no longer is needed in the war job.

4. If an employer, with more than one establishment, cannot reasonably reinstate his former employee in the enterprise he left, he must find a place for the veterans in one of his other establishments.

TEN MONTH LIMIT

5. A veteran requiring recuperation time will be allowed to claim reinstatment within nine months if discharged in Canada and 10 months if discharged overseas.

6. Reinstated employees are to be promoted or given such pay increases as is the practice to give for length of service and the employer must take into account the time spent in the armed forces and any useful skill acquired while in the forces.

7. Where it is the policy of the employer to give vacation with pay, time spent with the forces is to be counted as time in the service of the employer in arriving at the period of vacation to be given.

8. Reinstaten ent officers will be available for consultation by veterans on the reinstatement regulations.

Canadians Capture Enemy Strongpoint

ROME, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Canadian infantrymen and tanks of the British 8th Army have captured a German strongpoint on the east bank of the Senio river opposite Fusignano, about 13 miles north and slightly east of Faenza, headquarters said today.

Forced out temporarily by a flurry of grenades, the Canadians returned and took all the buildings in a new assault.

Rain and slush slowed down the 5th Army action to the lowest point in several days and patrols reported little contact with the enemy.

Headquarters said the Germans had attempted infiltration tactics with small groups at a number of places on the east bank of the Senio. Southwest of Fusignano a German patrol crossed the river, but fled under fire, while to the northeast of the town German scouts again penetrated a wood held by the 8th Army but were cleaned up and suffered casualties.

American Planes Resume Daylight Aerial Offensive

LONDON, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Heavy bombers of the U.S. 8th Air Force resumed the daylight air offensive against Germany today after a weather-enforced one-day lull.

A brief announcement from the 8th's headquarters shortly before noon said merely that bombers, with fighter escort, "are over Germany."

Poor weather limited tactical missions of continent-based planes yesterday to 199 fighter-bomber sorties and 28 reconnaissance flights, from which four planes were lost.

News Held Up To Guard Lives Troops at Sea

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Censorship authorities last night permitted publication of information contained in a directive in connection with "a very substantial number of men overdue from embarkation leave." Permission was given following appearance of an editorial in Thursday's Toronto Globe and Mail mentioning the directive.

At the time it was issued to newspapers, the directive, banning mention then of "rumors of disorders and heavy absenteeism," said security of troop movements was involved and that when they completed "the fullest possible information will be released."

Warren Baldwin, chief censor of publications, said last night that the story, which was held up from Dec. 31, was released because of publication of the Globe and Mail editorial which said a large number of troops were missing. The censors, after conferring with military authorities agreed "at that stage the security considerations would not warrant a request that others

Truck Destroyed In Morning Fire

Fire which broke out in a garage of the Bell Distributing Company Limited, 101 avenue and 11 street, about 8:45 a.m. Saturday, destroyed a tank truck and about 500 gallons of gasoline. Cause of the blaze was unknown, but it was preceded by an explosion.

The flames started at the front of the vehicle and spread quickly. Hall No. 2 responded to the call, laying two lines of hose.

The truck was valued at $2,500.

To Be Classed Deserters After Absence of 21 Days

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Defence Minister McNaughton in announcing the arrival in Britain of 8,300 home defence troops disclosed today that 6,300 men destined for similar service are absent without leave in Canada and will be classed as deserters after they have been at large a total of 21 days.

He said the troop movement began Christmas week but there was no indication as from what day the 21-day count would be made. The General said the majority of the men were not in the deserter classification yet.

The general impression, however, was that many will start being classed as deserters after tomorrow based on the assumption that their leaves generally were up about Jan. 1.

Gen. McNaughton said the conscripted troops were accompanied overseas by "the full normal quota of reinforcements" — presumably general service men from the home training stream.

The minister said a "high percentage" of absenteeism was reported during the movement of the various draftee units in Canada during the Christmas and new year holidays with approximately 6,300 still unreported.

"Of 15,600 NRMA (draftees) warned for overseas service, 7,800 were at one time over-due or absent without leave, but 1,500 have since returned voluntarily or have been apprehended and of these 950 have rejoined their units during the last week," he said. "Approximately 6,300 are still unreported for various reasons, the majority being absent without leave but not deserters at this date."

Upsets Feature Calgary 'Spiel

CALGARY, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Upsets in the first draw this morning in Calgary's 41st annual bonspiel have again narrowed the field in the race for grand aggregate honors.

Defeat of Bobby Alexander of Calgary in the final draw Friday put him even with Glen Williams of Calgary, Jack Ruttan of Glencoe and Tommy Anderson of Banff with one loss each. This morning in the Visitors' competition Anderson lost to R. Henderson of Bowden, 8-4, and Glen Williams defeated Ruttan, 10-8, in the Hudson's Bay to advance to the jewelry.

George Chesney of Calgary advanced to the eights in the Brewery competition with a 9-8 victory over E. Perry of Edmonton in 11 ends.

Following are Edmonton results in the early draw this morning:

Birks event—Russell Haig, Lethbridge 8, F. Wolfe, Edmonton 11; R. Price, Edmonton 6, B. Robertson, Edmonton 9.

Brewery event—E. Perry, Edmonton 8, Geo. Chesney, North Hill 9.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20—(AP)—The surgeon general of the U.S. Army said Friday inadequacy of nursing care, in the face of a 270 per cent increase in American battle casualty patients, makes it imperative that nurses be drafted.

After Year-End Leave

Special Train Was Cancelled When Zombies Failed Report

PASSED BY CENSOR

A considerable number of home defence (Zombie) Canadian Army personnel ordered to report at the Prince of Wales Armory here for transportation east following Christmas and New Year leave, have as yet failed to report and a special train that was to have taken the men east had to be cancelled, it was reported here Saturday.

So few of the men ordered to report here have shown up so far that only the odd special coach, attached to regular eastbound passenger trains, have been utilized for their transportation, it was rumored.

FROM CITY, DISTRICT

Men ordered to report here are said to have been home defence army personnel whose homes were in Edmonton or in the surrounding district, to the north in particular.

Those who have reported to military officials in Edmonton were dispatched east immediately, it was said. No punishment has

3 Nazi Attacks Smash Back 7th Army's Line Five Miles

PARIS, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Three successive German attacks from the centre of the cross-Rhine corridor have smashed the United States 7th Army's defence line back almost five miles into the village of Weyersheim, 8½ miles north of Strasbourg.

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, Jan. 20.—(AP)—British troops jumped the Maas (Meuse) river south of Roermond unopposed last night, widening the 2nd Army's push in the Netherlands panhandle and forcing the Germans back on the Roer river line 38 miles west of Dusseldorf.

At the southern end of the western front, Americans fought up to 10,000 Germans linked in a solid bridgehead over the Rhine at one point only seven miles north of Strassbourg.

Just north of the British operations, U.S. 1st and 3rd Army troops drove in upon St. Vith, highway stronghold in the diminishing Belgian bulge, and advanced north of captured Diekirch, 30 miles to the south in Luxembourg.

CANUCKS REWIN TOWN

In the Netherlands, about 10 miles northwest of Nijmegen, the German parachute troops seized Zetter, held by the 1st Canadian Army, but, today's communique said, "the situation was later restored" and "fighting continues."

Milder Weather Is In Prospect

Prospects are for warmer weather with temperatures generally higher throughout Northern Alberta and the Mackenzie river valley. The forecast for Edmonton district is "Clear and slightly higher temperatures."

Maximum temperature yesterday was 6 above zero, and the minimum 17 below. Overnight the low recorded was 7 below, and at 2 p.m. it was 7 above. Estimated high for the day is 15 above; the overnight low is estimated at 2 below, and the high tomorrow, 15 above.

Great-Power Status Seen For Dominion

LONDON, Jan. 20.—(CP)—The political weekly, the Economist, commenting on the forthcoming Canadian elections, said yesterday: "Canada is on the verge of great-power status and developments of domestic politics in the next few months will have perceptible effects on world affairs." It added: "Prophets are finding it unusually difficult to predict what the result of the general election will be." "It seems almost impossible that Liberals should secure another overall majority."

Alberta Debaters Win McGoun Cup

WINNIPEG, Jan. 20.—(CP)—The University of Alberta debaters last night won the McGoun Cup, emblematic of university inter-provincial debating supremacy in Western Canada.

The Alberta team won a unanimous decision over the University of Saskatchewan, defending champions, and defeated University of British Columbia 2-1. Topic of the debate was "that a tolerant attitude be adopted toward Germany."

University of British Columbia were runners-up, having defeated the University of Manitoba team 2-1. The University of Saskatchewan defeated Manitoba at Saskatoon. Visiting teams upheld the negative side of the debate and home teams the affirmative.

The debates were resumed this year after a lapse of one year, and were held in Vancouver, Edmonton, Winnipeg and Saskatoon. Saskatchewan won the cup in 1943.

U.S. Liberty Ship Lost in Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20—(AP)—The United States navy yesterday disclosed loss of the Liberty ship John A. Johnson and 10 of its men in the Pacific in November, 1944, by action of a Japanese submarine whose crew shouted and danced on its deck and poured machine-gun bullets at the helpless survivors. Five men were wounded seriously by bullets and the submarine rammed one life raft and made repeated attempts to overturn others.

Hit Sub Hideouts

ROME, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Hideouts for German midget submarines were discovered Thursday in the Northern Adriatic and were raided twice by Balkan air force planes, causing explosions and fires both among the craft and installations. The midget submarine anchorage was discovered at Lussin Piccolo, on the east side of the Istrian Peninsula.

Claims "Huge Profits" Made Out of People's Sacrifices

BOTHWELL'S CORNERS, Ont., Jan. 20—(AP)—Air Vice-Marshal A. E. Godfrey, CCF candidate in the Grey North by-election of Feb. 5, said last night that his party favored the conscription of wealth as well as manpower because large, essential industries were "making huge profits out of the common people's sacrifices."

Air Vice-Marshal Godfrey, a retired RCAF officer, said that "while profits are heavily taxed big business concerns have been permitted to put away millions of dollars in special reserves and depreciation accounts, and on those millions they have paid no taxes whatsoever.

It Says Here

by Bob Hope

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 20.—Last night I played at an army camp. Tonight I'm playing for an annual sports award dinner, and I hope something comes up for tomorrow night or I'll have to start paying for my meals.

BOB HOPE

The Los Angeles Times put on their annual sports dinner and I was invited because I'm a newspaperman since I write for the Los Angeles Examiner. In fact, it was the Examiner that suggested that I go to the Times dinner.

But it was wonderful being there with all those sports celebrities. There was Connie Mack, father of baseball. . . . There was Amos Alonzo Stagg, father of football. . . . And there was Bing Crosby . . . Father of both of them.

Esther Williams, the glamorous swimmer, and I sat at the same table. I enjoyed it until somebody got up and said, "Look . . . The Australian crawl and the Hollywood creep."

They invited me because I did pretty well at sports in college. When I was a freshman I was a first string man. Then in my sophomore year, my yo-yo broke.

War Vets Invited to Send Rehabilitation Problems

Establishment of The Edmonton Bulletin's War Veterans Questions and Answers Department which appears on Page 10 of this edition, has been hailed with widespread enthusiasm by ex-servicemen throughout Edmonton and Edmonton district. The Bulletin has received many letters of congratulation and numerous telephone calls from veterans stating the department is greatly appreciated and fills a pressing need.

A great number of letters of inquiry touching on every phase of rehabilitation and pensions legislation have already been received and the task of condensing the letters and preparing replies is already a formidable one.

The Bulletin is pleased indeed that this service to the gallant men and women who have served Canada so well is meeting with such enthusiastic endorsation.

Again veterans are invited to bring their rehabilitation problems to this newspaper in the form of letters to the Veterans Questions and Answers department. Letters should be brief and to the point. The shorter they are the better chance for publication in the following Saturday's issue.

Gen. McNaughton

Admits 6,300 Draftees Absent Without Leave

risk was accepted so there would be no discrimination.

Army authorities were prepared for late arrivals and absentees and sufficient personnel were moved to the ports to meet the contingency "and ensure embarkation of the full complement of reinforcements."

"The arrival of these troops has brought the department's normal reinforcement program fully up to the strength planned for overseas to date," Gen. McNaughton said, "while the special program arranged for use of N.R.M.A. personnel overseas is also progressing according to schedule."

Addressing the Commons Nov. 23 Gen. McNaughton said that apart from the normal flow from the general service training stream 5 000 additional trained infantrymen "must be available early in December to safeguard the position at the end of January and another 5,000 must be found in January and some 6,000 in succeeding months."

CONTINUE HUNT

A number of absentees are returning each day while action toward apprehension of men still at large continues.

"Any men who remain absent without leave for more than 21 days," he added, "are being posted as deserters and disciplinary action will be taken against them under the provisions of the King's Regulations and Orders."

He declared that troops overseas often got news from incomplete comment in the press of other countries or through German broadcasts ahead of authoritative statements from Ottawa.

"We are providing and will provide the reinforcements required," he said. "It is most important therefore that news published by the press of Canada should correctly reflect this fact. Any conclusion to the contrary would be wholly erroneous."

NO ELABORATION

Gen. McNaughton did not elaborate on his statement that the draftee movement had been accompanied with normal reinforcements. These would be made up of general service volunteers going into the overseas pool from the general training stream.

His statement followed reports and rumors from various parts of Canada on mass absenteeism which last night saw censorship authorities permit publication of a hitherto-secret directive confirming that substantial numbers of draftees were overdue from embarkation leave.

The draftees were conscripted for overseas under an order-in-council making a total of 16,000 available for this purpose.

Cross-country reports from Quebec, Montreal, London, Ont., Calgary, Regina and Vancouver gave this unofficial picture of the situation:

At Quebec headquarters of Military District No. 5, while denying published reports that home defence troops had "virtually taken possession" of Valcartier military camp, said in a statement last night that a "considerable" number of men were absent without leave at the time of departure from the camp. It added that "some" have since returned.

At Montreal, The Gazette said in a newspage story there had been rumors that many of the men of the Regiment de Chateauguay at Sorrel, Que., and the Sherbrooke Fusiliers at Joliette, Que., did not return from leave given them before Christmas.

At London, Ont., it was reported that cases of men absent without leave from the Oxford Rifles and the Dufferin and Haldimand Rifles may total as many as 700.

ALBERTA SITUATION

At Calgary, it was said approximately 400 draftees from Alberta, scheduled to go overseas following five days' leave at Christmas and New Year's, failed to report to their district depot.

At Regina, more than 600 draftees were reported to have failed to report for duty after Christmas and New Year's leave in Saskatchewan, their home province.

And at Vancouver, Pacific command headquarters issued a statement saying that about 20 per cent of the British Columbia members of home defence units, stationed in British Columbia until last December when they were moved to eastern Canada, had failed to report for duty.

Permission to publish the censorship directive confirming the absence reports was given following the appearance of an editorial in Thursday's Toronto Globe and Mail which mentioned the directive and said a large number of troops was missing. Censorship officials then conferred with military authorities and it was agreed to permit publication of the reports.

BAN ANY MENTION

At the time it was issued—newspapers received it the night of Dec. 31—the directive banned mention of "rumors of disorders and heavy absenteeism" and said security of troop movements was involved and that when they were completed the "fullest possible" information would be released.

Issuance of the directive followed reports received by The Canadian Press of disturbances at Queen's Park barracks at London, Ont., where more than 100 draftees, most of them from western Canada, were said to have scaled a six-foot fence following trouble of unstated nature. Hundreds more of their comrades failed to report back from leave.

Included in the censorship directive was a 225-word "secret and confidential communication" from defence headquarters, from which 12 words were omitted at the request of the department upon publication last night.

DENY ENEMY NEWS

This communication began:

"There is under way at the present moment a very heavy movement of reinforcements toward the east coast (the omission of 12 words occurred here).

"It is the highest importance that the enemy should be denied any information as to the program. The recently-intensified operations of German submarines in the Atlantic are a definite hazard to the operation of troopships, and any information which might enable the enemy to deploy his submarines more effectively would imperil the lives of many thousands of Canadian troops. Furthermore, as the ships which carry Canadian troops are a part of the Allied troop-carrying pool, any breach of security on the part of Canada might affect, as well, American troop movements."

The communication then went on to say that to comment on rumors of "disorders and heavy absenteeism" at various assembly points would enable the enemy to build up a picture of the assemblies and sailing plans.

The statement issued from M.D. No. 5 headquarters at Quebec said that conditions at Valcartier camp were normal "in all respects" and presented no disciplinary problems beyond the minor cases encountered in any large camp.

NO OFFICERS HURT

It added that there had been no case of any senior officer, or any other officer, being "killed, manhandled or even molested" either in Calcartier camp or in any part of the military district.

The statement was issued in connection with a story published yesterday in the Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph which said defence troops had "virtually taken possession" of the camp and had not only refused to obey orders but had refused to allow officers to approach their quarters. The story said there was a rumor that a high officer had been "manhandled."

The Pacific command statement on absenteeism said that British Columbia men in home defence units had been given leave on the west coast and were ordered to report to their camps at the expiration of their time. It said that approximately 80 per cent of the men are known to have reported, leaving 20 per cent still AWL.

A conference of Pacific command officials was to be held in Vancouver today to discuss the problem.

QUEBEC, Jan. 19.—(CP)—The Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph said today in a front-page article that home defence army men have "virtually taken possession" of nearby Valcartier Camp, and "refuse not merely to obey orders but to allow officers to approach headquarters.'

The paper said it was rumored the majority of the men who had been given leave before Christmas prior to an imminent transfer still had not returned to the camp in the mountains 25 miles north of Quebec.

Brig. Edmond Blais, officer commanding Military District No. 5 (Quebec), could not be reached immediately, for comment upon the report, and his office at the Citadel said he was expected later today.

The paper said it was rumored that men who were to be transferred from the camp refused to leave until they had visited their homes and were given Christmas leave to appease them.

The transfers reportedly was postponed until after the leave, but, the paper said, it was rumored so few returned that the "leave" was extended until after the New Year.

"Rumor has had it that even today the great majority of those who were allowed to leave Valcartier camp have not returned and there is no indication that any transfers from the camp have yet been made."

The Chronicle-Telegraph said the latest rumor is that the camp commandant or a high district officer was "man-handled" last week-end, "yet so far no statement has been forthcoming."

"One fact is that somebody was shot and seriously wounded at Valcartier between six weeks and two months ago," the paper said.

"This was privately admitted from district headquarters at the time. Also the shooting was said to have been accidental but the newspapers were asked to withhold publication of any news pending the holding of the court of inquiry."

7th Army Line Smashed Back By Nazi Blows

Canadian counter-attacks rewon the town in night street-fighting.

British assault troops crossing the Maas by boat seized Stevensweert, seven miles southwest of Roermond, without opposition. The crossing added about two miles to the seven-mile assault-arc of white-camouflaged tanks and troops bulging into German lines within eight to 10 miles of the Roer river.

Although Stevensweert had been abandoned, it was still too early to tell whether the enemy was beginning a general withdrawal from the tip of his salient between Roermond and Gilenkirchen in Germany, a front dispatch said. British troops advanced up to 1,500 yards in mop-up operations, and pushed beyond Hongen, a mile from the German-Netherlands frontier.

BOLSTER BRIDGEHEAD

The Germans apparently were strengthening armored forces poured into the Rhine bridgehead north of Strasbourg.

At least six pontoon bridges have been thrown over the river.

Field Marshal Von Rundstedt had pulled virtually his whole tank force out of the western front battleline except for this northeastern corner of France. Snowstorms screened the movement. Whether he was pulling the tanks back for repair, or racing to hurl them into a battle for Strasbourg, Alsatian capital, remained a question.

German attempts to edge closer to Strasbourg's northern outskirts were broken up, although patrols had advanced to within six miles of the city. German forces south of Strasbourg are but 10 miles away.

SMASH NAZI GRIP

An American counter-attack smashed a German bridgehead flung over the Zorn river nine miles north of Strasbourg. But the Germans repulsed U.S. infantrymen attempting to slash back into Sessenheim, in the Nazis' Rhine bridgehead 17 miles northeast of Strasbourg.

The U.S. 1st Army had compressed an arc within four miles of St. Vith and taken all commanding heights on the north and west. Five more towns fell northwest and southwest of that bastion.

TODAY'S WAR MAP—The map of the Ardennes bulge shows recent Allied gains as shaded areas. The once long, narrow enemy salient has been greatly reduced and the battle-front here is becoming a graceful streamlined salient. The Allies could attack the base of the salient by advancing on St. Vith through Diekirch. The Allies this week captured several towns in Germany near the southeast corner of Luxembourg.

should not publish the same information since the tipoff to the enemy by that time was too late to allow his submarines to act effectively."

The Canadian Press received the directive from the censors of publications Sunday night, Dec. 31. It was carried on CP wires as a confidential note to editors, not for publication.

SECRET COMMUNICATION

The censorship directive quoted a "secret and confidential communication from the department of national defence."

This communication, part of the directive, said:

"There is under way at the present moment a very heavy movement of reinforcements toward the east coast (12 words omitted at request of national defence department.)

"It is of the highest importance that the enemy should be denied any information as to the program. The recently intensified operations of German submarines in the Atlantic are a definite hazard to the operation of troopships, and any information which might enable the enemy to deploy his submarines more effectively would imperil the lives of many thousands of Canadian troops.

"Furthermore, as the ships which carry Canadian troops are a part of the Allied troop-carrying pool, any breach of security on the part of Canada might affect, as well, American troop movements.

"The department has been asked to comment on rumors of disorders and heavy absenteeism at various assembly points. To comment on these rumors would enable the enemy to build up a picture of the assemblies and sailing plans.

SAID "NO DISORDERS"

"In point of fact there have been no disorders. (The defence department said last night that at the time the directive was issued they had not received reports of disorders.)

"There are at the moment a very substantial number of men overdue from embarkation leave. This possibility had been foreseen and contingent plans laid toward it, should it occur.

"This explanation is given to show the great danger to the lives of Canadian soldiers inherent in any publication of information or conjecture.

"Just as soon as the present heavy troops movement across the Atlantic has been completed, the fullest possible information will be released."

The chief censors of publications here added:

"On the basis of this information from the Department of National Defence, the censors of publications will not be able to pass for immediate publication reports of men absent without leave or other reports of NRMA difficulties which are in any way connected with this movement and feel certain they can count on the full co-operation of newspapers and radio stations until the period of danger is over. This action is taken for the single purpose of safeguarding the lives of men being transported overseas."

side the province, by reporting Soviet tank attacks north of it.

Gen. Ivan D. Cherniakhovsky's Third White Russian Army also stormed Gumbinnen, 16 miles east of Insterburg, the Nazi high command conceded, on the sixth day of his offensive announced only yesterday by Moscow.

"The great battle for the German eastern area has mounted still further in intensity," the Nazi communique said.

Berlin and Moscow agreed that on the eighth day of the Red army's greatest offensive it still was dealing progressively stronger blows which had the Germans reeling back toward or into the Reich at a pace that had become a rout in some sectors.

TWO-THIRDS FREED

Two-thirds of Poland had been liberated, and Moscow said the Russians now had set their sights on Danzig, Poznan and Breslau as their next objectives.

Moscow's victory guns boomed for four hours last night, making the skies over the Kremlin resplendent with multi-colored rockets, to signalize the Red Army's greatest day of the war which evoked five special orders of the day from Marshal Stalin.

Neither Moscow nor Berlin had yet resolved the mystery of whether the Russians had invaded Silesia, as has been indicated from both sources for two days. Of this front the German communique said:

GERMAN CLAIM

"In the upper Silesian border area, our troops put up bitter resistance to the enemy who is attacking further toward the west. Mobile German reserves including Volkstrum battalions headed off the Soviet and delayed its further advance.

"Counter attacks are in progress against an enemy offensive wedge which has been driven as far as the Kepno area.

Rokossovsky's drive into southwestern East Prussia was reported by the German command to have carried to Gilgenburg, Neidenburg, 17 miles to the east, and Chorzele, on the border 37 miles southeast of Gilgenburg.

NEARING CLIMAX

A Moscow dispatch said the battle of encirclement against East Prussia was approaching a climax, with Rokossovsky's drive threatening to trap the armies falling back under a frontal assault by Cherniakhovsky's forces.

The Germans threw in Volkstrum or home guard battalions in a desperate bid to stem Rokossovsky's push and hold open the now dangerously narrow corridor between his vanguard and the Baltic. Commenting on the situation in East Prussia, the Soviet Army organ Red Star said editorially:

"Soviet warriors now are storming the criminal nest of the German beast from two sides. The hour of vengeance has arrived. East Prussia will answer fully for all the crimes of its vicious offspring, for every drop of blood, every broken home."

The German transocean agency also acknowledged the fall of Kassa (Kosice), 13 miles inside the southern border of Czechoslovakia and 130 miles northeast of Budapest.

He is survived by his wife and one son, Harry, of Edmonton.

A funeral service will be held Monday at 12:30 p.m. in Howard and McBride's funeral chapel, with the Rev. Canon A. M. Trendell officiating. Burial will be in Edmonton cemetery.

News of Dr. Kerr's death caused widespread regret.

Typical of the many comments on him and his work are the following:

Mr. Justice Frank Ford, chancellor of the University: The news of Dr. Kerr's death will cause great sorrow to his many friends, amongst whom I count myself. I have known him well ever since coming to Alberta, and have a great appreciation of the work he did in laying the foundations of the University of Alberta and putting it, and keeping it, on the high level which it has attained.

His early education before coming West fitted him in a high degree for the responsible positions which he later assumed.

He was a man of wide learning and culture and as a teacher, author and administrator his work will be long remembered by those who had the privilege of associating with him.

His passing away breaks one more link in the chain of the educational effort in the West.

My sympathy goes out to his wife and son in their bereavement.

A. E. Ottewell, registrar, University of Alberta: For more than 30 years Dr. Kerr served the university and the province of Alberta. In his special field of modern languages, he possessed a wide and exact knowledge and a human sympathetic understanding of the peoples and cultures concerned, which made him an outstanding and inspiring teacher.

During very difficult times he made a notable contribution as an educational administrator.

By his friends and colleagues he was often spoken of as one whose kindness and courtesy never faltered. He was one to whom the expression, a perfect gentleman, could be applied in the best and fullest sense.

Mr. Justice H. H. Parlee, chairman of the board of governors of the University and Dr. Robert Newton, president, were out of the city, and were not available for comment.

WANT INFORMATION ON REINFORCEMENTS

FEVERSHAM, Ont., Jan. 20.—Garfield Case, Progressive Conservative candidate in the Grey North by-election, said last night the people of Canada want to know what is being done to reinforce Canadian troops overseas.

"This is no time to be trifling with the Canadian electorate, and particularly the people of Grey North", said Mr. Case in a speech here and at Maxwell, Ont. "Our people will want to know and demand the factual record of performance. I again ask what is being done about reinforcements".

CEASE CENSORSHIP

"The political use of security censorship must cease. No intelligent democracy can function or discharge the responsibility of citizenship in such circumstances."

"The enemy is already aware of the failure of our government to provide reinforcements, and indeed by wireless has taunted our front line troops with the fact."

Mr. Case said a prominent Liberal told him yesterday there were reports circulating to the effect that Defence Minister McNaughton, government candidate in the Feb. 5 by-election, was to drop from the race. He did not name the Liberal.

"This would leave Godfrey (Air Vice-Marshal A. E. Godfrey, CCF candidate), the government's second nominee in the field," said Mr. Case. "I regard Godfrey as a government nominee put into the field to split the opposition vote."

The latest PROGRESS REPORT on the RAM RIVER NO. 3 WELL shows the depth to be 5,270 ft. From 5,245 ft. to 5,270 ft. core carried showing of oil. The last few feet showed porosity with the core being saturated.

The Company's Geologist reports the present showings to be very important and most encouraging. The main oil body is expected to be encountered within the next seventy-five feet or so. Good drilling speed is being maintained.

In comparing the recovered core from the No. 3 well with the core of the No. 2 discovery well, it is interesting to note that all important markers have been encountered. It will be remembered that the No. 2 discovery well encountered a high grade crude oil, and we quote report by Mr. M. Van Winkle, of the University of Michigan as follows:

(Excerpts from report by Mr. M. Van Winkle of the University of Michigan.)
Specific gravity 41.5 A.P.I.

The sulphur content of the oil is relatively low—0.136%. The crude oil approximates in characteristics a mid-continent crude oil of comparable A.P.I. gravity. However, it differs from the midcontinent in that the gasoline content is higher than that for the average mid-continent crude and the lubricating oil content is somewhat less. The sulphur content is lower than that of the average mid-continent sample.

Farmers Plan To Seek Bloc In Parliament

ture should before the next Dominion election arrange to submit to all candidates for election in all constituencies predominantly rural, a pledge to support in parliament all measures tending to increase the share for agriculture in the national income to the same proportion as the farm population bears to the national population, and to co-operate with other members of parliament who have given similar pledges regardless of party affiliation, and that the Alberta Federation of Agriculture present the case to the Canadian Federation of Agriculture to have this done."

The original farm bloc resolution was introduced by Coronation locals of the UFA. It would have asked the agriculture federation to proceed to organize in the House of Commons a farm bloc similar to that in effect in the United States. This action would have been taken before the next election.

George N. Johnson, Consort, supporting this motion, said he did not believe there had been a time since Confederation when blocs were not active in the House of Commons. He said the American farm bloc was a powerful political influence, the U.S. government recently having accepted the principle of parity prices as applied to agriculture.

STATISTICS QUOTED

Quoting statistics issued by the government, Mr. Johnson said that in the 16 years before the war, one-third of the Canadian population received only 11.8 per cent of the Canadian income. "You can't have a balanced economy in Canada when one-third of the population receives such a small percentage of the national income," he declared.

"If prices fall after the war 'til these pre-war conditions exist, it will be impossible to employ our servicemen and war workers," the convention was told.

"Now is the time for farmers through a national organization to retain present prices. It will be easier to retain them than regain them," Mr. Johnson continued. "Farmers should leave no stone unturned to see their rate of income is not lowered." The speaker suggested the farm bloc would be one means by which this could be accomplished.

MAY BE WELCOMED

Mr. Johnson expressed the opinion that the administration at Ottawa might welcome formation of a farm bloc, as it would tend to counter-balance other pressure groups in the country, "some of whom have declared total war against the rest of Canada."

Mr. MacLachlan, introducing his substitute resolution, stated every other industry in Canada had its system of lobbying in the House of Commons. Labor had a "big stick." "The farmers have a unique system," he said. "They divide and fight one another."

"The time is long past when this thing should have been done," a delegate said. "The problem is one of such magnitude that pledging the old line party candidates will get us nowhere. The things they will get you will get you nowhere."

"We can get temporary satisfaction, but not permanent satisfaction. Under the present economic system of the nation, you wouldn't get very far."

The convention was told members of parliament are there to represent the interests that put them there. Parity prices may be attained, but they would not solve the country's unemployment problem.

WANT DIRECT ACTION

"If we are going to solve this problem, let us get down to something more basic than asking politicians for favors," a delegate said. "Let us find out what is the cause of unemployment."

It was pointed out that the political set-up in Canada is totally different from the U.S. system. "We won't get far by asking a Liberal, CCF or Progressive Conservative party member to support action not acceptable to his party's caucus."

One delegate suggested the whole plan was out of order, as Canadian law made it illegal for any candidate to sign a pledge concerning his post-election intentions. Another contradicted this statement, saying there was no law against a candidate signing a paper setting forth his political convictions.

J. A. Cameron, Youngstown, a UFA director, said the whole matter of price is about the most important to come before the convention. "The resolution would bring farm people across Canada together for one thing," he continued. "The method would be a mighty forceful way of getting what we want."

P. S. Beatt declared the UFA has given consistent leadership for years along economic lines. "We in labor are fed up with politics," he said. "What we want is action. He urged unanimous support for the resolution. "Don't pussyfoot in this matter. You have got something very vital."

DELEGATE DISAGREES

Mr. Johnson, speaking on the substitute motion, said he could not agree that nothing could be done under the present organization.

"The beauty of this set-up is that the farmers can support any ideology he wants, and yet when the election is over, the winning candidate has promised to support the wishes of the agriculture federation," he stated.

The motion was carried with few dissenting votes.

been imposed here it was rumored.

These men are personnel who were trained in Western Canada training centres and were being transferred to military centres in Eastern Canada.

Many have been in the army for as long as three years.

It was reported in Calgary that about 400 home defence from Alberta failed to report to their district depot after the holiday leave periods.

DRIFTING BACK

The Calgary report further stated that men have been drifting back in small groups but it is estimated that 100 are still at large.

No estimate concerning the number supposed to report at the Prince of Wales Armory could be obtained from military officials here.

Military police were not making any blanket drive to round up absentees in Alberta, the Calgary report stated.

A Calgary source is quoted as saying:

"They are still drifting in at the rate of about four or five every day".

It was also unofficially stated that nearly 100 per cent of the home defence troops on holiday leave failed to report at the expiration of their leave.

It was said that many of the men strongly resented the fact that they were asked to rport on Christmas Eve or New Year's Day, and had just decided to spend a "few extra days" with their families.

At the same time it was stated that many had a strong "disinclination" to go overseas and were hopeful that by the time they returned to quarters their units would have left Canada.

Sask. Government Likely to Reject Seed Grain Offer

REGINA, Jan. 20.—(CP)—The provincial cabinet yesterday sent federal Minister Ilsley the latest in a long series of letters dealing with responsibilities for the $16,469,852 seed grain advances debt, and Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines said its contents would not be made public until after the federal minister had received it.

It was understood, however, that the provincial CCF ministers indicated they would not accept suggestions set forth by Mr. Ilsley for settlement of the debt. The sum was paid the banks by the Dominion government on Dec. 11 when the province, which also had guaranteed the advances to farmers in 1938, said it could not pay.

Vernon Pearson Again to Head Hospital Board

Vernon Pearson was re-elected to head the board of directors of the Royal Alexandra hospital when members met Friday evening for the first time this year. Alfred Farmilo was re-elected vice-chairman and T. P. Roberts was re-appointed secretary-treasurer.

Ald. H. D. Ainlay took his place on the board for the first time Friday.

Financial statement for 1944 showed that the hospital was operated at a deficit of $108,650. Total costs for the year were $687,936 which was $56,000 more than in 1943. The over-all cost per patient day was $4.04, an increase of 18 cents over the previous year.

CASH POSITION

The cash position of the hospital is revealed to be much better than in the previous year with an overall cash surplus of $20,000. This is largely due to the collection of outstanding accounts. As a result the whole of the city grant of $75,000 was placed with the Sinking Fund Board to the credit of the hospital for replacements and building. Total credit in the fund amounts to about $190,000.

The special committee on the projected five-year extension program reported that the city finance committee had agreed to the initial steps of the program, including the building of a new power plant of greater capacity than the present one, and the extension of the front entrance of the hospital building. The city commissioners agreed to recommend to city council that immediate steps be taken, and if possible, to get the work started this summer. The matter will come before council Monday evening.

City commissioners further agreed to endorse the contemplated hospital annex for the accommodation of chronic disabilities of aged patients who are at present occupying beds in the hospital. Members of the board stressed that the space is needed urgently and that the matter should be pressed.

During 1944 there was a record number of 1,706 births in the hospital, 897 male and 827 female, it was reported by Dr. A. F. Anderson, superintendent. The secretary-treasurer's report revealed that since the provincial Maternity Hospitalization Act went into force last April, the provincial department of public health has paid the hospital about $45,000 for maternity accounts.

The number of patients admitted to hospital during 1944 totalled 11,918 and total deaths amounted to 345. More than 7,000 operations were performed and 82,351 pathological examinations given, an increase of 8,000 over the previous year.

In her annual report on the school of nursing Miss M. S. Fraser, superintendent of nurses, reported that 47 graduate nurses from the Royal Alexandra hospital are on active military service.

A report on the work of the Women's Auxiliary was received and members of the board expressed their appreciation of the work done by the organization.

The following members of the board were appointed to committees, property committee, S. Parsons, Mrs. C. McManus, Dr. P. Sprague, S. A. Dickson, Fraser Duncan, H. D. Ainlay, Guy Patterson, KC; executive and finance committee, Dr. W. A. Atkinson, Miss L. McMillan, George Campbell, A. Farmilo, V. A. Porter, F. Mitchell and John Dower.

Causes of Subway Disaster Are Listed

LONDON, Jan. 20.—(Reuters)—A London magistrate reporting yesterday on the Bethnal Green subway shelter disaster which caused th death of 173 east Londoners March 3, 1943, listed as contributing causes the lack of self-control of hundreds of people trying to get in the single entrance, dim stairway lighting, lack of centre handrails on the stairs and absence of a crush barrier. The report of Magistrate Laurence Dunne denied that a panic was "induced by Fascists or criminal persons" or that there was a "Jewish panic."

Here is the scene in the Macdonald hotel as 36th annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta began a four-day session. Hon. D. Bruce MacMillan, minister of agriculture, is welcoming delegates on behalf of the government. Seated, to the right of Mr. MacMillan, are: His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, who formally opened the convention; Robert Gardiner, UFA president; Mayor John W. Fry; Mrs. Winifred Ross, Millet, president United Farm Women of Alberta, who submitted a report on her organization, and Keith Rosenberger, Balzac, president Junior Branch United Farmers of Alberta, who spoke on work of his group.

Regulations forbid individuals sending newspapers overseas. The Edmonton Bulletin prints the news of the week in letter form. Clip it out and send it to your loved ones and friends.

Dear

This has been a week of unusual activity, both on the battle and home fronts. The powerful and successful Russian offensive in the East has commanded our attention and admiration, while the retreat of the German forces and the regaining by the Allies, of the initiative in the West have been a source of gratification and pride. To think that within a month after the Germans commenced their great counter-offensive, they were back on about the same line from which they jumped off, is a matter on which the Allies may take considerable pride.

Here at home we have had an unusually active week with meetings, conventions, bonspiels, concerts and other activities.

The weather, which had continued mild into the middle of the week, changed in the latter half, with more snow and sub-zero temperature. However, taken as a whole the winter has not been severe, and as it is proceeding toward a climax, the outlook is not unfavorable.

Here are some highlights of happenings here in which you may be interested:

January 15

Three new members of the Alberta judiciary were sworn in by His Honor Chief Justice Horace Harvey, in a colorful ceremony at the court house, which was attended by a large audience, representative of many walks of life. Mr. Justice H. H. Parlee was sworn in as a member of the trial division of the Alberta supreme court and His Honor Judge J. Boyd McBride and His Honor H. B. Fraser were sworn in as members of the District Court of Northern Alberta.

Three hundred and eleven autoists received traffic tags during December, according to Chief Constable Reginald Jennings. In the same period 64 bicyclists were given tickets, and 21 jaywalkers assessed 50 cents each. During the same period 56 accidents were investigated, with 10 persons being injured and with a grand total of 573 calls for the police.

In operations centering largely on this city in the last three years, Western Air Lines has transported 16,006,556 pounds of cargo between the United States, Alaska and the Aleutians, according to L. A. Nichols, district traffic manager. Terming the accomplishment one of the most spectacular war jobs turned in during the present struggle, he said that his company's planes had flown 13,855,249,805 cargo pound miles since the Japanese sneak attack at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

That equipment now being sold by the War Assets Disposal Board in large quantity lots, should be made available to individual returned war veterans to assist in their re-establishment, was the view expressed by several members attending the monthly meeting of the South Side branch of the Canadian Legion.

Holding the Regina Commandos on even terms in the opening period, Edmonton Canadians sank four goals without a reply in the second, and outscored the visitors 2-1 in the final period to win 8-3 in a hard-fought game at the Arena, before 4,200 enthusiastic fans.

January 16

Canadian farmers, as primary producers, have reached the point where they should reject creation of tariff barriers which have the effect of restricting the Canadian market to import levels, Robert Gardiner, president of the United Farmers of Alberta declared at the opening session of the 36th annual convention of the organization at the Macdonald hotel. About 350 delegates are in attendance.

Alberta municipalities have been notified that if they intend to participate in the provincial housing program they must let the government know not later than Jan. 31, according to Hon. Lucien Maynard, KC, attorney-general. Numerous municipalities, including Edmonton and Calgary, already have declared their intention of taking part in the program and Mr. Maynard said complete figures on those taking part would be available after Jan. 31.

Alberta coal production in 1944 reached a peak value of $27,033,121 on total production of 7,437,781 tons. Although tonnage was less than in either 1942 or 1943, the value was considerably higher. In 1943 there were 7,676,726 tons mined with a value of $24,030,686.

C. L. Olsen was installed as exalted ruler of the Edmonton Elks' Lodge at a special ceremony conducted by C. K. French of Leduc, district deputy grand ruler and president of the Alberta Elks' Association.

A total of $263,345.49 was paid into the city assessor's office on Monday under the tax prepayment plan to bring the amount paid to $1,271,155.95 compared with $1,251,198.62 for the same period of last year, according to Thomas Walker, city assessor. This is an increase of $19,171.33 over the same period of last year and only $129,611.08 short of the record of $1,400,767.03 for the entire period of prepayment in 1944.

Dr. Grattan Roberts who is terminating his dental practice here after 35 years, was honored with a life membership in the Edmonton Dental Society prior to his departure for the Pacific coast, where he will live.

Bravery of Canadian troops was lauded by Brig. R. A. Wyman, CB, DSO, ED, in an address to the Edmonton Men Teachers' Club at a dinner meeting at the Corona hotel. He stated that the "guts and valor" of the battle-tried Canadian fighting men who cracked Hitler's European fortress on the beaches of France, Sicily and Italy set a record "unbeatable in history," and should arouse in all Canadians a spirit of nationalism. He mentioned in particular the men of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, and the 1st Canadian Armored Corps.

Mrs. W. G. Paterson was re-elected president of the Edmonton Branch No. 24 Canadian Legion, BE SL, WA, at its first annual meeting held at the Canadian Legion Memorial hall. Mrs. W. G. Thomas was elected first vice-president, succeeding Mrs. A. L. McKay, while Mrs. C. C. Bowen succeeded Mrs. Thomas as second vice-president. Mrs. W. T. Rice continues as secretary.

J. R. Drysdale, Edmonton barrister, and Clyde Gillies, Clover Bar district farmer and a past-president of the Canadian Corps Association, have been appointed additional members of the Mobilization Board, National Selective Service. Chief Justice Horace Harvey is chairman of the Board.

Encountering little opposition, Edmonton RCAF swamped Wetaskiwin Army 14-0 in Tuesday night's Inter-Service Hockey League game at the Arena. In first place, the airmen have a record of two wins in three starts. A goal on a breakaway in the last period by Harvie Silzer ended a 2-2 tie and gave South Side a 3-2 win over Canadians (1) in a City Juvenile Hockey League game at the 119 street rink. In the second contest of the evening The Loyal Edmonton Regiment team defeated St. Albert Flyers 5-2.

Most of the Provincial government departments have completed detailed estimates for the fiscal year commencing April 1, 1945. The estimates later will be reviewed by the provincial auditor, C. K. Huckvale, and the cabinet, prior to being brought before the legislature at the session opening Feb. 22.

A record number of ditty bags was shipped in 1944 by the Northern Alberta division of the Navy League of Canada. There were 3,057 bags sent for distribution to the Merchant Marine, an increase of 390 over 1943. Value of the bags was about $16,000. Volunteer workers packed 1,550 bags in league work-rooms, and 691 were packed in the names of individuals who provided the money for them.

George E. Church is the new president of the United Farmers of Alberta, succeeding Robert Gardiner, who declined to stand for re-election after many years as head of the organization. Mr. Church, who lives at Balzac, on the Edmonton-Calgary railway, won a three-cornered fight for the post over E. L. O'Neil, Claresholm, and A. B. Wood, of Riverton.

Said to have stepped into the path of an approaching auto when the vehicle was within 10 or 12 feet of him, Frank Warner, 60-year-old farmer, temporarily resident at Hope Mission, 101 street, was rushed to the Royal Alexandra hospital suffering broken limbs and loss of blood. According to city police the accident took place at 101 street and 106 avenue, as an auto, said by police to be driven by Cline B. Webb, 9813 105 street, reached the insection and struck Warner.

Three major construction projects costing approximately $270,000 will be undertaken at the Royal Alexandra hospital if manpower and materials are available, according to Mayor John W. Fry. The projects are a new power plant capable of efficient servicing of the contemplated enlarged plant, to cost $200,000; a new rotunda of the main entrance to the hospital, to cost $50,000, and a 50-bed chronic treatment hospital for aged and crippled patients, to cost $100,000.

Travelling along unbeaten in the Junior Hockey League, Canadians lengthened their string to six straight when they knocked over the second place Edmonton Athletic Club sextet 9-4 at the Arena. The winners had defeated the Clubmen 5-1 when they met in the season's opener on Dec. 9.

H. C. L. Christman was elected president of the Alberta Veterans' Curling Association at a meeting at the Granite Curling Club, succeeding William Carter. Morley Seller was returned as secretary.

Notwithstanding advances made by science in recent years, man will continue to depend for a long time to come on the agricultural industry, Dr. R. D. Sinclair, dean of the faculty of agriculture, stated in an address here. Despite efforts of science to supplement agriculture by synthesis, he expected agriculture to maintain its present place for at least another generation.

January 19

The tourist industry offers Alberta wide opportunities for suitable employment of veterans without creating further competition of labor and farmers, and as well, can bring Alberta's whole economy into a much higher state of balance, D. E. C. Campbell, provincial director of publicity declared in an address to the United Farmers of Alberta convention.

Provincial assistance in financing cost of education and the summer holiday period in Alberta was advocated in a resolution adopted by the convention. The government is being asked to carry 50 per cent of the cost instead of 14.5 as at present. The convention also re-affirmed its approval of amalgamation with the Alberta Farmers Union. The convention agreed on the necessity of developing greater fundamental unity between the two organizations.

January 20

Thirty-two years of police work in the province have ended for Sgt.-Maj. Harold E. Wilson, RCMP, who has retired on pension. A former member of the Alberta Provincial Police and one of the Mounties who went overseas in 1918, he comes from a family of police officers with an aggregate of 125 years service.

H. Milton Martin has been re-elected chairman of the Edmonton Town Planning Commission to serve his 15th term as chairman. He is an original member of the organization, having been appointed when the commission was formed in 1929. R. V. Bellamy is vice-chairman and honorary secretary-town planner is C. S. Burgess.

A Tragic Situation

If the reports from Quebec City of the mutiny of conscripts in Valcartier Camp and failure of drafted troops to return to other military centres in Canada are true, Canada's system of recruiting men to fight this war has fallen into a tragic condition.

The news about conscript behavior for the past several days has been sombre. Censorship has fallen heavily upon the situation and even reports of what has happened to conscripts recently in the Edmonton district have been suppressed.

Nevertheless it is clear that the absurd order issued by the defence department drawing all these draftees back into their home constituencies and then turning them loose on leave has resulted in a virtual melting away of almost entire units. The men have simply disappeared.

And now comes this expose from Quebec which reveals the alleged fact that mutinous draftees have virtually taken over an important military camp and are in open revolt.

There is, of course, only one answer to this disgraceful story of desertion and mutiny and it is an answer that the majority of Canadians will demand that the Government immediately make.

That answer is to employ, at long last, the full machinery for imposing equal and impartial conscription for overseas service on every Canadian of military age without fear or favor.

In other words, Canadians demand that Ottawa cause the machinery of democracy to operate in the democratic way of equal responsibility, equal obligation and equal privilege.

There can be no further trifling, no further political jugglery with this grave situation.

Doubtless courts martial will follow this disgraceful series of events.

More and More Prepay

As expected, more money poured into the city coffers this year than last year, in prepayment of taxes. Receipts ran to more than $110,000 over the 1944 figures, to set up a new all-time record of $1,511,631.

Even more important than this increase in the amount paid, there was also a large increase in the number of pre-payers. This gain too is in line with the long-term trend. Almost every year there are more payers, as well as more paid.

When the prepayment system was first adopted some criticism was heard along the line that while the large taxpayer would benefit considerably the small payer would not save enough money to bother about.

This rather far-fetched objection has lost force. The large payer receives no higher rate of interest on his money than his neighbor whose taxes are less. And it often happens that saving a few dollars is more important to the latter than saving many more dollars is to the large property-owner.

That is why there is a steady increase in the number who prepay. The large taxpayer saw the advantage of the scheme from the start. Those who have less to pay are realizing the advantage in greater numbers as the years pass.

"The Fate and Future"

Moscow seems to be content to go on hustling the Nazi forces back in to the Reich, leaving it to Berlin to tell how fast they are being hustled and how its troubles are piling up in consequence. Goebbels' man said the Red army was over the border of Silesia when Moscow only said its guns had got near enough to drop shells beyond the line.

On Sunday, June 22nd, 1941, Herr Hitler issued a proclamation in which he said "I decided today to lay the fate and future of the German Reich and our people in the hands of our soldiers."

That was his explanation for having that morning hurled his blitzkrieg divisions across the border of Russia, until that moment his economic ally. By this bit of rhetoric he avoided having to say that he had made unannounced war upon that neighbor state in order to wrest from it the wheat lands and minerals of the Ukraine, the oil resources of the Caucasus, and such other territory as had excited or might excite his cupidity.

This is the background against which the present events in that theatre must be viewed. The Fuehrer not only admitted, but proclaimed, that he was the aggressor.

Germans, as they recall these words, will find an ominous meaning in them which neither they nor Hitler thought the words would ever convey. The rhetorical phrase "fate and future" has now a sinister realism. For their radio is telling them there is no possibility of building up "frontal resistance" strong enough to stop the Russian advance.

New Zealand Wants Wheat

The chairman of the wheat board says New Zealand is negotiating for "several million bushels" of Canadian wheat, while there is a prospect that Australia will buy oats and barley from the Dominion—if the barley can be spared.

This of course is a result of the drought in Australia. That country ordinarily supplies New Zealand with wheat and grows all the grain of other kinds that it needs. The severity of the drought is indicated by the prospect that orders may be placed, by both countries, in Canada.

The crop failure in Australia coincides with an unusual demand for food supplies in the part of the world which the "down under" dominions are best located to provide—if they had the supplies. Assuming that the United States is directly taking care of the needs of its forces in the southwest Pacific, the British sea and land forces there and in Burma are nearer to Australia and New Zealand than to any other area where western foods are ordinarily produced in quantity.

The world situation being what it is, the failure of the Australian crop is a serious matter for the Allied countries. Whether or not Canada exports directly to the two sister-dominions, the demand for Canadian grains must of necessity grow stronger in consequence.

Mr. McIvor said some time ago that Canada is not likely to have a carryover of more than 200 million bushels of wheat at the end of this marketing year. The situation in the Pacific seems to confirm that prediction.

—V—

The air service between Canada and Australia has been broadened, and civilians in either country may now send letters by air to people in the other. This will help bring home to people in Canada the remarkable fact that planes are now flying on regular schedule over the long route which not many years ago Capt. Kingsford-Smith pioneered—to the wonder of the world.

—V—

Mr. Anthony Eden says the Allied Governments will consider and decide what punishment is to be imposed upon Hitler and Mussolini—if these twin-authors of the world tragedy do not obligingly remove themselves from human jurisdiction. That is to say, the arch-criminals will go on trial before the highest court of world opinion, the accredited authorities of thirty-six nations.

St. Petersburg.—The Czar today narrowly escaped death by a shot from his own artillery. During the ceremony of blessing the waters of the Neva, as the usual salute was being fired an accident occurred. A charge of grape shot from one of the guns struck the Winter Palace, breaking windows. An investigation is being made.

Fort Saskatchewan may send a delegation to Ottawa to urge the claims of that town for a highway and railway bridge.

Ottawa.—Northwest members and senators met Messrs. Haultain and Bulyea in conference, when it was practically agreed to divide the Territories into two provinces.

Paris.—The Russian defence offered for the Dogger Bank episode is that two torpedo boats were sighted, and in firing at them the Russian gunners sank the trawlers. Britain denies the presence of any Japanese boats in the North Sea.

1915: 30 Years Ago

The UFA convention confirmed the stand of that party in favor of provincial prohibition.

James Speakman of Red Deer was elected president of the UFA.

Amsterdam.—Reports are current here that the German airships which bombed English towns passed over Holland in their flight, thus violating the rules of neutrality.

At a business session of the visiting women in town in connection with the UFA convention it was decided that local unions be formed throughout the province as auxiliaries to the UFA locals.

The High Prairie district produced 80,000 bushels of wheat last season.

1925: 20 Years Ago

The subway strike has been settled and the men are returning to work today.

Winnipeg.—Premier Bracken rejected the suggestion that the three prairie provinces should build the Hudson Bay Railway. That would be in order, he said, when other provinces dredged their own harbors and dug the canals which run through their territory.

The Edmonton Board of Trade passed a resolution declaring the Canadian income tax should not be higher than that of the United States.

1935: 10 Years Ago

Biting cold that has gripped the city for 29 days straight tightened this morning when the mercury went down to 43 below zero. At nearly all northern points still lower readings were reported.

Berlin.—Lithuanian troops are reported massing on the German border.

London.—Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express demands the withdrawal of British troops from the Saar, for fear that a perilous situation might result as the region is being restored to Germany.

Twenty western cities will send delegates to a conference at Calgary on Jan. 28th, to discuss reduced rates of interest and a readjustment of taxing powers.

No Friendlier Act Than Giving Away Your Shirt

Edmonton People Asked to Give Used Clothing for Russians

By HAROLD L. WEIR

For two years, no civilian clothing has been manufactured in Russia. There are no new suits, overcoats, dresses, shirts, underwear, neckties, stockings, shoes or anything else.

The civilian population of Russia has had to make the old garments do. And nothing very much lasts for two years.

Harold L. Weir

Because of all this, a national drive has been authorized in Canada to collect used clothing for the Russians. Edmonton's drive starts on Jan. 22—next Monday—and continues until the end of February.

It is being sponsored in this community by the Edmonton branch of the National Council for Canadian-Soviet Friendship. Headquarters for the drive are at 9925 Jasper avenue and Edmonton people are asked to deliver all kinds of used clothing, clean and in good repair, at that address.

It will be packed and shipped by the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Red Cross.

Now I think there are two very important facts to be pointed out in connection with this drive.

The first is that Russia's friendship—not so much the friendship of the Russian government as of the Russian people—is tremendously important to Canada.

The second fact is that this generous gift of clothing is about the best possible way of securing that friendship.

So, taking first things first, suppose we look for a moment at the relationship and particularly the potential relationship between the people of Canada and the people of Russia.

There is no use shying away from this question on the basis of political indignation. It is utterly absurd to say that Russia has a form of government and follows a form of political philosophy of which we cannot approve and therefore we will have nothing to do with the Russians.

Actually all this is none of our business. Russia's political philosophy is no more the concern of Canadians than Canada's political philosophy is the concern of Russians. If the Russian people could build a wholesome, vigorous nation on the communistic theory and Canada can build a wholesome, vigorous nation on the democratic theory, there is nothing to worry about.

And, as much as many of us may dislike some of the implications of communism as they apply to ourselves, there seems to be no doubt that communism has bred a new Russia. That does not say that communism would work in Canada. It undoubtedly would not. But it has worked in Russia—or, at least, the Russian version of it has worked—and the display of initiative, courage and resource given by Russia in this war is one of the marvels of the 20th century.

But even this, still, is not quite the point. And certainly this essay does not purport to be an apologia for communism or any form of socialistic doctrine.

The real point is this; that the relationship with which we must concern ourselves is not so much the relationship between the Socialist Republics of the Soviet Union and the Canadian Democracy as the relationship between 12,000,000 Canadians and 190,000,000 Russians whom geography plus the new developments in transportation have thrown virtually into one another's laps.

The Russian people and the Canadian people have become next door neighbors and, whether they like it or not, they have got to get along with each other.

And if the Russian people, as individuals, and the Canadian people, as individuals, learn to know and get along with each other, their governments are going to maintain amicable relations whether those governments be democratic, communistic or anything else.

That is the fundamental thought behind all those movements which endeavor to establish Canadian-Soviet friendship. It is certainly the doctrine held by the Edmonton branch of the National Council for Canadian-Soviet Friendship which is sponsoring, in Edmonton, this present drive for used clothing.

Now the second fact I endeavored to point out was, I think, the peculiar efficacy of this drive in establishing such friendship.

Sometimes, to be quite frank, I am doubtful of the value, in terms of international friendship, of the donation of huge sums of relief money, although there is no doubt of its value in humanitarian terms.

These relief funds accomplish a purpose and a valuable purpose. But they do not reach the heart of the people in an intimate and personal way.

A gift of used clothing does. For no Russian, bereft of necessities by the demands of war, can possibly wear any article of apparel that has once graced the back of a Canadian without feeling a certain kinship with that Canadian.

There is much truth in the old belief that there is no warmer act of friendship than giving away your shirt.

Less than a forthnight before his death, the late President Harding, who, I believe, has been judged by this generation as neither a good man nor a capable one, nevertheless said in my hearing what I consider to be a very beautiful thing.

Standing beneath the towering trees in Stanley Park, Vancouver, the doomed president concluded a magnificent address of friendship with these words:

"I like to think of Canada and the United States as two neighbors each of which, at any moment, can run over and borrow a dozen eggs from the other.

"And so, as your neighbor, I stretch out both my arms to you..."

It would be a very happy thing for the world if Canadians and Russians could develop that egg-borrowing spirit.

Dangerous "Isms"

Editor, Bulletin: Nazism, Fascism and Communism are all inimical to the democratic way of life. The two former systems are now on their way out; what about the latter?

No political ideology (not even Nazism) ever had more devoted, fanatical, noisy and unscrupulous adherents than Communism. They believe that every other economic and political system is wrong and should be destroyed by any and every means available.

In Greece and other European countries no regime will be acceptable to them unless it is dominated and controlled by their own partizans and attempts are made by insidious propaganda to cause mistrust in the minds of broadminded leaders who are opposed to all the isms.

Let us be on guard and let not our admiration for the heroic defence by Russians lead us to believe that they "have got something" better than others.

There was nothing really surprising in the fact that 180 million Russians (with a vast hinterland of resources) successfully resisted complete domination by part of the 80 million Germans.

The heroes of Stalingrad have their counterpart in the German heroes of Budapest and in the soldiers of the democracies fighting in widespread fields of combat.

Farm Debts

Editor, Bulletin: I wish to point out that Mr. Gardiner's statement as reported in The Bulletin made to the UFA convention is very misleading when he suggests that debts can only be paid with wealth.

We all know what happened to the farmer who tried to put this theory into practice and actually delivered a truck load of wheat (which is wealth) into a bank. He was arrested.

We must face facts and at present we have a monetary instrument made legal by law and debts must be paid in this way. It is because the actual wealth was not acceptable to our creditors that we farmers found ourselves in such a fix in the depression, lots of wealth but no money. We are now paying our debts; not because we are producing so much more wealth, but because we are getting a better price.

The total value of field crops was given over the radio the other day as 450 million in 1944. In 1932 it was 54 million or ⅛ as much. Mr. Gardiner may have something else in view, he does not say what; but there is no doubt that under our present set-up it takes money to pay debts and a farmer is entirely dependent on the price he gets for his produce to have enough money to pay his debts, irrespective of the amount of wealth he produces.

"Galilean"

Editor, Bulletin: I notice that a statement is being circulated in Canada that Dr. W. R. Inge at one time Dean of St. Paul's, has repudiated the remark of Mr. Norman Jaques, MP, which throws doubt upon the roce of the founder of Christianity. While, of course, the right of Dr. Inge to interpret his own opinion is unquestionable, the following quotation from an "Introduction by Dean W. R. Inge, DD" to "The Parting of the Roads" by "Members of Jesus College, Cambridge. Edited by F. J. Foakes-Jackson, DD, Fellow and Dean of the College. Pub. London, Edward Arnold, 1912" would appear to justify Mr. Jaques.

Introduction p. 4 para 3. "In speaking of the Jewish element in Christianity, it must be remembered that the cradle of our faith was not Judea but Galilee, and that the Galileans had probably hardly a drop of Jewish blood in their veins. They were tolerated by the Jews in consideration of their strict and and almost fanatical orthodoxy, while the heretical Samaritans, who were probably nearer to them in race, were detested; but the Jew never looked upon the Galilean as a member of his own tribe. Judaea itself was perhaps the last place in the world from which the religion of the Graeco-Roman Empire could have sprung."

Jesus is invariably referred to as "Jesus of Nazareth" or "the Galilean". There is not a single recorded reference by Him to "Bethlehem of Judaea" as his birthplace, but there is one negative suggestion at least in the seventh chapter of St. John's Gospel.

Possibly I may be permitted to compliment The Bulletin on the invariably high standard of journalism which it maintains.

Birth Certificates

Editor, Bulletin: It is unfortunate that your correspondent "SOS", saw fit, to air what he considers a grievance before making himself acquainted, with the law of England.

I was born in the County of Kent, England, in 1871 nearly 74 years ago and I have my birth certificate, obtained at the time of registration for a few cents.

My wife, a year or two younger, born in another part of England, also has her birth certificate obtained in a similar manner for a similar fee, so that when "SOS" states that "things were different in England 50 years ago" his knowledge of these matters is very vague.

For the benefit of SOS and others who may find themselves in the same predicament, I quote an extract from the law governing the registration of births in England:

"When a birth takes place, personal information of it must be given to the registrar, and the register signed in his presence, by one of the following persons: (1) The father or mother of the child, or if they fail; (2) the occupier of the house in which the birth happened, or (3) a person present at the birth, or (4) the person having charge of the child.

"The duty of attending to the registration therefore rests firstly on the parents and one of them must within 42 days of the birth, give to the Registrar by word of mouth the information needed to enable him to register and must sign the register in his presence and if they fail to do this, or those otherwise mentioned above, they become liable to a penalty of forty shillings."

It will therefore be seen that if SOS was unable to obtain a copy of his birth certificate, it was because his parents or other responsible person at the time of his birth violated the law by failing to register the fact and no one else can be blamed.

I well remember when I first commenced work in 1885 nearly 60 years ago with a large organization, that I had to produce my birth certificate before I could be hired, and most other firms insisted on this at that time.

I trust these few facts may help those who may be in doubt.

H. W. STILES.

Egg Marketing

Editor Bulletin: There is a condition existing today re the marketing of fresh eggs that should be remedied. The farmers are receiving as low as twenty cents per dozen for eggs that cost much more to produce. It is the opinion of many I have talked to, that our price board should at least place a price on eggs that would give to the producer a fair profit. At this time the farmer or producer should receive an average of at least thirty cents per dozen in order to break even, as feed, if not produced, cost—even obtained from feed houses—more than can be obtained from the sale of eggs at less than thirty cents.

It would appear that in order to draw trade, many merchants advertise the sale of fresh eggs at prices which have an ill effect on small town merchants who try to give the farmers a just price for their produce. Only a few days ago we paid forty cents per dozen to the farmers for fresh eggs and had to take a loss of ten cents per dozen because merchants in the cities were advertising fresh eggs away below that price.

As many have to depend on the sale of eggs for a living, should it not be the duty of the war time price board to place a just price on eggs in order that those who must depend on their sale, obtain remuneration sufficient to obtain a suitable living. Eggs, if I am informed right, cannot be produced at this time for less than thirty cents per dozen. If the farmer who produces grain must and does receive assistance, it is only just that the producer of eggs receive like treatment. Thirty cents per dozen for ungraded eggs to the farmer or producer would help a lot and I don't think the consumers would object to paying thirty-five or forty cents for graded eggs.

Favor Big Shots?

Editor, Bulletin: I do not know if constant alertness in defence of the "Buck Private" is considered by aggressive authority as "home front duty," but I do feel called upon to present a more equitable plan in regard to returning service men buying city lots than is being presented by the chairman of the finance committee of the city council.

He presents, in glowing terms, the gift of "20 per cent reduction on all city lots," ranging in price from $50.00 to $2,400.00 sold to any one who has worn a uniform whether an officer or private. Knowing the glaring difference in an officer's pay, and that of a private, I ask every intelligent person reading these lines if it would not be a much saner way if the city finance committee would offer an "average" gift to all returned persons, say— free taxes to the extent of $100.00 to $150.00.

If this proposed 20 per cent reduction is made law, it will mean that the officer (able to buy a $1400.00 lot) will get an "out and out gift" of $280.00, while the private who can afford only a $50.00 lot will be getting $10.00. By the time the excitement of being "home again" is worn off, the officer can smile at the fact that his lot is still a $1,400.00 lot in a choice part of the city even though he only paid $1,120.00 for it, while the private finds himself stuck with his $40 lot without sewer, water or light.

No, Mr. Chairman, even the established home owners object to your plan. You favor the "big shots" and disregard the fact that a number of persons in the armed services have been property owners for a number of years. The mass of returning service men and women will not need a vacant lot immediately upon their return, so much as they will need free taxes for a time in his or her struggle for re-establishment.

Is the City of Edmonton really interested in helping to re-establish human beings who have seen war service, or are they just anxious to unload their vacant lots?

MRS. LILLIAN CARMICHAEL.

Teamwork

Editor, Bulletin: I have been reading your paper for over a month now and gradually find myself becoming interested in many of your writers, editorials and letters from readers.

Harold Weir's article in Saturday night's was so interesting that I read it through several times. He sounds a note of confidence in the leaders of the United Nations, big men, at the biggest and toughest job in the history of the world, who know that the winning of the war depends on the co-operation of leaders and nations.

It is said that "General Montgomery had the boundless confidence of his men. They knew that he knew what he was about. They may fear him, but they love him too." I am certain that this confidence was essential for the many victories of the 8th Army and also his promotion to the highest rank in the British army. We must learn to pull together—friction between men slows up work, more than friction in machines.

I enjoy Mr. Weir's thinking of all the sound people in the countries of the United Nations, sound at heart, even if they do blow off steam sometimes. It's a very human failing that most of us indulge in. It relieves the pressure in the boiler, even if it doesn't turn the wheels.

This Canada of ours needs transcontinental thinking and planning. We can't all be engineers or conductors. A bomber crew isn't all made up of pilots. Every man has his part. Each depends on all the others. So with the nation; unless we have national team work, we are likely to have a crack-up.

DON MUIR.

Mrs. Noggins Fixes the Blame

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

"I see," said my neighbor, Mrs. Noggins, as she heaved herself upon the bus, along with a basket of eggs and three dressed ducks, which she parked on my feet, "I see as how everybody is busy figgerin' out who is to blame for the Germans breakin' through our lines. We may not be good at fixin' anything else, but we're awfully good at fixin' the blame.

"Mrs. Boggs says our intelligence fell down. She ort to know all about intelligence fallin' down on account of 'er own always does. Mrs. Boggs is very annoyed at the army because its intelligence fell down, and she goes around the neighborood makin' speeches about it! Yes, Mrs. Boggs 'as fixed the blame, and she 'oarding tea and canned goods and buyin' gas on the black market for years. And Mr. Beak says the Germans broke through on account of we didn't make proper preparations Beak, mindju, who never made a preparation in 'is life, except for brewin' beer in the basement where it explodes reg'lar. And Pudbury says the trouble at the front was we didn't 'ave enough reserves, and the only reserves Pudbury ever 'ad, when 'is milk runs short for 'is customers, was in the water pump. And Colonel Blossom says the trouble was our army didn't engage in deceptive movements which, so far as the Colonel is concerned, means comin' 'ome from the club with a snootful and gettin' in the door without 'is wife catchin' 'im.

"Yes, these is the people who is fixin' the blame. Everybody in North America is fixin' the blame on the soljers and the only difference is the soljers is dyin' and North America is 'avin' the time of its life, earnin' more money than ever, spendin' more and livin' like a carnival. The people who are fixin' the blame are the same people who are complainin' about the rations, and supportin' the biggest black market in 'istory, and demandin' more wages, and kickin' about the cost of livin' and bravely sufferin' all the 'ardships of a first-class boom.

"Very good they are, sir, in fixin' the blame. Queer thing is the soljers don't fix no blame on the public at 'ome. I suppose the soljers is too busy fightin' for the folks who is fixin' the blame on them. It must be very encouraging to a soljer when 'e's up against the German guns to 'ave somebody 5,000 miles be'ind the lines tellin' 'im exactly wot is wrong with 'im and why 'e's to blame. It must make 'im fight better for the loved ones at 'ome. It must cheer 'im up no end and build up 'is morale to 'now the folks at 'ome is lookin' after 'is interests by fixin' the blame on anybody but themselves.

"It must do 'im a world of good to know that the patriotic blame fixers are busy scroungin' liquor permits from their sisters, aunts and stenographers, and wheelin' their old mothers to the liquor stores in wheel chairs to get them an extra bottle, but still makin' time, some'ow, to fix the blame

"Ah, yes, these is the same people who are askin' for a brave new world after the war, where everybody will share and share alike, and there'll be no class war and that kind of thing but justice and plenty for all—the same fellas as would murder their grandmother for an extra twenty-six ounces of rye, only they got to keep 'er alive to use 'er permit.

"And look at poor Coldwell and the CCF, expecting to get into the gover'mint and 'ave the public all be'ind 'em in makin' the more abundant life for all. Brave fellas! Why, when I see 'ow the public fixes the blame in wartime, five thousand miles away when they got no idea what it's all about, I'd ate to be the gover'mint in peacetime, especially when I'd promised like the CCF 'as, to give the public real prosperity after the ghastly depression of the war.

"Well, I tell you, sir," said Mrs. Noggins, shifting her egg basket more onto my lap, "the reason folks fixes the blame for everything now-a-days is because they've got to 'ave an answer to everythink. That's why they have these quiz programmes on the radio, you know, so there can be an answer to everythink. When I was a gel, we 'ad to tell the Sunday school teacher 'ow God made the world in seven days and all like that. Now, with all these quiz programmes, an ejucated man is expected to know 'ow many race 'orses Bing Crosby 'as and wot size girdles Greer Garson wears. That's the progress of ejucation in fifty years. "And why is it people insist on definite answers to everythink? I'll tell you why, sir. It's because there's no answer to anythink, if it's important. We're surrounded by questions which nobody can answer, the only questions that matter, so we answer a lot of questions that don't matter at all and try to forget the real ones. That's why we are all drugged with information now-a-days without knowin' anythink. And that's why we must fix the blame. Like in a quiz programme, we just got to feel we know the answer. Well, this is where I get off. I'm taking the eggs to Mrs. Snape. She'll give me a cup of tea she 'oarded durin' the rations and tell me where Eisenhower made 'is mistake."

RETURNS. Pte. Peter Paulencu, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Paulencu, of the Willingdon district, who returned from overseas on Dec. 27. He was a member of the 1st Canadian Scottish Regiment and was wounded in France on D-Day.

Wounded Veteran Returns to Home

WILLINGDON: Pte. Peter Paulencu, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Paulencu, of the Willingdon district, arrived here recently. He is a returned war veteran.

Pte. Paulencu attended school at Zhoda, enlisted in the army in November, 1942, and arrived overseas in May, 1943. He was a member of the 1st Canadian Scottish Regiment when the group landed in France on D-Dey. He was wounded in the arm in France on Aug. 15, 1944, arrived in England two days later and remained in hospital there until Dec. 7, when he embarked for Canada.

Pte. Paulencu says the Red Cross was a great aid at every stop the men made, giving them cigarettes and so on.

He says the hospital care was of the best—everything was given the wounded that they needed, including fresh fruits.

Pte. Paulencu says England is beautiful even in wartime and London is not damaged as much as he expected. He helped the English farmers harvest their crops in the fall of 1943.

He is going back to Calgary on Jan. 23 for further medical attention and may be discharged. If he does he wants to take a course in scientific agriculture.

Fire Destroys Stettler Farm

STETTLER—Henry Martin lost his farm home recently by fire from an overheated furnace. Their son, Sam Martin and family had planned on moving there shortly, as Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Sr., had purchased a house in town and were going to retire. The loss was around $8,000. Mr. Martin lost a fine barn by fire a few years ago.

Stettler Midget Hockey team went to Botha on Tuesday and won against that team by a score of 2 to 1.

Dr. A. E. Kennedy attended a meeting of the Council of the Alberta Medical Association held in Calgary on Jan. 13.

The Alberta Adult Education Association will hold an organization meeting in the Town Hall, on Jan. 22, with the object of organizing a community council here.

The High School boys organized two teams to play school hockey during the winter. Captains are Kenneth Ulman and Neldar Boulton.

Allied Leaders Are Featured in Store Display, Red Deer

RED DEER—The T. Eaton Company store in Red Deer has an attractive window display featuring some of the leaders of the Allied armies. There are six large crayon portraits, reproductions from the original drawings by the Canadian artist, Egbert C. Reed. The officers are Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery, Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander, Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, Lt.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, and Lt.-Gen. G. C. Simonds. The portraits were loaned by the district recruiting officer, Maj. J. H. Gainor, MC, of MD 13, Calgary. Douglss Vahey, in charge of display and advertising for the local T. Eaton store, arranged the window, which has attracted considerable attention.

J. A. MICHON,
Executive Secretary.

It's a good IDEA!

To Have a Well With Water

A dry well isn't much help when you're thirsty. And when your business or organization needs money—it's good to have "a well with water." Treasury Branches of the Government of Alberta provide complete loaning facilities to all Alberta firms. Through Treasury Branches, towns, villages, municipal districts and school areas can arrange finances according to budget proposals. Farmers may be advanced funds for productive purposes.

See your local manager for full particulars.

British Editor Gives Warning To Britain, U.S.

Dr. J. H. Oldham, noted British church editor, warned here that Great Britain and the United States are being "driven" to courses of action which are "utterly wrong in themseluves" and "destructive of anything that can be called civilization." He expressed concern, particularly, at the possibility of post-war transfers of populations.

Writing in the Christian News Letter, Dr. Oldham urged the Allied governments "to preserve in their own conduct a high standard of international action." He called for national self-examination "to see whether the conviction is strong enough that the only force that can prevail against tyranny and inhumanity" is "an unconquerable faith in the dignity of the human person as a child of God and reverence for man as man."

GIVES COMMENT

Commenting on the "disintegration" of European society caused by weakening of "conventional standards" and the loss for many of the meaning of such words as charity, good faith, tolerance, and justice, the churchman said:

"It would be the greatest mistake to suppose that Great Britain and America are immune from the canker which is eating into the vitals of European society. Among ourselves also, the selfish interest of individuals and groups is obscuring the right understanding of freedom, and undermining the essential foundations of democratic society. The picture of Europe as the patient and ourselves as the health-bringing doctor is quite contrary to the truth.

We have been spared thus far from acute conflicts which have created disorder in countries that have been subjected to German occupation. The poison of nihilism has penetrated less widely and deeply into our national life than has happened elsewhere. But the evils that are devouring Europe have also infected our own life, and we have to be saved ourselves if we are to help in saving others."

Romance of Our Hymns

A fountain of tenderness welled up in the heart of Mary Artemisia Lathbury, as she read in Matthew 15:29 how Christ broke bread by Galilee. She penned the hymn, Break Thou the Bread of Life, which sprang instantly and permanently into favor. Kathleen Blanchard gives details of the life of the "laureate of Chatauqua."

By KATHLEEN BLANCHARD

Mary Artemisia Lathbury was born in 1841. She spent her early life at Manchester, Ontario county, New York.

Her father was a local preacher of the Methodist Episcopal church. Her two brothers were ministers in the same denomination.

Mary Lathbury was a skilled artist who expressed her thoughts in verse for various children's periodicals, for she loved young people. Another interest in her busy life was the Look-Up Legion in Sunday schools of her church (which she founded). The little ones were taught to "look-up" and not "down"—to "look-out" and not "in".

The Chautauqua movement was very near to her heart, and she looked forward to these gatherings with great happiness. She was welcomed there as the laureate of Chautauqua.

In the summer of 1880, the day came when Mary had been reading once again the beautiful story in St. Matthew 15:29, telling of Christ by the sea of Galilee, followed by a curious and vast concourse of people, many of whom had terrible troubles that they hoped He would heal.

Though the day was far spent and they had had nothing to eat for a long time—they refused to leave. Jesus knew their wants, and filled with compassion, satisfied them.

The beautiful surroundings of Bishop Vincent's college were on the lake shore and Mary Lathbury could well imagine the scene of the miracle by the sea of Galilee.

The hymn given today was written—and passed round the Literary and Scientific club of that college. It became well known and is loved on both sides of the Atlantic and may be found in most collections.

Break Thou the bread of life,
Dear Lord, to me,
As Thou didst break the loaves
Beside the sea;
Beyond the sacred page
I seek, Thee, Lord;
My spirit pants for Thee,
O living Word.

Bless Thou the truth, dear Lord,
To me—to me—
As Thou didst bless the bread
By Galilee;
Then shall all bondage cease,
All fetters fall;
And I shall find my peace,
My All in all.

Thou art the bread of life,
O Lord, to me,
Thy holy word the truth
That saveth me;
Give me to eat and live
With Thee alone;
Teach me to love Thy truth,
For Thou are love.

O send Thy spirit, Lord,
Now unto me,
That He may touch my eyes,
And make me see;
Show me the truth concealed Within Thy word,
And in Thy book revealed
I see the Lord.

A Guide for Today

By Sgt. Robert M. Small

Thank God every morning when you get up
For the blessing of rest through the night,
For renewing of strength, refreshing of mind,
For the dawn of a new day's light.

Thank God every morning when you get up
For the songbirds and beautiful flowers,
For sweethearts and mother and folks back home,
For the sunshine that comes after showers.

Ask God every morning when you get up
For a love that will ever increase,
That all through the day as you go on your way
You'll be thinking of kindness and peace.

Ask God every morning when you get up
For courage and strength through the day,
To battle the toils and temptations of life,
And lift barriers that get in your way.

Thank God every morning when you get up
For our country—the Land of the Free—
And ask Him to guard all our soldier pals
And the sailor-boys out on the sea.

Thank God as you come to the close of each day
That His courage and strength you could borrow;
Then in reverence kneel, give thanks for that day,
And pray for a better tomorrow.

Say Moral Order Is Vital Factor

The Foreign Missions Conference of North America at its 51st annual meeting stressed that "a moral order is the only one in which people are able and willing to trust and work and live together in peace." The Conference called upon the governments of Canada and the United States "to give serious attention to their responsibilities" for the Atlantic Charter, religious liberty, and "dependent areas and peoples."

"By so doing," the Conference observed, "the two governments would not only gain for their own citizens the maximum assurances of peace, security, and prosperity, but would almost certainly win the sincere collaboration of millions in other countries who now feel hopeless and despairing."

Reaffirming its statement on religious Liberty adopted jointly with the Federal Council of Churches, the Conference requested the two governments to "undertake by all suitable means at their command, singly and together, to secure the broadest possible acceptance, establishment, and maintenance of these basic principles of religious liberty, without which no liberty can be full and sure."

Joint action with other interested governments in early and full discussion of postwar policies for dependent areas was urged upon both governments. Self government for dependent peoples was proposed as the ultimate goal of such discussions.

Plan Reorganize Mission Movement

Plans for the reorganization of the Laymen's Missionary Movement in Canada were made at a meeting in Toronto of laymen from the Dominion's leading Protestant communions.

Two representatives from each denomination were named to a committee, headed by Charles Taylor of Toronto, to plan for a "Men and Missions" day in Canada on Nov. 4, 1945.

The committee will seek the integration of present lay associations, and wider affiliations among the denominations. It is also planned to elect an executive through denominational channels, and the group will be linked with the organization in the United States.

Launched at a national convention in Toronto in 1905, the Laymen's Missionary Movement spread to the US after a similar convention in Chicago. Interest decreased considerably during the depression years, but the movement is now said to be enjoying a strong revival.

Director Arrives In Great Britain

Mrs. Hawley Willson, director of the Congregational Committee for War Victims and Services, who arrived in England just before Christmas, has been accompanying Mrs. Frieda J. Demarest, American representative of the Committee in Britain, on a round of visits to Congregational Centres from London to Plymouth.

These Centres give aid to bombed out congregations, work for evacuees, assist Congregational chaplain units in troop hospitals, and minister to those forced to seek refuge in cave shelters in Ramsgate and Dover.

The oldest Congregational parish in England, located at Sandwich, and the new united Congregational community at Canterbury, where two congregations were bombed out, joined forces to hold Christmas parties for evacuated or orphaned children.

At St. Peter's

A mission is to be held at St. Peter's Church Westmount from Feb. 4 to 11. It will begin with Evensong on Feb. 4 and continue each day (excluding Saturday) until Feb. 11.

The missioner will be the Rev. Frank A. Peake, L.Th., MRSL, Vicar of Onoway. Watch for the announcement in this paper next week.

TO INSTAL OFFICERS. — The Rev. Dr. Edward T. Scragg, DD, minister of Wesley United church, who will instal the church officers at the Sunday morning service.

THREE SERVICES.—The Rev. R. S. Faulks, L.Th., who will conduct services Sunday at St. Peter's, Church of The Good Shepherd, and St. Paul's.

St. Stephen's Church Receives Reports

Reports of the various organizations and activities were read at the annual meeting of St. Stephen's church by Mrs. Swallow for the Altar Guild and St. Hilda's Guild, Miss Margaret Wright for the choir and Sunday school; the Dime-a-Week fund and the Rangers by H. Allen.

Mrs. Edith Mills, Scout mistress, and Miss Doreen Haas reported for the Scouts and Brownies, and James Green for the Cubs.

The church wardens' financial statement showed a larger revenue than for many years. The Willing Workers also reported an increase over last year. G. G. L. Moore accepted the office of rector's warden and J. R. Watson was unanimously re-elected people's warden.

Lay delegates to the synod elected were: Messrs. Moore, Swallow and Weir. Vestrymen: Messrs. Allen, Gregory, W. J. Green, Horton, Jones, Patterson, Petherbridge, Russell, Swallow, Weir.

Moral Victory Said Important

The Most Rev. Bernard Griffin, Archbishop of Westminster, in referring to the Russo-Polish dispute, asserted that unless "realism in politics is renounced, it will cause a further and still more terrible outbreak of war in our time."

He defined realism as meaning that a pledged word is held to be binding only so long as it serves the immediate material advantage of a nation.

While the Allies were assured of material victory over Germany, the Archbishop said that moral victory was even more important.

The issue between Poland and Russia, he added, was a moral issue, and justice, not expediency, must govern its settlement.

"There should be no agreement," he said, "without the freely expressed wishes of the people concerned."

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Flattery

FLATTERY has been a snare ever since the spirit of evil wrought discontent in the mind of Adam. "Meddle not with him that flattereth with his lips," says Scripture. History has been prolific in leaders who let flattery take hold of their minds, to the ruin of themselves and their followers. None can conceive how much misery and pain must be laid at the sycophant's door. From Nero to Hitler, the pattern is ever the same.

Men rightfully expect praise when they have accomplished some difficult task or discharged faithfully obligations imposed upon them. But flattery is not praise. Praise is honest; it is a reward for what has been done. Flattery is a mirage built upon deceit; an intoxication that blunts the mind, closes it to reality.

Flattery does not always evolve tragedy on the grand scale. It remains, nevertheless, a predominant social sin, wreaking its havoc in little lives as well as great. Its victim may be the bookkeeper whose friends have told him so often he is "too good for his job" that now he has become morose and unhappy; the housewife and mother who was quite contented until someone suggested "she should be on the stage;" the farm boy who has grown to hate the country because he has been assured that "with your brains and talent, a great future awaits you in the city."

Flattery is harmless only when recognized for its falsity and folly. A story in point concerns King Canute of England, who was surrounded by enemies seeking to deceive him by extravagant flatteries. He had his throne carried to the edge of the sea, and, as the tide rolled in, ordered the waves to retire. Of course, the tide continued to advance until the waves covered the king's ankles. Turning to his coterie of confused flatterers, the monarch exclaimed: "See how empty and vain is the power of an earthly king compared to Him who alone can say to the waves: 'Thus far may you go and no further'." The basic stupidity of flattery is that it so often tries to turn men into supermen.

On Wednesday next, the Edmonton Gideon Society of the International Commercial Men's Christian Association will present a variety program at the weekly meeting of the USAAF Servicemen's Christian League, when T. W. Pue will speak briefly of the Gideon work among men in the military forces of the United Nations, Sgt. Tom C. Sizemore, assistant to U. S. Chaplains here announced Saturday. Earl Davidson will be the guest soloist, and Boyce Green and Cy A. Blair will participate.

Christian Science

"Life" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science Churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is John 17:3. One of the Scriptural citations is "He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and brake their bands in sunder" (Psalms 107:14). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is "Jesus taught the way of Life by demonstration, that we may understand how this divine Principle heals the sick, casts out error, and triumphs over death" (p. 25).

People to Return Bishop Declares

No crusade will be needed to bring people back to worship after the war, in the opinion of Dr. Guy Warman, Anglican Bishop of Manchester.

In a press interview, the Bishop said that many of his peacetime congregation who are now in the armed services attend services at the cathedral every time they are home on leave.

His close contact with the services, Dr. Warman declared, convinces him that there is a deep rooted religious outlook among those in uniform, which will be reflected in church attendance when the fighting is over.

Voicing further justification for his faith in the future, the Bishop told of midweek services at a church on the south side of the city. The pastorate fell vacant some time ago, and has not been filled. Two rectors have shared the duty of looking after the church, and every Wednesday a simple lunch hour service is held for workers at neighboring factories, conducted sometimes by the rector, and sometimes by guest preachers, among them the Bishop. Although the service cuts into the lunch hour of workers, the church is always crowded.

AT METROPOLITAN.—Dr. E. J. Thompson, who will speak to Metropolitan United Church Young People's group after the Sunday evening service. This will be the first in a series of talks on "Youth, Christianity and the Modern World."

CONDUCTS MEMORIAL.—Adjt. Stanley Jackson of the Salvation Army, who will conduct a memorial service Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Citadel, in memory of the late Flt.-Sgt. John Fraser who was killed in action in Holland on Christmas Eve, and the late Pte. Earl Gosling who also made the supreme sacrifice Christmas week in Italy. Adjt. Jackson's topic will be "Life's Greatest Security."

Guest Speaker

The Rev. W. J. Laing, pastor of the Bible Institute Baptist Church, Calgary, will be the guest speaker at the Edmonton Prophetic Forum on Sunday at 3 p.m. He will speak also at the evening service of the Fundamental Baptist Church. These meetings are held in the Central Masonic Temple.

Chaplain to Speak

On Sunday evening Flt.-Lt. J. A. Forbes, who has just returned from chaplaincy overseas will be the guest preacher at Metropolitan United Church. Prior to going overseas, he was chaplain of the Manning depot here, and before enlistment was minister of St. John's United Church, Winnipeg.

Following the service, Dr. E. J. Thompson, will speak to the young people, giving the first in a series of talks on "Youth, Christianity and the modern world."

Going Abroad As Emissary U.S. Churches

Dr. A. L. Warnshuis, foreign counsellor of the church committee on overseas relief and reconstruction, will leave shortly as "ecumenical emissary" of Protestant churches in America to survey post-war needs of churches in Europe.

As representative of the American committee of the World Council of Churches, he will confer in London with Dr. W. A. Visser 't Hooft, general secretary of the World Council, and Pastor Marc Goegner, head of the French Protestant Federation. Before returning to the U.S., he hopes to hold conferences with other church leaders at Geneva, Switzerland. This will be the first direct meeting of American and continental church leaders since the war's beginning.

Primary purpose of Dr. Warnshuis' trip will be to determine what American assistance in funds and personnel will be required by the continental churches to re-establish their program.

SPECIAL COMMISSION

Dr. Warnshuis will carry special commissions to continental church groups from 12 American bodies, including the Church of God, Evangelical Church. Evangelical and Reformed, Methodist, National Lutheran Council, Presbyterian (U.S.), Presbyterian (U.S.A.), Reformed Church in America, and mission bodies of the Northern Baptist Convention, New Jerusalem Church, Southern Baptist Convention, and Disciples of Christ.

He will also carry special commissions for the International Missionary Council and the Church Committee for Relief in Asia.

President Roosevelt in a letter to Dr. Wernshuis wished him "God speed" in his mission, and stressed "the momentous tasks of rehabilitating spiritual work in the stricken areas."

Children Meeting In City Homes

More and more children are being reached every week through the extension department of the Pentecostal Tabernacle. Under the leadership of Miss Ruth Schoen, the Edmonton Home Bible Clubs have been growing, till now more than 300 children are meeting in 18 different homes in the city each week day afternoon or evening. There they are taught the Gospel songs, choruses and memory verses from the Bible. These children range in age from four to 14 years. Said J. Edgar Hoover, the head of the famed 'G'-men of the USM, "If every child could be made to go to Sunday school until he is 14 years old, we would have no crime problem in the next generation."

This is the only good result of Bible teaching. The positive benefits are so many that one has only to look down the pages of our own past history to know that righteousness is an honor to any nation.

The branch Sunday Schools of the Tabernacle, under the able leadership of the Rev. T. E. Crane are being carried on in two different parts of the city, with about 150 children enrolled. The school in the Jasper Place Community Hall at 148 street and 100 avenue, has also developed in regular church services which are held at 11:30 a.m., and 7 p.m., Mr. Crane will be preaching at these services Sunday.

Twelve Lutheran Clergymen Held

Twelve Lutheran clergymen are being held prisoners by the Nazis in German-occupied Denmark, and two others have been sent to concentration camps in Germany, according to latest information here.

Most recently arrested were Pastors Magle, of Toender; Melby, of Birkeroed; and Julius Rasmussen, of Hadsten. Pastor Riis Hoejgaard, of Riise, was transferred to Kolding from Froeslev, where he was said to have exerted "too much influence" over other prisoners.

Meanwhile, Danish refugee clergymen formerly connected with the Danish underground church press have started a newspaper here for fellow exiles. Known as Dansk Kirke (Danish Church), the publication already has a circulation of 17,000.

To Keep Post

When the Rt. Rev. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Bishop of London, becomes Archbishop of Canterbury, he has intimated here that he will retain his chairmanship of the Joint Christian Council, composed of Anglicans, Roman Catholics, and Free Churchmen co-operating on social and religious matters.

Churches' Support Urged For League

Church support for a reconstructed League of Nations was urged in a New Year message here by Dr. Wilbert F. Howard, president of the Methodist Conference of Great Britain.

The new epoch, Dr. Howard declared, demands that "the whole church of Christ" should bring all its moral influence to bear upon the question by insisting on two essential major bases in a world organization.

Soldier's Prayer

By Earle Davis

Our Father which art in heaven,
We ask your blessing on our cause, for we believe we fight for what Christ taught, the brotherhood that all men ought to feel;

We do not ask that each of us be blessed with luck while all about us comrades die:
we ask no selfish boon;

Thy kingdom come in all our hearts that we may face the fate that shall be ours
with fortitude;

In time of battle keep our courage high,
help us to carry on;
And if we fail give us the strength to bear the agony, the pain that may be ours;

For those of us who die, grant us this plea:
that by our sacrifice the world will see more clearly what it ought to be;

That freedom and democracy will be preserved and undersood through all the shining years ahead;

Blessed Father, pray for us too, that in our hours of need
we may preserve our souls;

For Thine is the kingdom, ours the responsibility of personal integrity, forever and ever,
Amen. . . .

Germans Imprison Lutheran Pastors

A total of 137 rebel Lutheran clergymen are in prison or have been expelled from their parishes by German occupation authorities in Norway, latest reports state.

Ten clergymen have been arrested in the last few weeks, despite protests and open demonstrations by members of their parish churches. In many instances, it was charged, arrests or expulsions took place without any evidence to support such action.

Meanwhile, uneasiness among clergymen "ordained" by the Quisling-controlled church department is reflected in the increasing number said to be resigning their posts.

Judge Clark E. Tucker of the juvenile and probate court in Kansas City, Kansas, has mailed out copies of the "Kansas City Kansas Plan" to 400 other judges, all over the nation. The plan deals with the operation of the local week-day church school system. Pointing out that more than 200,000 youths were in houses of correction in this country, Judge Tucker believes that the week-day school idea has done much in reducing delinquency in his city.

Plan Ceremony For Christian League

Impressive ceremonies will mark the first anniversary observance of the USAAF Servicemen's Christian League in Edmonton, Tuesday, Jan. 30, 7:15 p.m. Air Vice Marshal T. A. Lawrence, RCAF, Commanding officer, the Northwest Service Air Command, is among outstanding guests invited to the anniversary meeting.

The World's Christian Endeavor Union, the U.S. General Commission on Army and Navy Chaplains, the International Council of Religious Education and the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America are the four interdenominational organizations which founded and sponsors the League. Maj. Gen. William R. Arnold, U.S. Army Chief of Chaplains, hails the league as having great future importance, because of its present ministry "wherever our service men are found."

The league functions to develop the spiritual and moral standards of men in the military service and 'is a great program of assistance to our fighting forces." Sgt. Tom C. Sizemore, USAAF SMCL president stated. The sergeant made reference to the SMCL official organ, the Link, and disclosed that nearly 4,000,000 copies monthly of this publication go to all training centres and battlefronts of American Protestantism and of the objectives in religion and good citizenship for which the Chaplaincy and other supporting agencies stand. Capt Harold F. Ott, U. S. Air Base Chaplain, stated today that the public 'is welcome to attend."

Young People's Activities

McDOUGALL YOUNG PEOPLE

Young people recently enjoyed their annual sleigh ride. Forty-six members attended and a gala time was had by all. Refreshments were served at the church. Sunday evening meeting proved to be very enjoyable when Lois Neilson recited, Eva Saito and Neida Faulkner provided musical entertainment.

WESLEY-ROBERTSON YOUNG PEOPLE

In their program on Christian Culture, Mr. Hugh Gourlay spoke on the "Place of the Public Library in the Community."

HIGHLANDS YOUNG PEOPLE

Mrs. Slate entertained the group at a social evening at her home. Plans were made for the young people's church service.

METROPOLITAN YOUNG PEOPLE

Sunday night meeting was given to musical talent in the group. Miss Bunny Hosford was pianist. Mary Gish and George Hutton gave vocal solos, Mary Boorman piano solo and Warren Doze and Bunny Hosford gave a musical duet.

Reorganization Wins Approval At Conference

Reorganization of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, in order that it may conduct its activities more effectively, was approved at the 31st annual meeting of the Conference held recently in Toronto.

The reorganization concerns principally the development of "area" and "functional" committees, most of them with full-time secretaries, and the election of three of four secretaries "of general services."

Need for these additional services, it was pointed out, grows largely out of the war situation, but is also due to increasing co-operation among the 124 missions boards and groups affiliated with the Conference.

AREA COMMITTEES

The "area" committees, which are already set up or will be created in the near future, and which will in most cases require secretary-specialists in those fields, are: Africa Committee, Committee on East Asia, Committee on Europe, India Committee, Committee on Co-operation in Latin America, Committee on Work Among Moslems, and Philippine Committee.

The "functional" committees or agencies, which will be administered by specialists or by the "secretaries of general services," are: Associated Mission Medical Office, Christian Medical Council for Overseas Work, Rural Missions Co-operating Committee, Treasurers' Group, Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature.

In addition to these, a group of standing committees will be appointed in Public Relations, Missionary Personnel, Anglo-American Churches, International Relations and World Peace, and Missionary Research Library.

To finance the enlarged co-operative services of the mission agencies, a budget of $190,462 was adopted for 1945, an increase of $25,088 over last year.

ELECTED CHAIRMAN

Dr. J. H. Arnup, moderator of the United Church of Canada, was elected chairman of the Foreign Missions Conference for 1945 by the 485 delegates from every state and province of the US and Canada, and representing every major Protestant denomination and church affiliation.

Dr. Emory Ross, Miss Sue E. Waddell, Dr. P. H. J. Lerrigo, and the Rev. J. J. Mickel were elected secretaries of the Conference. It was understood that when the reorganization is effected, probably in April, Dr. Ross will be assigned as secretary of the Africa Committee, Miss Waddell of the India Committee, Miss Gloria M. Wyner of the Committee on Work Among Moslems, Dr. Stanley Rycroft of the Committee on Latin America, Dr. E. K. Higden of the Committee on the Philippines, and that new secretaries will be assigned to the Committee on Eastern Asia, and to "general services."

Many Buildings Suffer Damage

More than 2,500 Methodist buildings in Great Britain have been severely damaged by bombing, it was announced at a meeting of the Methodist War Damage Committee at Birmingham. Recent reports showed that 300 of the denomination's buildings were hit by robot bombs in Southern England alone.

The meeting urged church trustees to request licenses from local authorities for repairs to buildings, even though current shortages of materials may prevent any work being done. This would avoid liability for weather damage when final assessments of war damages are made.

BIBLE SOCIETY.—The Rev. J. E. Heuer, district secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, who announced Saturday that the annual meeting of the North Alberta Auxiliary will be held in First Baptist church on March 6, at 8 p.m.

Some Happy Day

By SARA MARCUM

Oh, look and listen,
What a dreary day,
But do you not hear
A loving voice say,
"Be patient, though life
Be like this day,
Sometimes dark and often gray."

But why should we complain
When days are dark,
For sunbeams steal
Through the darkness
Like a tiny spark,
To help the traveler who
Is in the dark.

So make the best of life,
Whatever it may be.
Do not complain to others
Whom we see.
Be kind, thoughtful and gay,
And you'll be repayed
Some happy day.

Advisory Council Asks Co-Operation

Close co-operation with other communions was urged by the Lay Advisory Council of the United Church of Canada, composed of three representatives from each of the ten conferences of the Church, at the 31st annual meeting held in Toronto.

The Council also recommended that surveys be made in rural and urban communities to reach the 500,000 or more persons who describe themselves as followers of the United Church faith, but are not listed as members.

Full co-operation of the denomination's membership was requested in new plans for the Pension Fund, and determined efforts were urged to increase the minimum yearly salary of United Church clerbymen to $1,800 and residence.

Calling for a rededication of the laity "to meet the challenge of these critical days," the Council asked officials and church members to pledge anew their suport of their minister's leadership. It also recommended that church activities be expanded to include all age groups, and that "horizons be widened" by study of the Report of the Commission on the Church, Nation, and World Order.

Criticize Policy

Policy of some churches against appointing ministers over fifty years old was criticized here by the Rev. W. R. Auld, president of the Toronto Conference of the United Church of Canada.

"The minister over 50 is the forgotten man," Mr. Auld declared. He warned that "we cannot attract the men we want to the Christian ministry so long as the fifty-year rule prevails."

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

CANADIANS will have three games coming up in eight days as a result of the projected visit of the HMCS Unicorn juniors here next Saturday. They are scheduled to play South Side tonight starting at 9 o'clock and will take on the EAC sextet Wednesday.

And unless either Canadians or Saskatoon Navy slip in the meantime, two previously unbeaten aggregations will be on parade before Edmonton fans a week tonight. Both have played one tie, Canadians' no-decision affair being an exhibition during Christmas week in Calgary and the Unicorn's a regular league fixture.

In their five league games up to Wednesday, Saskatoon Sailors—in a three-way tie for first place with Prince Albert and Varsity — had scored 38 goals, with 16 registered against them.

Exact personnel of the Navy team which will make the trip is not known here yet, but the first string consisting of Kobussen, Hogge and Buttrey has been decidedly hot recently. There was a Gordon Hogge who played centre for the Lions last winter and he was plenty fast—scored two goals and had a pair of assists when Canadians met the Lions in Lloydminster in January.

Storey is another name appearing regularly in Navy games. An Al Storey was with Lions a year ago, and his age as given to this operator by Manager Bill Love, just before the Lloydminster game was 19. If these are the same two boys, this will be their third year in junior company, as they were with junior Quakers during the 1942-43 season.

HERE AND THERE . . .

SYD THOMAS in his Snapshots refers to Gunnball, a new development on the west coast, named after Jimmy Gunn, who came up with the idea. It is an ice proposition, the performers using lacrosse sticks and a softball. An ordinary hockey goal was first pressed into service, but that was too easy a mark and so basketball nets were put up and the players pot at them.

Also mentioned by Syd are the three Navy hockeyists at HMCS York, Toronto, all of whom he says are tabbed for future NHL use when they discard their tiddleys. Floyd Curry is on Montreal Canadiens' list, Bobby Love on Buffalo Bison rolls and Bobby Schnurr will figure in Boston Bruins post war plans.

Bobby Roerr, of Boston Red Sox, was the American league's champion slugger last year, although he left midway in the season. He has averaged more than 17 homers a year since he joined the Red Sox back in 1937. The American title is decided on the number of total bases collected for trips to the plate and Bobby bobbed up with an average of .527, one point more than his team-mate Bob Johnson. Doerr's actual batting figure was .325, his 152 hits gathered up in 468 times at bat being good for a total of 247 bases.

Dave Castilloux today appears to be closer to a shot at Johnny Greco, as a result of his rather unexpected win over Detroit's Bobby Gunther last night. Castilloux, it will be remembered won over Al Lust in the Arena here two years ago this month, before a crowd of around 4,000. Al favors careful boxing, while Gunther prefers the toe to toe and wide open varieties.

Vince Bannon, centre for Canadians who was injured in the recent Calgary game here will be back in the lineup tonight, but probably will be used sparingly. Sammy Hergert is expected to be in charge of the Canadian nets instead of Don Murray. Sammy did a good job for Louis Holmes' Canadian "B" juveniles in Thursday night's game.

Attractive Program

Glenora Skating Club's Ice Fantasy, March 1, 2, 3

GLENORA Skating Club's "Ice Fantasy" which will be staged at the Arena on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 1, 2 and 3 will feature ballet, figure skating and comedy acts, along with club pairs, fours, eights and 16's and special exhibition numbers in which several of the continent's most outstanding artists will be taking part.

Under the energetic sponsorship of the club members, the officials promise that their production this season will be the equal or better of any previous show. The different committees are well advanced in each function and ballet director, Mrs. Marian Kinney Rouse, has the club members practicing nightly.

Another outstanding performer will be one of our own Alberta girls, now from Toronto, Miss Doreen Dutton, who has made good. To further augment this we have engaged three of North America's outstanding skaters from Oakland, California.

Miss Betty Atkinson, the Californian Skating Comet, and star of the Ice Follies of 1944, in her original and sensational combination of baton twirling and skating. Miss Atkinson will also appear with Mr. "Chuk" Hain, in acro-adagio, spins and tricks. Last but not least, Murray Galbraith, former star of the Ice Follies, in dazzling and sparkling numbers.

Amongst the Club's own figure skaters, will be the Munro Four—namely Alex Munro, two daughters, Rosemary and Lillian, son Murdo, in several combinations, also the Club 4 comprised of Diana Keltie, Jane Emery, Aileen Jones and Daurel Mills, just to mention a few.

Orders for tickets may be sent by mail or taken to Mills Motor Ltd., corner Jasper avenue and 109 street.

Wolfe Rink Hands Alexander First Defeat South Bonspiel

CALGARY, Jan. 20.—(CP)—The last undefeated rink in the annual bonspiel of the southern Alberta branch of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club was knocked out in late play here Friday night throwing the race for grand aggregate honors open again.

Bob Alexander of the Calgary Curling Club, the last undefeated skip, was defeated by Frank Wolfe of the Edmonton Royal Club, 10-7 in the Eaton competition.

Other skips who have lost only one game are Glen Williams, Calgary; Jack Ruttan, Calgary Glencoe Club and Tommy Anderson of Banff.

Ches Marshall and his Nelson, B.C. rink retired from the bonspiel today after being eliminated by R. Henderson of Bowden, Alta., in the Birks event. He defaulted to Hube Gooder of Olds, Alta., in the Brewery event.

Mrs. Roberts Out In Final Of Visitors

The only perfect records in the Women's Curling Association annual bonspiel at the Avenue rink at the end of the fourth day's play on Friday, were those of two local skips, Mrs. O. A. Brown of the Royal and Mrs. R. L. Smith of Alberta Avenue.

Mrs. Brown, who registered her fifth straight win Thursday, was idle yesterday while Mrs. Smith led her rink to its fifth in a row by defeating Mrs. Pat Rose 9-5 on the morning draw yesterday to advance into the semi-finals of the grand challenge, T. Eaton trophy.

Fine progress was made on Friday. Mrs. Smith filled the fourth bracket in the semi-finals of the primary while one finalist was declared in the visitors, all places except one in the eights of the Hudsons Bay trophy competitions were filled, one rink was out in the eights of the Jackson trophy event and the Sheppard got underway.

Mrs. T. W. Roberts of Barrhead reached the final of the visitors and will meet either Mrs. Ethel Lees of Red Deer or Mrs. C. French of Calmar who were drawn to meet in the semi-final this afternoon on the day's second draw. This will be the first event finished.

The four in the semi-finals of the T. Eaton are Mrs. W. Howson, Mrs. W. Shafer, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Smith. The Smith and Brown rinks clash in one bracket, probably on Monday.

The seven in the eights of the Hudson's Bay trophy events are Mrs. Pat Rose, Mrs. F. A. Mercer, rMs. M. McIvor, Mrs. R. F. Attwood, Mrs. J. M. Verge, Mrs. A. McDowell of Jasper and Mrs. J. Adair. Mrs. A. Christiansen and Mrs. Croonquist are still in the sixteens of this event. Play today will leave only four.

No games were played in the city event yesterday.

One rink, skipped by Mrs. M. Blick, Barrhead, reached the eignts in the Jackson competition while others were still back in the thirty-twos.

Following are Friday's results:

9 A.M. RESULTS

Inter-Provincial Competition Kindles Junior Hockey Interest

WINNIPEG, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Inter-Provincial competition has kindled junior interest across the prairies with packed arenas assured for play-offs come spring.

More than 5,000 fans will crowd the Winnipeg Amphitheatre rink tonight to witness Saskatchewan's favorites—Moose Jaw Canucks—battle Manitoba's ranking Winnipeg Monarchs in a return engagement which could be a preview of the coming Western Canada finals.

Canucks, before 3,000 fans—the first packed arena for junior hockey in Moose Jaw—handed Monarchs their first setback of the season, 5-3, a week ago.

But these teams face a stiff fight with Edmonton Canadians, Regina Commandos, Winnipeg Esquires and Port Arthur Flyers and others all capable of providing upsets.

NO SENIOR LEAGUES

Senior civilian leagues for Allan Cup competition are non-existent in Western Canada for the first time in years, having been supplanted by inter-service competition.

No Allan Cup civilian team has been mentioned in Alberta while in Saskatchewan, Saskatoon Royals will seek permission to enter the playoffs. A trial senior series is underway in Winnipeg—Esquires-Red Wings versus MacDonald airports.

In the Thunder Bay district Port Arthur Shipbuilders, defending western senior champions, are keeping in trim with occasional exhibitions.

Edmonton Canadians, who upset Regina Commandos 8-3 recently, continue undefeated in the Edmonton four-team loop with six wins. They have a four-point lead over Edmonton Athletic Club.

Moose Jaw Canucks have cinched first place in the four-team southern Saskatchewan loop. They won 12 games and lost their other two league fixtures to Regina Commandos, who are five points behind.

NORTH SASKATCHEWAN

In Northern Saskatchewan, Saskatoon Navy, Saskatoon Varsity and Prince Albert Black Hawks are deadlocked for first place, each with seven points. Saskatoon Lions and Saskatoon Falcons so far have not been contenders.

In Manitoba, Monarchs have six straight wins in the south division against five wins and three losses for Rangers. Winnipeg Esquires, in the north division, have 10 victories against only two for St. Boniface and Canadian Ukrainian Athletic Club.

A tight race is underway in Thunder Bay with Port Arthur Flyers, defending champions, Port Arthur West Ends and Port Arthur Navy all deadlocked with six points.

In inter-service competition, Winnipeg RCAF Bombers lead the Manitoba League by a wide margin while in Alberta, Calgary Currie Army hold a two-game edge over Calgary RCAF.

Freddie Archer Takes Decision

Sunland Scores Fourth Straight Pee-Wee Victory

Sunland Biscuits, the only unbeaten team in the Edmonton Athletic Club Pee Wee Hockey League, registered its fourth straight triumph Friday night by defeating the Arrows 3-1 in a closely played game. Smithbuilt won from the winless Fairway club, 3-1, and Kraft trimmed Allards (Leckie's) 5-1 in the other two contests.

Don Perry again led the Sunland team to victory, scoring two goals. K. Smith tallied the other one for the winners while Alex Skedanuk collected the lone Arrow marker.

Harvey Grey, who received an eye injury in the second period, showed the way to the Kraft puck chasers by turning the hat trick with three goals, all in the first period. Henry netted the other two for Kraft while Ed Irwin bagged the lose Allard counter.

Smith goal-getters were Buddy Loftus with two and C. Sylvester and Fairway scorer was D. Kilburn.

Cecil Goldstick refereed all three games.

Aces Hand Pats Initial Setback Girls' Basketball

Army and Navy Pats suffered their first setback in the City Girls' Basketball League Friday night when the YWCA Aces halted their unbeaten string at four straight by defeating them 26-25 at the McDougall school gym.

The other contest, between University and RCAF Gremlins, was postponed.

The Aces overcame the Pats in the third quarter and then hung on to win out, although the losers were pressing hard throughout the last to come within one point of tying it up.

Pats counted nine to the winners' eight in the first frame and both teams added eight in the second. Aces, who were led by Frances Gordon with 10 points, dropped in six in the third while Pats were held scoreless.

Laura Scott was high point-getter for the night with 12 points.

No Further Exit Permits

New Selective Service Ruling Hits Discharged NHL Players

MONTREAL, Jan. 20.—(CP)—The National Hockey League, it was learned last night, has "definitely" been advised by national selective service that no further exit permits will be issued to release servicemen who wish to cross the border to play hockey unless they have served overseas.

Some of the NHL's six clubs already have been notified by league president Mervin (Red) Dutton of the ruling.

President Dutton himself was not available for comment. He was expected to reach Chicago last night.

Pending clarification either by National Selective Service officers or Mr. Dutton, it wasn't quite clear just how and to whom the permit ban would be applied.

It clearly does apply to Billy Reay, star of Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League, who was discharged recently from the navy and who intended to return to Detroit Red Wings of the NHL.

Reay, who led Aces to their Allan Cup triumph last season, was told Tursday night by Jack Adams in a long distance call from Detroit to Quebec that Ottawa had informed him released servicemen with no overseas service would not be permitted to cross the border to play hockey.

Exit permits, a wartime measure, are the government authorization given individuals enabling them to leave Canada either for an indefinite or stated period. They are not required for individual trips across the border but are issued to students taking courses or other persons leaving the country on business or to take other work for considerable periods.

South Side will play Canadians in a Junior hockey league game at the Arena tonight commencing at 9 o'clock.

Canadians won 4-2 when these two teams met on Jan. 6, scoring three goals in the second period.

Christy Here For Wrestling Match Took Film Part

Ted Christy of Hollywood, who meets Chief Thunderbird in the feature event on tonight's wrestling card at the Empire Theatre, is a member of the Screen Actors Guild. He just recently completed a part in one of Abbott and Costello's latest pictures.

"Here come the co-eds" is the name of the picture and it will be released shortly. In addition of course, to Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, Lon Chaney, Jr., and Peggy Ryan are two of the other film celebrities mentioned by Christy as having parts.

In the mat game for 14 years, Christy says he's made two wrestling trips to Australia and one to England and he claims having been the holder of three world's titles—middleweight in 1933, light-heavyweight in '35 and junior heavyweight in '38.

Right now he weighs 230 pounds and certainly looks as if he'll be able to take care of himself in a ring with Thunderbird.

Christy also says he has met Jim Londos two or three times, but frankly admits the best he got was a draw. In his second bout with Jim, which he says was a one-fall affairs, it took Londos 58½ minutes to pin his shoulders to the canvas. Ted also claims a win over "Bronko" Nagursky, famous wrestler-footballer, slightly more than a year ago.

Oscar Mossfeldt's opponent tonight is Emil Van Velzen, while Sgt. Larry Green, of the U.S. Air Base in Edmonton, is making his initial public appearance here against Steve Jossell, the "Beverly Kid". Darby Melynk and "Indian Joe" from Sarcee complete the card.

Wally Beaumont and Cecil (Tiger) Goldstick have been named referees. Tickets may be procured during the day at Mike's. The first bout will commence at 8:30 p.m.

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—(BUP)—A big time operator in mid-western basketball betting, now visiting New York, denounced bitterly Friday the "cheap chiselers and crooks" who are casting suspicion on the hoop sport with the "spread" quotations and their attempts to "fix" games.

He emphasized that "legitimate operators—" permanent bookmakers in most large cities who specialize in basketball and foot ball wagers—are just as angry over the current situation as are college officials and promoters.

They are angry because activities of "small time, fly by night bookies" and crooked gamblers cause regular clients of the "legitimates" to become suspicious of the sport, he explained. Moreover, sudden rumors of "fixes" (though usually unfounded) cause such lop sided national betting on important games that the legits can not balance their books—can't lay off to other books, and consequently wind up the day with "frozen" surpluses on artifically hot favorites. When these favorites win, the legits take it on the chin.

INCOME IS COMMISSION

THE operator from D— continued, "the basis of income in legitimate bookmaking is the commission obtained from a balanced book, not from trying to out smart or victimize the clients.

"In basketball, for example, I offer a point handicap on a game—a handicap that has been set in the city of M— at noon on the day of the game by the smartest and best informed basketball handicappers in the country. Perhaps the handicappers have made team "A" the 7-point favorite over team "B". The client bets on either team at odds of 6 to 5. If "A" wins the game by more than 7 points, it's a favorite victory. If "A" has a margin of less than 7, it's an underdog victory. If the "A" margin is exactly 7, neither bettor wins; and I get no commission. Yes, there are plenty of draws like that. If two men had bet $1,200 each—one on "A" and the other on "B"— my commission would have been $20, no matter which won.

"This is much different from spread cutting—the kind that's causing most of the trouble at Madison Square Garden and other places.

For the spread, bookies would take the handicap of 7 points and spread it to 6-7-8. The client, betting at even money, gives the bookie 8 points if wager is on the favorite, but receives only 6 if he bets on the underdog. A favorite win of exactly 8 points means a draw for the winner bettor; a favorite margin of exactly 6 points means a draw for the underdog bettor. But—a favorite margin of 7 points means a loss for both bettors, with the bookie taking the entire pot.

"ONLY FOR SUCKERS"

"FRANKLY, spread betting is only for suckers. Every time a fan makes a spread bet he is taking not only the normal chance of losing; but he is giving the bookie the advantage of the middle or handicap figure, which has been determined by "experts." The fan is betting that those experts do not know their business; but they do.

"It is their business to determine the exact borderline of prowess between the two teams, in order to stimulate difference of opinion—and thus stimulate betting on both teams, giving the commission men action and a balanced book. It is remarkable how often the M— handicappers hit the margin of difference right on the nose. The consistency with which the middle figure arrives in important games is a major cause for the increasing yells of fix.

"No established bookmaker, with a respected clientele, will accept spread bets—in New York or anywhere else. Like the shell game, spread is betting for suckers. But, worse than the shell game, it's a vicious, double edged menace to basketball. The handicap break in favor of the bookies excites suspicion of dishonesty in games that are on the level; and sometimes it spurs unscrupulous bookies to the ranks of the few crooked gamblers hovering about the fringes of basketball, like sulking wolves, trying to arrange for games to be thrown."

Saskatoon Navy Plays Canadians Next Saturday

HMCS Unicorn's junior hockey club from Saskatoon will play the Canadians at the Arena here next Saturday, Jan. 27, according to an announcement made on Friday night by W. J. (Bill) Harris.

The Navy team, tied once, but without a loss so far this season, is at present in a three-way tie for first place in the Northern Saskatchewan junior circuit with Prince Albert and University of Saskatchewan, both of whom have played more games.

At one time bachelor was used to mean a novice or a person of inferior degree.

WAR VETERANS Questions and Answers DEPARTMENT

Here is information on gratuities, overseas and hemisphere service, and military call-up which will aid in solving your problems.

Questions addressed to this department concerning numerous regulations under the various acts passed by Parliament aimed at rehabilitation of war veterans and their dependents, will be answered providing questions are clear and the letters brief. Only questions pertaining to the acts will be handled. Personal problems or complaints of treatment will not be dealt with under this heading.

Names and addresses must be with each letter of inquiry although only initials will be used in the reply if the questioner so requests.—Editor.

QUESTION

Dear Sir: Could you please tell me what is wrong with my gratuity? I received a cheque and statement for $262.50.

A veteran of the last war I joined the Veterans Guard of Canada in May, 1941 and was discharged as medically unfit in April, 1944.

They asked for volunteers to go overseas and I put my name in and was sent to Ottawa in 1941. They picked 32 of us and told us we were going to Newfoundland which was considered overseas service.

Now I find after being issued with the silver maple leaf and service ribbon that I won't get paid the overseas rate of gratuity, although the address over in New foundland is still CAPO No. 1, CAOS. I spent two years and four months in Newfoundland.

I have a large family of 11, with four boys in the service, one in the American hospital here after being badly wounded overseas. I cannot understand why I cannot get the overseas rate of gratuity. I could have served in Canada instead of going to Newfoundland and have been with my family every two months. We also took quite a chance on the ship being torpedoed going to and from Newfoundland.

I had figured on receiving the overseas rate of gratuity as I wanted to build a home for my family.

Yours sincerely,
H. J. C.

Edmonton.

ANSWER

By the definition of "Overseas under the War Service Grants Act, 1944, service in Newfoundland does not qualify Canadian personnel for gratuity at the basic rate paid for overseas service.

"Overseas service is defined by the act as follows:

"Any service required to be performed outside the Western Hemisphere and including service involving duties required to be performed outside of Canada and the United States of America and the territorial waters thereof in aircraft or anywhere in a sea-going ship of war".

The "Western Hemisphere" is defined in the act as follows:

"The continents of North and South America, the islands adjacent thereto and the territorial waters thereof, including Newfoundland, Bermuda and the West Indies, but excluding Greenland, Iceland and the Aleutian Islands".

Under the regulations you do not qualify for the overseas rate.

QUESTION

Dear Sir: Would you please advise me on the following questions. I enlisted in the Canadian Active Army and served in Canada for a period of 578 days. I also served in England for 407 days. I was a private during my period of service with three children. The sub-total on my gratuity account was $244.25 and the grand total is $304.50.

Are these figures correct?

What steps should I take to get furniture or could I purchase a house? Have I to make a down payment over and above the sub-total of $244.25.

Edmonton. G. A. S. D.

ANSWER

In answer to the first part of your question: If the number of days given as your Canadian and overseas service is correct there is definitely something wrong with amounts credited in gratuity.

On the basis that the treasury department is computing gratuity of $7.50 for every complete 30 days of service in Canada and $15 for every 30 days of service overseas you are being underpaid by a considerable amount.

For your 578 days of service in Canada you are entitled to $142.50. Your 407 days of overseas service should be worth $195.00, giving a total of $337.50. In addition you would be entitled to seven days pay and allowances for every six months service overseas or proportionately when the service includes periods of less than six months. Pay and allowances include all pay and allowances which were being paid immediately prior to discharge.

We take it that the second part of your question refers to the rehabilitation credit to which you are entitled in an amount equal to your gratuity. In this matter we advise you to contact the Veterans Welfare Division at 10019 101A avenue and obtain particulars concerning rehabilitation credit. Machinery for the administration of this act has not yet been fully set up.

QUESTION

Dear Sir: Will you please tell me if I am subject to military call-up under the new rule effective Jan. 15, 1945. I am 41 years of age and was discharged from the army Dec. 15, 1943.

S. W. T., Thorhild.

ANSWER

Under existing regulations no man who has reached his 38th birthday is being called for military training.

The change of regulations announced by Labor Minister Mitchell last Saturday make all discharged service personnel, who have not had service outside of Canada, liable for call-up for military or industrial service.

However, only single men born between 1906 and 1926, and married men born between the years 1913 and 1926, are liable to call-up at the present time the new regulations specifically state. Therefore, at your age you are not subject to call-up for military training under existing regulations.

QUESTION

Dear Sir:

As a widow of a soldier who was killed in the present war I would like all the information available covering allowances paid widows of service personnel. I find there seems to be very little information available concerning these allowances. J. H. D., Edmonton.

ANSWER

Here is a fairly comprehensive summary of war widows' allowances:

PURPOSE OF ALLOWANCE

To relieve from necessity widows of veterans of the War of 1914-1918 and of the South African War of 1899-1902 who are incapable of maintaining themselves.

THOSE ELIGIBLE

Widows of veterans who served:

(a) In the naval, military or air forces of Canada during the war of 1914-1918; or

(b) In any of His Majesty's forces or in any of the forces of His Majesty's Allies who were domiciled in Canada at the time of joining such force for service in the said war; or

(c) In a Canadian contingent during the South African war of 1899-1902, and who landed in South Africa before June 1st, 1902; or

(d) In the forces of Great Britain and Ireland during the South African War of 1899-1902 who were domiciled in Canada immediately prior to October 11th, 1899, and who landed in South Africa before June 1st, 1902;

Provided that the deceased veteran:

(a) Served in a theatre of actual war; or

(b) Was, at the time of his death in receipt of a pension for injury or disease incurred or aggravated during his service; or

(c) Accepted, under the Pension Act, a final payment in lieu of pension for a disability rated at not less than five per cent, or a final payment similar to that authorized by the Pension Act.

ELIGIBILITY CONDITIONS

(a) The applicant must have reached the age of 55 years or be so incapacitated by mental or physical disability as to be incapable and unlikely to become capable of earning a livelihood.

(b) She must be in need.

(c) She must have resided in Canada for at least six months prior to the date of the first payment of the allowance.

(d) She must have been living with and/or been maintained by her husband at the time of or up to a reasonable period before his death.

(e) If without a dependent child or dependent children, she must not be in receipt of an income in excess of $365.00 per annum, exclusive of casual earnings not exceeding $125.00 per annum; or if with a dependent child or dependent children, of an income in excess of $730.00 per annum, exclusive of casual earnings not exceeding $125.00 per annum; and she must not have made a voluntary assignment or transfer of assets for the purpose of qualifying for an allowance.

AMOUNTS PAYABLE

The amount of allowance granted is discretionary with the board. For a widow without a dependent child or dependent children the maximum award is $240.00 per annum, and the recipient's income from the allowance and all other sources may not exceed $365.00 per annum, exclusive of casual (i.e. not regular) earnings not exceeding $125.00 per annum. In exceptional circumstances, however, the award may be increased to an amount not exceeding $300.00 per annum exclusive of casual earnings not exceeding $125.00 per annum.

For a widow with a dependent child or dependent children the maximum award is $480.00 per annum, and the recipient's income from the allowance and all other sources may not exceed $730.00 per annum, exclusive of casual (i.e. not regular) earnings not exceeding $125.00 per annum. In exceptional circumstances, however, the award may be increased to an amount not exceeding $600.00 per annum, exclusive of casual earnings not exceeding $125.00 per annum. Allowances are paid monthly in arrears.

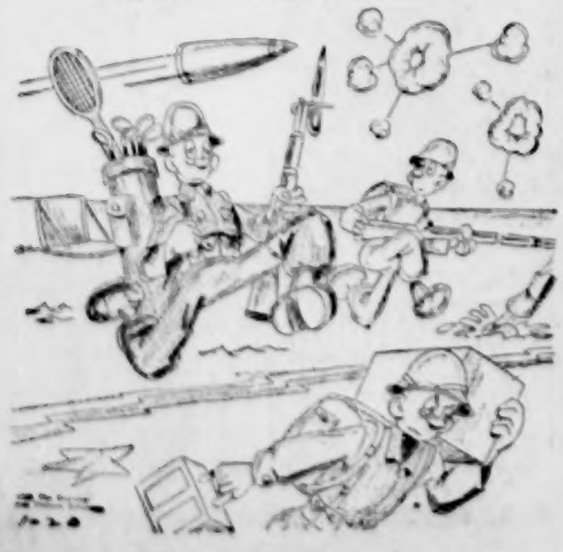

OTHER PROVISIONS

(a) The allowance is not payable outside the Dominion of Canada.

(b) A recipient of widow's allowance may not, at the same time, benefit from the allowance and old age pension.

(c) Assigned pay received from a member of the armed forces is considered as income, unless the recipient can show that this money is not being used for her maintenance. Should the widow be also in receipt of dependents' allowance all assigned pay and dependents' allowance are regarded as income.

YOU'RE IN THE ARMY NOW

Violinist Will Play Here Next Week

Ricardo Odnoposoff, 26-year-old Argentine-born violinist, who will appear at the Empire theatre next Thursday in the Celebrity Series of Concerts sponsored by the Women's Musical Club.

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

SUBSTITUTING for Nathan Milstein, whose entire season activities had to be cancelled on account of illness, Ricardo Odnoposoff, violinist, will appear at the Empire theatre next Thursday in the Celebrity Series of concerts sponsored by the Women's Musical Club. No doubt there will be some among the devotees of music and adherents of the Celebrity Series to whom Mr. Odnoposoff's name heretofore has not been familiar. No doubt also those same music lovers, when they go to hear him will be pleasantly surprised. Prior to his New York debut in Carnegie Hall on Feb. 5, 1944, there were many confirmed concert-goers in the Broadway and 42nd street district who had not heard of him. But the audience at Carnegie Hall soon realized that a new star had been discovered in the violin firmament, and he was established immediately as a prime favorite with both regular and occasional concert-goers.

There are some cogent reasons for even highly accomplished artists not being known to what is usually described as the "average man." Recall that the war has been in progress since 1939. In that period there has been ample time for many artists to flower into maturity. The attention of the world as a whole has been primarily directed at the war. Many events, and many persons and their accomplishments that normally would be well marked and followed closely, have passed almost unnoticed, overshadowed by the all-engulfing nature of the global conflict.

Then again, travel and communication between countries has been difficult, and artists might be a tremendous sucess in one part of the world, and except to those who follow such persons and their careers in detail, would be virtually unknown in other parts, a condition that would be greatly diminished in normal times. Another aspect of the situation is that in the last three years with union musicians banned from making phonograph records—a ban now lifted—there were few new artists introduced to the public, and no records were made calling for symphony or concert orchestras. Such records of this type that were released, were those which the companies held in reserve.

Ricardo Odnoposoff was one of the artists developing and flowering to maturity in the Argentine, a netural country of which little was heard. By the time he gave his New York recital he had reached a point where he could hold his own even in the most select company. His program for next Thursday's concert is as follows: Sonata in A Major for violin and piano, Cesar Franck; Chaconne for violin alone, Bach; Concerto in D Major, Paganini-Wilhelmj; Caprice Basque, Sarasate; Young Maidens in the Garden, Mompau-Szigeti; Variations on a Brazilian Theme, dedicated to Mr. Odnoposof, Mognonne; Nocturne and Tarantella, Szymanowski. Otto Herz will be at the piano.

At the University of Alberta is an organization of which little has been heard, but which has proved to be of incalculable value in fostering music, and which, it is hoped, will be heard in public performance during the current season. In past years the University Philharmonic Society, with its orchestral concerts, and productions of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas, was the best known of the institution's musical groups. But while the orchestra and the operettas have been suspended for "the duration" the University Choir, for that is the organization to which reference is made, continues on its way.

The choir was organized in 1939 with the original object of performing only religious music. However, secular works now are included in the repertoire. In the current season, the membership had grown to 70, all undergraduates, and the peak in numerical strength to date. There are few if any choirs in the city at present with such an impressive nominal roll.

Under the direction of Gordon F. Clark, the choir expects in the near future to present a program of combined religious, classical and modern music. Mr. Clark, a medical student, studied piano with Mrs. Gladys McKelvie Egbert of Calgary, and obtained his LRSM degree. Also he studied the cello and played that instrument in the Calgary Symphony Orchestra, and last year he played in the Edmonton Civic Opera Society orchestra. He teaches the cello privately. The choir accompanist is Kathleen Sheasby, an education student, who obtained her ATCM in Medicine Hat and later went on to study with Boris Berlin at the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

On Jan. 29 will be presented at the Empire theatre a light opera with one of the best scores of modern times and one that is considered among the finest half-dozen by its world-famous composer: Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta." Since it was produced in 1910 in New York by Oscar Hamerstein with Emma Trentini and Orville Harrold in the leading roles, "Naughty Marietta" has become known throughout the civilized world.

Such songs as I'm Falling in Love With Someone, Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life, Italian Street Song, Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, 'Neath the Southern Moon, Marionettes, Pretty Soft for Simon, and others have been taken into the hearts of the peoples of many lands. Joanne Leonhard will sing the title role and Reed Lawton will be Capt. Dick Warrington. Others in the cast will be Joey Fontaine as Blake, Charles Canale as Silas Slick and Hedy Mueller as Adah. Ralph DeCanio will conduct.

Clement Q. Williams, Australian baritone, will sing at the First Baptist Church auditorium on Feb. 1 and 2 under the auspices of the Women's Association. He will be heard in two complete programs. His wife, known professionally as Enid Conley, will be at the piano Mr. Williams is taking time away from Vancouver, where he kept busy with teaching and radio singing, to make a tour of Western Canada. Oficers of the sponsoring organization report a widespread interest and are anticipating two capacity houses.

Health Services Provided by Sask.

REGINA, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Since Jan. 1 the Saskatchewan government has undertaken to provide full medical, surgical and hospital care and essential drugs for about 25,000 provincial residents under its health services program, Premier T. C. Douglas said in a broadcast address last night. The total includes old age and blind pensioners and their dependents, some 6,000 children and mothers of these children receiving mothers allowances and about 1,000 children who are wards of the government or societies.

Shirley "Kissed"

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Shirley Temple, now 17, got kissed yesterday grown-up fashion for the first time in her movie career. Columbia studio executives, writers and scores of others crowded around for the event, highlight of the aptly-named film "Kiss and Tell."

INJURED IN ACTION.—Capt. Parnell T. Scramstad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel G. Scramstad, 10839 80 avenue, who has been injured in action, according to word received by his parents. The injury was received Jan. 4, but the nature and extent have not been revealed. He was well known as a prominent hockey star here before enlistment and during training days in England, he played on a Canadian Army team.

No-Interest Loans Asked For Veterans

Asking the Dominion government to make all loans to returned servicemen interest-free except in cases where payment is in default, a resolution covering grants to discharged soldiers, sailors and airmen was passed by the United Farmers of Alberta convention here Friday afternoon.

The motion declares bonuses granted by the Dominion upon discharge are not sufficient for rehabilitation purposes, and calls for an interest rate not in excess of three per cent on loan payments in default.

The resolution asks that loans be available "whether for purchase of land and equipment or for any other purpose". When payments have been made regularly for a ten-year period, it further calls on the government to cancel remaining portion of the debt.

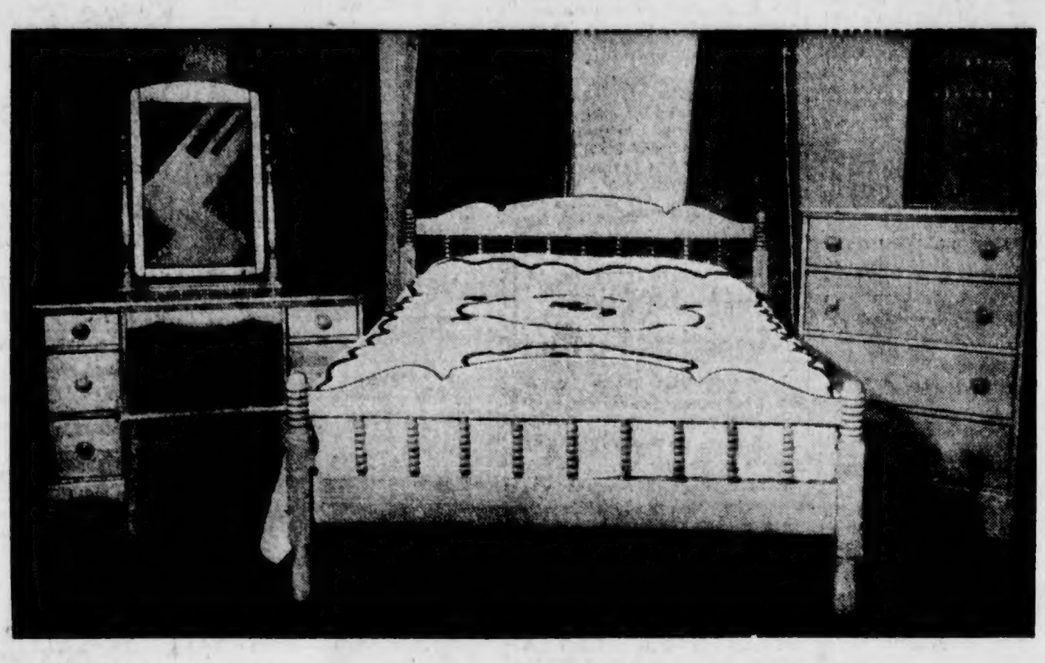

An amendment to the motion called for a free grant of land for returning servicemen, in cases where the soldier wishes to settle on the land, was lost upon vote.

The accepted motion was third re-draft of the original land grant motion brought before the convention by Byemoor local of the UFA.

Learned Civilian Trade

Edmonton Veteran Is "Rehabilitated" By Canadian Army

This is another in The Edmonton Bulletin's series of true stories about Edmonton ex-servicemen now engaged in the hard battle of readjustment and rehabilitation.—EDITOR.

By JACK DeLONG

Steve Jossul, of 11926 44 street, was "rehabilitated" for civilian life while serving in the army. No, the foregoing isn't one of those brain-twisters that are the fad at the moment.

Steve Jossul, who served five years with The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, and his brother, Nicholos "Nick" Jossul, also a former member of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, operates a flourishing shoe repair shop in the rear of Allard's Ltd. Shoe store, at 10083 Jasper avenue.

Steve learned his trade in the army.

Here's how it started said Shoemaker Steve:

"The boys in the regiment were having a bad time with their shoes during the early days of training over in England. Somebody heard I was a pretty handy guy so an officer puts me beside a pile of sick shoes and says:

'Now you're a shoemaker. Go to it.'

TOOK A CRACK AT IT

So I took a crack at it and seemed to get along all right. Later I was sent to take a course in shoemaking and returned to the regiment a full-fledged cobbler."

Steve was badly banged up in a bomb explosion and spent considerable time in hospital overseas. He received his honorable discharge from the service on December 7, 1943.

Before the war he was in a turn a coal miner and truck driver.

He signed up for active service with The Loyal Edmonton Regiment on September 17, 1939. He didn't need to enlist because he already was a member of the Reserve Army unit of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment.

Steve is an enthusiastic sportsman, wrestling and boxing being his specialties. He held the light-

Wins Top Place

Winning top place for highest personal production in Canada for the eleventh time, Investors Syndicate of Canada Ltd. announce the awarding of a trophy to local manager Jon Falkenberg who has been affiliated with the company for the past 16 years. Other representatives of the Edmonton office winning awards were Harvey Briggs, second highest producer in Canada, and Rois Staples who was seventh on the company's honor roll for 1944.

SOLDIER BROTHERS RUN SHOE REPAIR—Steve Jossul, shown above with his brother, Nicholos, thinks he's a pretty lucky fellow. While serving with The Loyal Edmonton Regiment overseas he tried his hand at shoe repairing when the regiment was in a tough spot. Later he took an army training course in the trade. It has paid off handsomely. Now, Steve and his brother, also an original member of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, run a shoe repair shop at 10083 Jasper avenue. Steve is on the left of the picture above with Nick at the right. The brothers are enthusiastic about trade training for ex-servicemen starting anew in civil life.

Club Meetings Honor Memory Robert Burns

Kiwanis club members will hold their annual Burns Day meeting Monday noon at the Macdonald hotel. Scotch songs will be included in the program which Stanley McCuaig, K.C., is arranging. Alex Cunningham will be the speaker and his subject is "Robert Burns, the Prophet."

Junior Optimists will be guests at a dinner meeting and special entertainment given by the Optimist club Thursday at 6.45 p.m.

Cosmopolitan members will hear a talk on "Health and Recreation in Alberta", by Joseph H. Ross of Calgary, director of health and recreation under the Dominion-Provincial Youth Training scheme.

At the Lions' club meeting Thursday, Pte. Ryan of the US AAF will show a film, "Land and Life in the Arctic."

A satirical radio skit, under the direction of Rolfe Barnes and Hal Yerxa will be the feature of the Gyro club program Tuesday.

RECONSTRUCTION TALK

"Alberta Plans for Reconstruction" is the title of the talk which Reg. T. Rose will give to fellow-Rotarians when they meet in the Macdonald next Thursday. Mr. Rose is survey management chairman of the post war reconstruction committee.

T. H. Campbell will be guest speaker at the Y's Men's club meeting Tuesday night when he will pay tribute to Robert Burns.

SERVICE REWARDED. — Above are two Edmontonians serving with the Royal Canadian Air Force overseas, who have been decorated for gallantry and outstanding service. FO. Hall is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Morton E. Hall, 12729 Stony Plain Road, and PO. Shopland's wife lives at 10229 114 street.

A meeting of the trustees of the Muriel Dick Memorial Fund met Thursday evening to discuss the selection of books for the Memorial Library to be established with the fund. The Graphic Arts section of the Allied Arts Council has been asked to arrange for a suitable bookplate for use in the volumes chosen, it was announced by Harold L. Weir, chairman of the Northern Alberta War Services Council.

Three Alberta Men Decorated For Gallantry

Three Edmonton and district men have been honored by awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross and a Distinguished Flying Medal, according to latest award lists announced by RCAF headquarters, Ottawa.

A total of 31 DFC's and five DFM's were awarded. Individual citations are not yet available but in general they were awarded for gallant and distinguished service.

The Alberta recipients are:

DFC

FO. W. S. Hall, 12729 Stony Plain Road.

PO. R. B. Kerr, Langford Park.

DFM

PO. R. W. Shopland, 10229 114 street.

FO. Willard Samuel Hall, 21 years old, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Morton E. Hall, 12729 Stony Plain Road. He is a twin brother of PO. Charles Burnham Hall, who was killed on Nov. 21, 1944.

Born here, PO. Hall attended Glenora and Westglen schools and enlisted in Edmonton, training at Saskatoon, Prince Albert and Macleod.

NAVIGATION COURSE

At Summerside, PEI, he took a navigation course before going to Britain to be with the Coastal Command. In Britain he transferred to the Bomber Command and flew as a bomber pilot in the Ghost Squadron.

PO Robert Wilton Shopland, who is 20 years old, was born at Rochester, northwest of Edmonton, March 3, 1916.

After receiving his education at Rochester, he enlisted with the RCAF in Edmonton in December, 1941. He trained at No. 3 "M" Depot here; at ITS in Saskatoon; Prince Albert, Trenton, Dafoe and Rivers, where he was graduated as a bombardier.

PO. Shopland was commissioned overseas after his first tour of operations. He married Miss Margaret Speers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Speers of Prairieville, who now lives at 10229 114 street.

RCAF Members Given Awards Local Ceremony

Before an audience of 1,000 persons in the drill hall at RCAF Edmonton station Friday evening, three men stationed at North West Air Command and Edmonton station, were decorated by Air Vice Marshal T. A. Lawrence, officer commanding North West Air Command, at an investiture following a concert by the RCAF central band.

Air Vice Marshal Lawrence, accompanied by Group Captain C. G. Durham, MM, Croix de Guerre, Wing Commander H. J. Winny, OBE, and Squadron Leader J. L. Alexander, made the presentations from the concert stage.

First decorated was Flt. Sgt.. H. L. Ogletree, who received the British Empire Medal. The award was given to Flt. Sgt. Ogletree for his valuable work as a member of the maintenance staff of the communications flight at No. 2 Training Command, Winnipeg.

OPERATIONAL WING

Next came Flt. Sgt. G. H. E. Maloney, DFC, who received the operational wing with bar. Group Captain Durham explained that the operational wing is given to men who successfully complete one full tour of operations, and the bar for a second full tour.

This was followed by the award of the oak leaf and royal certificate denoting a "Mention in Despatches" to Sgt. L. Sheving. The award was made for Sgt. Sheving's gallantry some months ago while stationed at the West Coast in assisting, together with six other men, in the rescue of eight out of 14 passengers who had been trapped in a burning aircraft. The aircraft exploded shortly after rescue workers had run clear.

Friday night's concert was received with tremendous enthusiasm by the large audience of officers, airmen, and their guests. Particularly enjoyed were Percy Faith's arrangement of Sousa's "Stars and Stripes", the "Casey Jones Fantasy", by Walters, and the Polka from the Golden Age Ballet, by the great modern Russian composer Shostakovich.

I SAW TODAY.—Neil V. German, walking east on Jasper avenue; AND A. A. Campbell leaving the Civic block; W. V. Wilkin walking north on 101 street; Ald. Fred Mitchell entering the McLeod building; Bert Watson in the Canadian Bank of Commerce building; M. I. Lieberman, KC, leaving it; W. W. Evans chatting with a friend on 100 street; Ivan Robertson leaving the CPR building; F. G. Winspear entering it.

20 Resolutions Are Endorsed By Farm Body

At a session lasting until 11 p.m., 36th annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta, under way here since Tuesday morning, concluded Friday night at the Macdonald hotel.

Dying sitting of the convention saw 20 resolutions endorsed by delegates, another four being rejected after discussion. Wind-up of convention business will be conducted Saturday morning at a session of the organization's board of directors.

Parallel sessions of the United Farm Women of Alberta, women's UFA body, ended Friday afternoon at the hotel. This convention also began Tuesday morning.

MOTIONS PASSED

Among motions passed Friday night was one sponsored by the UFA board which calls on the Dominion government to investigate and remove the causes of unemployment.

M. C. McLachlan, Iddesleigh, speaking in support of the motion, declared "We all know the causes of unemployment. The profit motive is the cause. You won't get anywhere until we get down to producing for the use of all humanity." The resolution carried without objection.

A health insurance motion endorsed by delegates will ask the Dominion government to take steps necessary to provide free admission to public wards of all hospitals in the country. Another requested the province to contribute towards provision of additions to municipal hospitals, to take care of elderly persons who are chronically ill. By terms of a third motion on health matters, the provincial government will be asked to put travelling clinics on the road again, as soon as conditions permit.

Dominion and provincial government investigation into causes of shipping fever in cattle will be requested by a resolution passed at the Friday night sitting. Another concerning livestock welfare will request the province to enact legislation demanding compulsory treatment of cattle for ox warble.

HIGHER NURSES' PAY

Clairmont local submitted a resolution calling for the convention to go on record in favor of higher pay for nurses in training. A suggestion by a delegate that the motion be extended to call for an eight-hour day for such nurses was rejected. The motion passed without addition.

A home for old persons was recommended by another resolution submitted from Clairmont local. Such homes would be established "at suitable locations through the province."

Many Donations For Blood Clinic

During the last week the Red Cross Society mobile blood donors clinic visited Northwest Air Command station and 134 donations were given. Assisting Miss Eelen T. Hugill, RN, nurse in charge, was a voluntary staff, including Mrs. J. J. Ower, Mrs. W. M. McBain, Mrs W. J. Morrison and Mrs. E. Saunders. The clinic staff also was on hand.

Next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday the clinic will be at Lacombe, when it is expected 400 persons will make donations.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

What is your opinion of the proposal to erect an aged persons and chronic treatment hospital in connection with the Royal Alexandra Hospital?

THE ANSWERS

LEN LONDON, salesman: I am of the opinion this is a hospital service long overdue. Decision to erect such an institution this year will meet with general approval.

HARRY FOSTER, clerk: Construction of this hospital will give much needed relief to the congested condition reported in the Royal Alexandra. It also will provide hospital service badly needed in the city.

JAMES CARSON, carpenter: It is a step that should be commended. I notice also that provision of more extensive waiting room facilities is contemplated also. This extension is long overdue.

Be Loyal to Your Local Merchants!

Johnstone Walker's has never lost sight of the fact that the future of Edmonton is, to a very great extent, dependent on the measure of prosperity that is enjoyed by your local merchants in the small towns in the territory north, south, east and west of this great commercial centre, and for this reason Johnstone Walker's has always encouraged out-of-town readers of these columns to patronize hometown merchants as much as possible. It is to your local merchants you look for support of your schools and churches . . . their local taxes make it possible for your local authorities to lay and maintain side-walks and other improvements, and we think you will agree with us they should be given first opportunity to supply your daily needs.

• Johnstone Walker's is an Edmonton-owned and operated store, established in 1886, that has grown up with Edmonton and is quite familiar with the problems of small town and country merchants and doesn't want to deprive them of a good livelihood. . . . But when they say: "Sorry, we haven't what you want." . . . Then, and only then, does Johnstone Walker's suggest that you drop a line to our Mail Order Department, where an experienced shopper is at your service.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Second Marriages Prove Successful

Happiness Depends on Circumstances in the Individual Case; Couple Can Be Happy If They Wish to Be

DEAR MISS DIX: Is the marriage of a divorced man or woman less likely to turn out successfully than a marriage between people in which neither one had been divorced?

WONDERING

ANSWER: It depends altogether upon the individual circumstances in the case. Also about the cause for which the divorce has been granted.

A man, for example, whose wife has divorced him because he was a drunkard or a gambler, or too lazy and trifling to support her, is certainly a poor matrimonial risk for any girl to undertake. Likewise a man has small prospect for happiness who marries a woman whose husband has divorced her because she was a virago or unfaithful to him. People who possess these faults rarely change, and if one man or woman finds them unendurable to live with, another husband or wife would be apt to find them equally difficult.

Generally speaking, both men and women who have been married make better husbands and wives than those who have never been married, and this is true whether they are either grass or sod widows and widowers. Whether a marriage is happy or unhappy, it is a great educational experience and teaches men and women forbearance, self-control, to give and take and to be good sports. Also, in marriage men and women learn not to expect too much of each other and to make excuses for the faults of others as they expect excuses to be made for their own.

And all of this counts in a second marriage: Then, too, in making a second matrimonial venture both men and women are apt to use more judgment in their selection of their mates. They are burnt children who dread the fire. They have been through all the misery and heartaches of living with one who made their lives a torment to them, and they want to be very sure that when they risk their happiness again, they are putting it into the right hands.

And for this reason the divorced man or woman frequently makes an ideal husband or wife and such marriages are often great successes.

HARD TO PLEASE

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married six years and have never had a single peaceful day. My husband continually is finding fault with everything I do. He complains about his food, though I spend hours preparing his meals. He says I don't read enough. Then when I read, he says I am wasting my time and neglecting my housekeeping. He finds fault with me because I am not stylishly dressed, yet when I get a new dress he grumbles over my extravagance How can I please such a man as this?

DISHEARTENED

ANSWER: You can't. A lady angel from heaven couldn't. The only way to deal with that kind of a disgruntled grouch is to let him alone, and go along and do as you wish without referring to him He wouldn't be pleased, anyway, so you might as well please yourself

DEADBEAT

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl with plenty of money, in love with a man who has nothing. I love him so much that naturally I want to make everything easy for him, and when we go out I pay all expenses and even lend him money, which he forgets to pay back.

I am beginning to think that perhaps I am spoiling him and am doing him more harm than good. What do you think?

MARY L.

ANSWER: I think your young man has developed into a first-class deadbeat and that you are demoralizing him. Perhaps no man can resist taking the easiest way and sponging on a woman who lets him, but it is bad for his morale. It makes him a grafter and kills his self-respect.

That is where the trouble comes in when the woman holds the purse instead of the man. It subverts the law of nature which intends that the man should be the provider and not the woman; that the man should be the giver and the woman the receiver. When this order is reversed, it invariably spells disaster.

My advice to you is to quit financing this young man and let him do a little of the spending himself. He is costing you too much if he is costing you your respect for him.

Personal Health Service

WHAT MAKES A MOUTH FILTHY?

'Probably no other country has so many dentists and such well trained ones as the United States," says Prof. Barnett Sure in his book "The Little Things in Life" (Appleton-Century, 1937). "Toothache however, due to abscesses and caries is common everywhere; so are inflamed and swollen gums, which frequently are associated with pyorrhea that results in loose teeth. . . . Clinical observations, however, indicate that the activity and extent of dental caries (decay, cavity-formation) may be quite unrelated to the degree of mouth cleanliness. Relatively clean teeth may be extremely decayed, and filthy mouths may contain sound teeth and healthy gums."

Whatever the Professor meant by "filthy" is beyond my comprehension. But if you ask me, I'll take the "filthy mouth and sound teeth and healthy gums and you may have the "relatively clean" extremely decayed teeth. Here Professor Sure is expressing in polite language what Weston A. Price D.D.S. has so clearly shown in his classical study "Nutrition and Physical Degeneration" (Hoeber of Harper and Bros., '40) and I, in my best bull-in-china-shop style, have been trying for years to pound into the heads of dentists, doctors and people who read this column when they have nothing interesting or instructive to read.

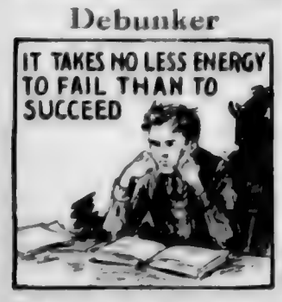

If brushing the teeth regularly could prevent tooth decay the American people should have the best teeth in the world, for surely no other people use toothbrushes and dentifrices as much as Americans do.

In a talk to follow I'll describe what I consider a clean mouth and how to keep it clean. Here I merely confess I don't know what the dentist or the professor means by a "filthy mouth or what makes it filthy", if it is not the presence of cavities in the teeth or atrophy, wasting, degeneration of the gums. I sincerely believe that decay of the teeth (caries, cavity formation) cannot be prevented by the most meticulous use of toothbrush or dentifrice. I believe it can be prevented by good nutrition, good dental treatment and good mastication.

Debunker

It takes energy to fail as well as to succeed, and the amount in either case is about the same as pointed out in the book "Wake Up and Live," by Dorothea Brande, who says that when people fail it is because their energy is poured into wrong channels. Even day-dreaming requires energy, and the same amount might make an inventor of an author if directed into those channels. People who fail devote their energies to time-killing pursuits, worrying and misdirected efforts. Many of them work harder than people who succeed.

NATIONAL ASPIRATIONS

LONDON. — (CP) — Sir William Clark, former British high commissioner to Canada and South Africa, told the Royal Empire Society that those countries were "the two most nationally conscious of the dominions." Despite Canada's small population she would emerge a world power, and independence and "participation" would be her guiding principle.

"I want a volunteer to do the dishes!"

W.I. in Northern Alberta

By MRS. HUGH J. MONTGOMERY—Box 514, Wetaskiwin.

Several institutes report that they are voting funds for the purchase of seeds to be sent to Britain. This effort on the part of the Alberta WI women was greatly appreciated by those receiving the seeds last year and much interest was aroused over the different varieties received and their culture was watched with care as one seed house in Canada sent some special seeds and asked for a report on their growth. WI's intending to send seeds should make preparations early. They may either be sent individually or money may be sent to the provincial treasurer, Mrs. H. J. Montgomery, Wetaskiwin, who will see that seeds are ordered and a record kept of the institutes sending them.

McMillan was guest speaker at the meeting here recently and spoke on "Co-operatives," outlining the work from its beginning and telling of the first successful co-operative formed 100 years ago in Rochdale, England. He told of the sound judgment of the first group of 16 men and its growth to the present time. Mrs. Patterson reported on attending a meeting of the Canadian Legion in connection with the proposed building of a Memorial Hall, and told of its advantages to returned men and the south of the town. Mrs. McMillan presented a tentative program for the year's meetings and received the aproval of the members. The men in uniform were entertained at a dance during the recent holidays. The WI remembered needy families with hampers at Christmas.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN

Mrs. A. A. Williston gave suggestions for packing parcels for prisoners of war when she spoke to the WI recently and read excerpts from her son's letters and portions of the Prisoners of War monthly paper. Officers for 1945 are: Mrs. D. Gablehause, president; Mrs. F. Sherman and Mrs. G. Evans, vice-presidents; Mrs. H. Buyers, secretary, and Mrs. L. Hill, treasurer.

Meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Oatway, members listened to a short explanatory talk on the Provincial Post-War Survey, given by Mrs. R. E. Wood, M.L.A. A bridge party has been arranged for Jan. 25, to take place in the hall.

NAMPA

Although organized late in the year, members have sent parcels overseas to men from the district and already are receiving interesting letters of apreciation which were read at the meeting.

A series of community whist drives will add to funds. Ditty bags have been packed and refugee clothing is being collected.

Mr. Cornish, MLA of Vegreville, was the speaker and gave a talk on citizenship. Showers of garments suitable for babies and older children are features of meetings and the Red Cross is receiving its share of the gifts. A quilt, socks and a jacket were sent to the Navy League.

Mrs. W. Griener, the newly elected president, presided and arrangements were made to hold a card party at Mrs. McMillan's. The program for the year was discussed and the present system of work will be carried on for another year.

Members will start their funds by holding a dance some time this month. They will also hold a card party in aid of the Red Cross. Members are busy knitting for the Navy League.

Mrs E. Mortensen read articles by Clare Wallace when the WI met at the home of Mrs. H. Scheeler this month. The hostess showed how to decorate pottery. A bingo party added to the funds and plans are under way to hold a Valentine tea and sale of small articles on Feb. 10. Mrs E. Arnholtz was in charge of the social hour.

FAWCETT

Birthday cakes were sent by the WI to two friends who have passed their three score and ten years. A dance is being held on Feb. 16 when a box social will take care of the supper arrangements.

Mrs. McCann was winner of a contest that followed. The February meeting will be held at the home of Miss Gavin.

While members made a quilt for the Red Cross and other sewing was distributed, members enjoyed hearing letters read from soldiers overseas who had received parcels packed by the WI.

BRUCE

A special meeting was held to gather clothing for refugees and to work on quilts. A series of card parties will furnish funds for home comforts to be sent overseas.

FIVE POINT

The secretary, Mrs. Calder, spoke on matters pertaining to the running of a home when the WI met to arrange for work meetings.

Members spent most of the time at a recent meeting in drawing up the year's program. They will add to the funds by serving lunches at an auction sale.

KINUSO WI GIRLS' CLUB

The girls cleared more than forty dollars at a dance. Magazines will be exchanged among the members this year, thus giving more enjoyment. During the meeting Mrs. Roe gave a short talk on how the girls may by kindness add to home enjoyment.

PENHOLD WI GIRLS' CLUB

The Boy Scouts were invited to join in a skating party held recently. Afterwards the girls and their guests went to the home of one of the members for lunch. Mrs. McGorman was a visitor at the meeting and was presented with a cup and saucer. The next meeting will be held at the home of Marie Valence.

EAGLE HILL WI GIRLS' CLUB

Making a New Year's resolution for the person sitting opposite was an amusing part of the entertainment when the club met at the Ronneberg home. A singsong completed the program.

DANCING DAISIES, INNISFAIL

Meeting at the home of Mrs. McCann, the girls planned to raise funds with which to pack more ditty bags. Afterwards they enjoyed a social hour and lunch.

A donation was voted towards the building of a Memorial Hall in Grande Prairie. An interesting program has been arranged for the year.

ROSE WILLOW

An afghan has been made by the members and will be sold to add funds to the treasury. Mrs. Harry Olson will act as correspondent for the local paper, giving WI news.

Minute Make-Ups

The Transparent Bag is a Hollywood rage! But you must keep the contents neat! Big white handkerchiefs, with bold hand-done initials in Black, are a MUST! Suspenders of bright ribbons hold up your suit skirt. Turtle-neck sweaters are now in the Glamor class! Ribbon bows are used anywhere and everywhere.

McKenney On Bridge

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

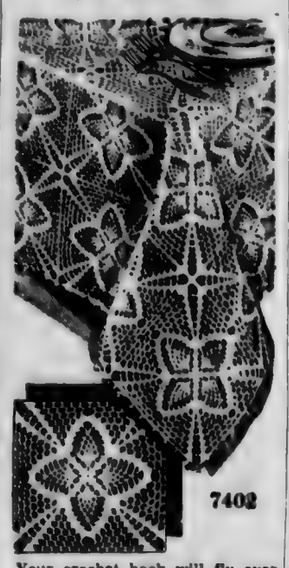

Several weeks ago I stated that Art Goldsmith had become Life Master No. 41. I was wrong at the time as he still needed one point. However, I am correct today in stating that when he finished second with Aaron Frank in the Open Pair Championship at Atlantic City, he filled the requirements and is now Life Master No 41. He is a quiet but very careful player.

I liked the way he handled the queens in today's hand. East won the opening lead with the king, returned a spade, which West won with the ace, and then led back a spade. Goldsmith won with the queen and then cashed the ace of hearts. His next play was the ten of hearts which East won. East returned a spade and Goldsmith was careful to discard dummy's queen of diamonds. West returned the queen of clubs. Now Goldsmith cashed the ace and king of clubs and then ran hearts. West could not protect the jack of clubs and the king of diamonds.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Bad habits are so easily adopted and so difficult to erase that parents, once they indulge them, wish mightily they never had. Even though the baby has slept alone for most of his short life, if a mother just once or twice allows the child to come into her bed, she is apt to have a child who cries nightly because he cannot have that privilege. This might not happen if the child were sick, but the well child who gets fussy and wants some special attention snaps quickly into the habit of being put in his parents' bed and wants more of the same.

It is the same with rocking or almost any habit connected with sleep. It seems so very much easier for the child to acquire a bad habit than to pursue the ones to which he has been accustomed. The habits are so pleasurable because they get him not only sleep but the personal attention of some adult and it takes no effort to build up a desire for that.

Children cultivate so many bad habits associated with sleep. The baby won't go to sleep without a bottle in his hand. The child has to have his thumb at bedtime. The one blanket must be on the bed summer or winter, though the child roast under it. The sheet is the baby's pacifier.

All of these habits grow up subtly until one fine day they have the children in their grip. And then it is all the parents can do to loosen their hold.

The time to be self-conscious about such habits is when they are being formed. Maybe it is more convenient to put the baby in bed with the bottle. Then mother doesn't have to hold it. But there is sure to come a day when bottles should be abandoned. They could be, if the child didn't have to have one at sleepy time.

Rocking is a sentimental ceremony. Mothers love it until their children cannot do without it. Then, they demand help in overcoming it.

All the bedtime soothers become inseparable from the act of going to sleep, so that one had best be very certain whether in the beginning they are habits one wants the child to continue indefinitely.

In fact, it's awfully smart to think through to next month or next year and determine whether the habit a parent is complacent about now may not be one that will enslave her as well as the child in the future.

My leaflet, "Curing Bad Habits," suggests some techniques for weakening habits. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-adressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, in care of this newspaper.

Hi-School Hi-Lights

SCONA

By Sheila Leslie

Sale of tickets for the Scona Drama Club presentation which opened Monday, indicate a record attendance at the play, which will be held in the Garneau auditorium Feb. 7, 8 and 9. This year the club will present the stage version of Sally Benson's "Junior Miss," under the direction of Miss Maimie Simpson, assisted by George McFarlane.

The Girls' House League Basketball League at Scona is reported well under way with Sheila Barnea, Phyllis Con, Doreen Duncan, Eileen Hatch and Evelyn Richardson as captains.

The school exceeded all other city High schools in the total sales of War Savings Stamps.

VICTORIA

By Peggy Johnson

Something new has been added! Wednesday afternoon Vic's latest innovation, a Milk Bar, was opened in the main hall. This makes it possible for those who bring their lunches to have either a pint or a half-pint of milk with their meals. The bar is doing a roaring business.

Final preparations are being made for Vic's forthcoming show, "Vic Varieties," which will be presented on Jan. 24, 25, 26 and 27. Included in this major production of the year will be vocal and instrumental solos, dancing, and several novelty numbers.

This week the Senior Girls chalked up two victories—14-6 against University High, and 21-12 against the YWCA Bees. On Wednesday the Junior Boys were in top form, when they trounced Commercial's hoopsters 39-9. The Senior Boys, however, lost to Dunn's Tailors by a score of 40-26.

A bowling club has been organized, with Ken Anderson as president. Sixteen teams have been formed, and will bowl every Tuesday and Friday, eight teams a day.

Boys pushing baby-carriages down Jasper, Romeo yelling across 101 Street at Juliet, boys cleaning sidewalks with spoons—such sights brought smiles to many a face as 15 boys were recently initiated into Vic's Hi-Y.

WESTGLEN

By Bill McLeod

Hockey practices began this week at the Westmount rink. A large number of boys turned up for bantam and junior practice on Wednesday while Friday saw the seniors picking out a team. This season Westglen will be defending the bantam cup which it won last season.

War Stamp sales are still climbing and expectations are that the objective will be reached this week.

Practices and constructions for "June Mad," a three act comedy, are well under way. The play will be presented in mid-February by the Dramatics Club under the direction of Miss Manser.

Orders for school sweaters are large but only a few will be able to be filled and then not until March.

McDOUGALL

By Deby Taradash

The combined talent and quiz "Lit," held Friday in the gym, was proclaimed a success by the student body as well as the teaching staff. The literary committee did a fine piece of work in putting over this affair.

In an effort to raise the total of War Savings Stamps for the month of January, stamps were given away as prizes in the quiz program.

A short skit presented by the students of Room 17, a Grade 10 room, highlighted the program. Among the soloists were Dave Bembow, piano; Dorothy McMillan and Joyce Edmundson, accompanied by Pat Campbell, vocal; and Joan Wicklund, piano. Another feature of the program was an amusing musical sketch performed by the Drama Club. The program was ended by the singing of God Save the King played by Arlene Jones. The flag salute was led by George Zimmer.

The House League hockey team, under the able coaching of Earl Garlough, has started the season with a game held between Rooms 13 and 14, the score was 11-0 in favor of Room 13. The match was so one-sided, that the goal-keeper only had two shots. In a game held Tuesday, after school, between Rooms 16 and 17, the victor was Room 16 with a score of 9-5.

The second issue of the Chronicle, school magazine, was received with much enthusiasm by the students.

EASTWOOD

By Linnea Vikman

A blaze of color and temple-throbbing noise greeted our Eastwood scholars as they entered the gym Tuesday noon. No! nothing serious had happened. The event was the first "learn to dance" session of our Swing Club. A large number of boys and girls learned to execute the graceful waltz, and less dainty two-step, under the leadership of Mr. Clark, the dancing master. This club is expected to rival in popularity our new established clubs, including public speaking, ISCF, chess, orchestra and Gazette management.

Basketball house leagues are going strong, and hot, tired, dishevelled contestants are seen streaming into classes after a hard tussle. Games have been started on a new schedule by both the boys and girls' teams. Gerry de Graves' Hot Shots and L. Stevens' team won the last set of play-offs.

The rising journalists of the Gazette staff met on Wednesday to put into practical use some of the knowledge gained from last week's talk by Mr. Daley of Hamly Press. The next edition is expected to be in print early in February.

Something definitely has been missing around Room 18 for the last couple of weeks. Latin and Algebra haven't been quite the same without our favorite Mr. Sim. We've been fortunate, however, in having Mrs. Crawford as a substitute. We hope to have Mr. Sim greet us in his familiar place on Monday morning.

ST. MARY'S

By June Lovette

Students of St. Mary's have been busily searching through the family snapshot albums, hoping to ferret out prize-winning entries for the snapshot competition that has been underway since the beginning of January. As more than 40 entries have been received a heavy task lay ahead for the judges—Miss Boyko and Mr. Burke.

The executive has been forming tentative plans for the forthcoming Valentine party.

Owing to war conditions, the much-needed school sweaters as yet have not been delivered. To the students who are always inquiring—they are coming!

War stamp charts indicate that the students are still showing a lively interest in this national service.

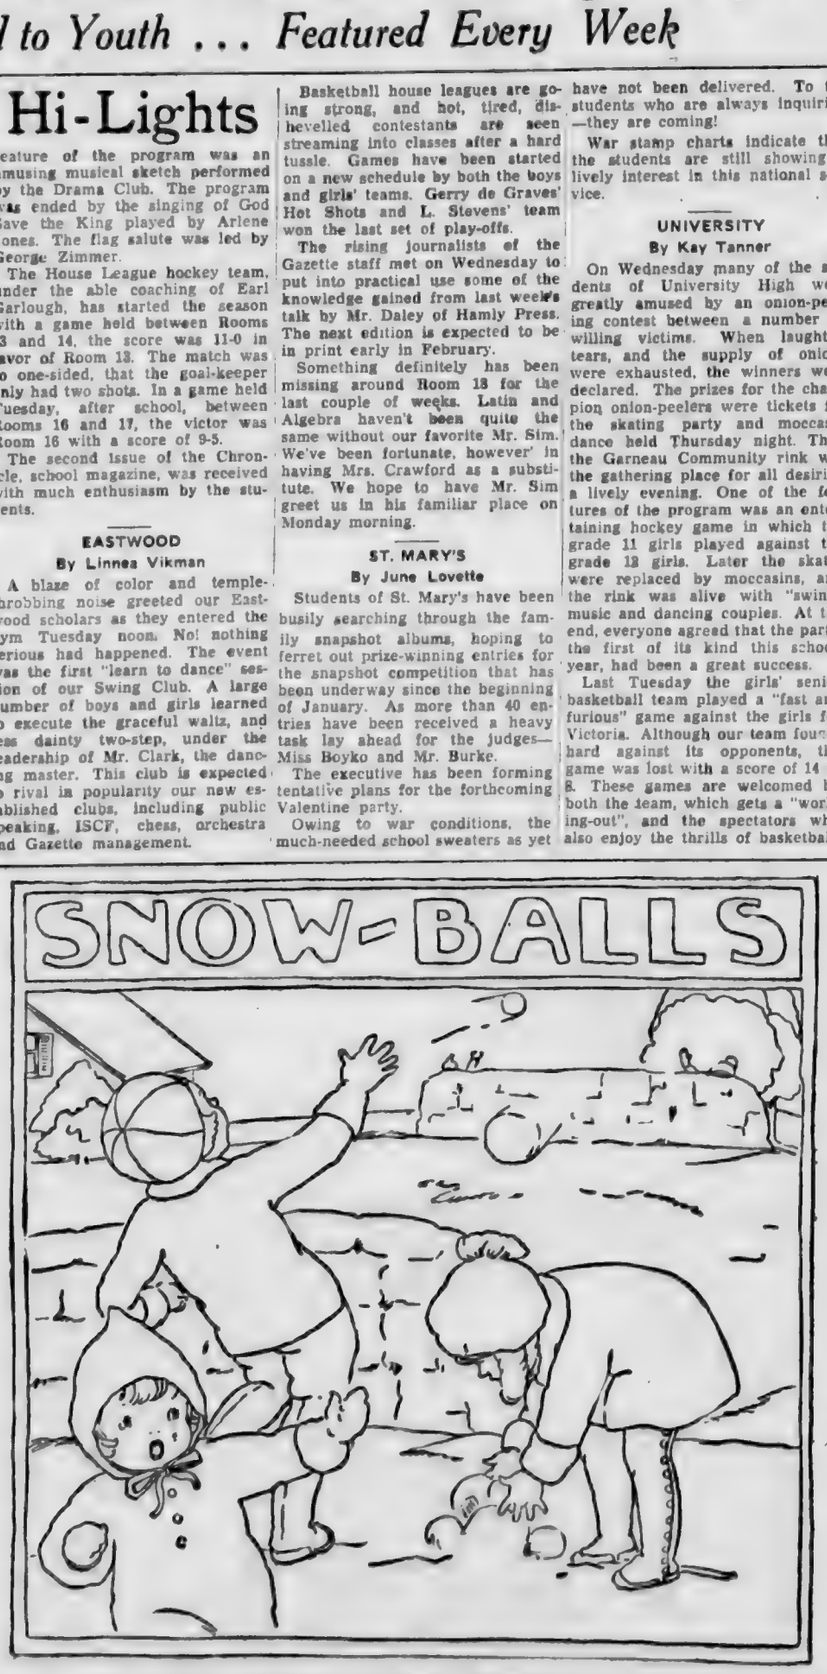

UNIVERSITY

By Kay Tanner

On Wednesday many of the students of University High were greatly amused by an onion-peeling contest between a number of willing victims. When laughter, tears, and the supply of onions were exhausted, the winners were declared. The prizes for the champion onion-peelers were tickets for the skating party and moccasin dance held Thursday night. Then the Garneau Community rink was the gathering place for all desiring a lively evening. One of the features of the program was an entertaining hockey game in which the grade 11 girls played against the grade 13 girls. Later the skates were replaced by moccasins, and the rink was alive with "swing" music and dancing couples. At the end, everyone agreed that the party, the first of its kind this school-year, had been a great success.

Last Tuesday the girls' senior basketball team played a "fast and furious" game against the girls for Victoria. Although our team fought hard against its opponents, the game was lost with a score of 14 to 8. These games are welcomed by both the team, which gets a "working-out", and the spectators who also enjoy the thrills of basketball.

SNOW-BALLS

To be colored with paints or crayons. (Whenever you come to a word spelled in CAPITAL letters use that color.)

"Here's a high flyer!" shouts BROWN-haired Teddy, sending a big snowball a-flying. Teddy wears long RED gauntlet gloves, and his cap is RED and GREEN. His sweater is BROWN, just the color of his hair. He has BLUE trousers, and his shoes and leggings are BROWN, too.

"Whoop-ee!" cries Susie May, tossing her long YELLOW curls. "There goes a big one right over my head! I'm mighty glad I have my woolly RED tam-o-shanter on the snow flies so!"

Susie May's coat and leggings are dark GREEN but her gloves are RED like Teddy's.

"O-O!" cries little Bobby. "O, dearie me, I must run or one of those big snowballs will catch up with me!"

Bobby wears a light BLUE suit and pointed hood. His hair is YELLOW, so are his mittens and the bow under his chin. Teddy, Susie May and Bobby have RED cheeks and PINK (use RED lightly) noses and chins.

"Ya, Ya!" cry the children behind the other snow fort. You can see a pointed GREEN cap on one side and a PURPLE tam-o-shanter on the other. They belong to Joe and Polly. Joe wears GREEN mittens and a BROWN coat, while Polly wears an ORANGE (use RED and YELLOW mixed) color coat and mitts. The snow forts can be shaded with light BLUE.

There is a YELLOW house with BROWN roof and shutters. The tree beside the house is GREEN beneath the cap of snow. The sky is BLUE. Two other snow-capped trees, quite GREEN too, can be seen behind Polly.

UFA Central Co-Operative Is Discussed With Farm Women

W. J. Hoppins, speaking to the United Farm Women of Alberta at the Friday session of the 28th annual convention in the Macdonald hotel, discussed briefly with them, some aspects of the co-operative branch, UFA Central Co-operative Association.

Mr. Hoppins is supervisor of the oil department, UFA Central Co-operative association.

He said he felt it vital that the farm women appreciate the importance of this enterprise and the influence which it can have in strengthening farm organization generally.

The foundation of the UFA Central Co-operative was laid in 1931, he said, by the action of the annual convention of that year, in setting up a committee to investigate the possibility of consolidating the purchasing power of the Alberta farmer.

SHARES IN TRUST

The convention acting on the recommendation of the investigating committee incorporated a subsidy of the United Farmers of Alberta, the UFA Central Co-operative Association. This organization was financed and backed by the funds of the parent organization, who hold the shares in trust.

Mr. Hoppins stressed the necessity of preserving a proper balance between labor, capital and the primary producer, pointing out, this balance could only be accomplished by further organization and consolidation of the position of the farmer and his co-operative institutions.

Miss Alice Stevens women's editor of "Country Life" and laboratory technician with Bulman's Ltd., at Vernon, B.C., spoke to the ladies at the morning session. She said there are nutrition services in Ottawa and also nutrition groups across Canada which are making people nutrition conscious.

She mentioned Canadian food rules and asked "how many of the people actually have followed the rules?" One of the rules is two vegetables to be served daily besides potatoes, emphasizing raw and leafy green vegetables.

BOOKLET

She mentioned a booklet "Food Consumption Levels" which would be good for study groups. This book gives comparison of food consumption in Canada, Britain and the United States. She said food consumption had improved since the war and there is an 18 per cent increase in consumption of milk and milk products and 12 per cent increase in meat consumption and 22 per cent in egg consumption. There is an 18 per cent decrease in the consumption of sugar, four per cent increase in potatoes, two per cent decrease in leafy green, and yellow vegetables, and four per cent decrease in root vegetables. She said these figures are rather startling.

Fresh vegetables are the best to eat but dehydrated ones run a close second. Dehydrated vegetables are shipped overseas, preferably in the small cans. The first dehydrated products were not very satisfactory but modern science has now discovered new methods.

A panel discussion by the Alberta Advisory Committee to Wartime Prices and Trade Board was held. Those taking part were Mrs. F. C. Butterworth, Mrs. W. E. Stuart, Mrs. Tremblay and Mrs. A. H. Rogers. Mrs. Butterworth said there was grave danger of prices rising immediately after the war as they did after World War I. An impersonation of the woman who tramps from store to store spreading rumors of shortages was made of which there are too many at large today. There is a shortage of children's underwear due to the needle trade shortage it was stated. Children's shoes are much lighter in weight now due to the Canadian cattle hides which they are being made out of.

It was suggested that each local appoint a liaison officer between their locals and the Alberta WPTB. Leaflets will be sent to these officers so that information can be passed along.

MUNICIPAL HOSPITALS

Several resolutions were passed. It was decided to ask the provincial government to contribute toward providing the necessary accommodation as an addition to the present municipal hospitals to provide a place to care for elderly people who are chronically ill and need care.

The UFO Co-operative stores in Calgary and elsewhere were said to be filling a real need and it was to the advantage of the UFA to extend the business of the Co-op stores. It was resolved that these stores be supported in every way.

It was understood that there is a need of standard readers and history text books for all provinces, and teachers and students moving from one province to another are handicapped by the difference in courses taught, so members resolved that a recommendation be made to the provincial government to work toward a system of education for all subjects in all provinces and that text books be furnished at cost.

VD TESTS

It is felt that future generations should be protected from the scourage of venereal disease, and a resolution was passed that the government enact legislation to make pre-marital and pre-natal venereal disease tests obligatory and see that this law be rigidly enforced throughout every province in the dominion. It was resolved that a request be made to the government to make it compulsory that a certificate by blood test of freedom from venereal disease be produced befor a marriage license is granted.

Certain people are known typhoid carriers and as such are a continual menace to all people. A certain procedure is known to render these carriers harmless in most cases, so it was resolved that the provincial government be asked to insist that all known carriers be required to submit to this protective procedure, the expense of such to be borne by the provincial government thereby benefitting the people generally.

STAMP OUT

It was resolved to ask the government to continue its educational work regarding stamping out venereal disease. Picture show films and radio programs suitable for children under certain ages should be under stricter censorship, it was resolved. The present old age pension is simply a pauper's dole and pitifully inadequate, therefore it was also resolved that the Dominion government be asked to pay to everyone who reaches the age of 65, $50 a month for life.

There is no agricultural course open to farm young people attending high school, so it was resolved that the department of education add an agricultural course to the regular high school course. As domestic science is one of the advantages girls in junior high schools in rural areas do not have the opportunity to enjoy, it was resolved that the department of extension send out visiting graduates in household economics to carry on short courses.

MORE SCHOLARSHIPS

It was decided that more scholarships and bursaries be made available to deserving students, as many of the young people are deprived of higher education owing to financial reason. As farm children have not equal opportunity to continue high school courses with those who live in the cities and towns is was resolved that the government be used to give grants to school divisions towards building and assisting in the establishment of high school dormitories for students, under proper supervision.

Another resolution dealt with a simplified co-operative system, incorporating the credit union system, teaching beneficial savings as business principles to students be used in the school for the purpose of obtaining school supplies and other necessities, as the theory of co-operation is on the curriculum and being taught in the schools. Farmers' incomes fluctuate greatly from year to year owing to varying weather conditions, so members asked that the average income over a five-year period would be a fairer basis on which to compute the income tax.

Members will ask the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to make available more common kitchen towels and children's clothing. It was resolved to ask the government to further increase the supply of essential dry goods and curtail the supply of non-essential garments. A resolution was passed that protest should be made against the manufacture of non-essentials and the government be asked to immediately make available more children's garments, kitchen towels, elastic, fasteners, etc.

Mrs. Winnifred Ross, president, was in the chair.

Pink baby chrysanthemums decorated the altar of St. Alphonsus church Saturday at 10 a.m. for the marriage of Miss Marie McNeill, eldest daughter of Mrs Joseph McNeil and the late Mr McNeil of Edmonton, and Sgt. John Edward Coventry, RNZAF, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Coventry of Waimate, South Canterbury, N.Z. The Rev. Father Albert O'Brien cousin of the bride, officiated at the ceremony

The bride, given in marriage by Thomas Dawson, wore a bridal gown of white satin fashioned with a full skirt, pleated bodice with lace yoke, sweetheart neckline and long fitted sleeves ending in lily points over the wrists. Her trailing veil of fine net was held to her head with a Mary Queen of Scots head dress. She carried a bouquet of American beauty roses and wore a gold cross, a gift from the bridegroom

ATTENDANTS

Miss Kathleen and Doreen McNeil, sisters of the bride were bridesmaids. They wore identically styled gowns of taffeta, made with gathered skirts, fitted bodices sweetheart necklines and short puffed sleeves. They wore chapel length veils, matching their frocks held in place with sweetheart head dresses with streamers and rosettes falling over their hair at the back They carried spring bouquets. The former was dressed in pink and the latter in blue

Leonard Sobkow and LAC Darcy Packwood, RNZAF, were groomsmen. Walter McNeill, brother of the bride, ushered the guests to their places in the church

After the ceremony a reception to 25 guests was held at the home of the bride's mother, 12124 86 street. The bride's table was set in white lace centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Slender blue and pink tapers flanked the centrepiece. Pink roses completed the table decorations

TOAST

The Rev. Father C. S. O'Sullivan proposed the bridal toast

Mrs. McNeil, the bride's mother receiving with the bridal party, was dressed in a navy blue afternoon frock worn with light blue accessories. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses pinned at her shoulder Miss Frances McNeil, sister of the bride, also received, dressed in a street length frock of gold wool with blue accessories, and corsage of Talisman roses

Later the couple left on a wedding trip to Banff. For travelling the bride changed to a blue velvet frock with blue hat and accessories She topped her ensemble with a muskrat coat. On their return they will leave for Waimate, South Canterbury, N.Z., where they will make their home

Edmonton Wives Busy Improving Homes, Furniture

The Classified Department of The Edmonton Bulletin is catering as much as possible to the housewives of Edmonton and district

In the spring, housewives don old clothes and go through their homes with dust mop and dust pan, wax and new wall paper and in general make ready for the summer. In the winter months and early spring they have furniture, rugs, drapes, etc., repaired, re-upholstering done, clothing made and remodelled, appliances repaired and pictures framed This is all done during the indoor season when one feels like indoor work.

If you are engaged in any business that has a special appeal to the housewives of this city and district, now is the time to make it known in the Classified Columns of The Edmonton Bulletin

Advertising business in The Bulletin want ads costs little for the amount of publicity it receives, and if you are not an advertiser yet, then now, or the near future is the time to stop hiding your light under a bushel basket.

Mother, Mix Your Own Cough Syrup. It's Fine

Gives Quick Relief. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

This well-known medicine, mixed in your own kitchen, costs very little, but it gives delightful, swift-acting relief from coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare—it's so easy anyone can do it. And it saves a real money maker.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle and add your syrup. Thus you make 16 ounces of really splendid cough syrup and it gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time, and children love its taste.

And for quick, satisfying relief you'll say it's really splendid. It has a double-fold action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, helps clear air passages. You'll be delighted by its prompt, pleasing results.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a well-known and reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it doesn't please you.

Beautifully Yours

Reynolds Manufacturing Company Opens New Factory

Every Modern Convenience Used to Gain Efficiency, Provide Workers' Comfort

The busy hum of cutting and sewing machines fills the air at the new factory building of the Reynold's Manufacturing Co., Ltd., 10028 102 street, as a steady stream of garments is turned out of the bright airy workrooms. The company moved to its new quarters about three weeks ago and production continued almost uninterrupted.

HEADS FIRM.—H. N. Reynolds, president of the Reynolds Manufacturing Company, whose new offices and plant have been opened at 10028 102 street.

Constructed at a cost of about $35,000 the factory is a two storey building of re-inforced concrete, and also houses another business firm. Every modern convenience has been utilized to the utmost in the layout of the plant to increase its efficiency and provide for the comfort of workers.

Air-conditioned throughout, the factory boasts many windows which line one whole wall of the cutting room and the sewing room, providing long hours of daylight, and artificial lighting is done through the use of large flourescent fixtures. The new building provides 4,000 square feet of floor space.

BRIGHT ROOM

Show windows, a bright reception room and office occupy the front of the building and in the rear is the factory. The cutting floor is located on a mezzanine floor above the sewing room and juts out at the back of the building where a second storey loading platform is located.

Harold N. Reynolds and his son, Lloyd, operate the factory which turns out about 50,000 utility garments every year.

Harold N. Reynolds has had 28 years' experience in the garment manufacturing business and he said, "Our construction of this plant demonstrates our faith in this business and our faith in the future of Edmonton."

The company was formed in 1928 and since that time has grown from a staff of three until at the present time there are 23 employees engaged in the manufacture of all types of washable garments, including smocks, overalls, tie-luggers, coats and pants and sports garments of many types.

Experts in the manufacture of clothing to meet the rigorous demands of the northland the company has been making garments, sleeping bags and other equipment for northern workers since about 1930.

A SPECIALTY

For many years they have specialized in making parkas and were among the first to produce the utility parka which is so widely used in this area today.

In 1942 at the height of the rush of construction workers to the Alaska Highway and Canol projects, the company manufactured 12,000 parkas on a rush order from contracting companies employed on the works, and turned them out at a rate of 250 a day.

Since then many orders have been received from the United States from people who have seen the parkas on friends. However Lloyd Reynolds pointed out that the lengthy red-tape involved in exporting made it impossible to fill the orders.

In the cutting-room electric cutters simplify the task of turning out so many thousands of garments. Up to six inches of material can be cut at one time. In the factory there is just about every type of modern machine used in the manufacture of garments, including machines which embroider company names, and do almost "hand-done" looking fancy work, and a machine which sews on buttons.

The company intends in the near future to carry a complete line of men's utility wear as a result of improved facilities in the new quarters.

During the last four years the company has made the gym suits for the Dominion-Provincial Youth Training Plan, some few thousand of them, and each made to individual measurements. They have also provided gym suits for Public school students in the city, in addition to outfitting many of the city's hockey, rugby and other sports teams.

MOSTLY IN WEST

Garments manufactured by Reynolds go largely to the three western provinces, British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, although orders have been filled for people in India and California, for hot-climate clothing.

Bulk of the factory's production provides clothing for garage and service station attendants, hospital workers, railroads, creameries and packing houses. In addition to garments for the workers the factory also turns out thousands of strainers and special processing cloths for creameries and packing plants.

During these war years the factory has provided a valuable public service in replacing zippers in garments. Many people from all over the district have sent in coats, bag and other equipment which had been rendered useless because the zipper had worn out and had new ones put in at the Reynolds workshop, giving new life to the article.

The factory employs three cutters and 18 seamstresses working at capacity to turn out almost 1,500 garments each week of the year.

MODERN FACTORY FOR GARMENTS—Reynolds' Manufacturing Co., Ltd., has moved into its news quarters in this modern factory building at 10028 102 street. The company constructed the factory last fall at a cost of about $35,000. Built of re-inforced concrete it employs every modern convenience for the comfort of employees and efficient production, including fluorescent lighting and air conditioning.

Electrification Of Rural Areas To Be Delayed

Any program of rural electrification in Alberta is improbable until 1946, Prof. Andrew Stewart, University of Alberta, Friday afternoon, told delegates to the United Farmers of Alberta convention, held at the Macdonald hotel.

Prof. Stewart, a member of the Research Council of Alberta and of the provincial power commission, reported on results of an electrification survey conducted recently in 18 townships scattered through the province.

"Two-thirds of the province lies within a 12-mile range of existing power transmission facilities," Prof. Stewart said. He estimated there were 66,000 farms in the province, and the average construction cost to bring electricity to 30,000 of them would be $600 a farm.

COSTS ESTIMATED

There would be an average of 1.35 farms per mile of line, the convention was told. Overhead would be $2.88 a month of $600, while operating costs would be approximately $2 a month. "That is the cost a month before you obtain any energy," said Prof. Stewart. He said the larger consumption per farm, the easier it would be to inaugurate a rural electrification plan.

After a question period subsequent to Prof. Stewart's address, two resolutions on the subject of rural electrification were endorsed by the convention. Both urged the new Alberta Power Commission to begin electrification projects in various parts of the province.

During discussion on the motions, one delegate suggested last year's floods of the Pembina and Paddle rivers could have been avoided by power dams located near Sangudo. The banks of the rivers were high enough in this area to permit such construction, and millions of dollars of damage would have been prevented, he said.

The motions passed without dissension.

Two-War Veteran Dies in Northland

Lt.-Col. Charles Richard Foote Harrison, DSO, MC, D... of the Great British Army ... two World Wars died a... Yellowknife, Jan. 17, after suffering a stroke.

Lt.-Col. Harrison was well known in northern mining circles and at the time of his death was employed as accountant with the Giant Yellowknife Mining company. He has no known relatives in Canada and is survived by his widow and two sons in England.

Col. Harrison came to Canada in 1926 and went right into the northern mining district. At the outbreak of war he returned to Britain to take his commission in the Royal Tank Corps. He served at Dunkirk, Greece, Crete, North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

Wounded at the Anzio beachhead, he received his discharge about a month ago. During the Great War of 1914-1918 he served in the Royal Air Force.

His body will be flown to Edmonton, and a Masonic funeral with military honors will be held next week. Howard and McBride are in charge of arrangements.

A Recreation Supervisor describes conditions in Newfoundland: "You can hardly believe the dreariness that confronts the boys in outlying detachments. Cape ——, for example is a station of about twenty men on a bleak mountain top inaccessible most of the winter. The men have to contend with inadequate rations, frozen pipe lines and a constant wind of 40 to 70 miles per hour that makes them crawl between buildings to avoid being blown over the 2,000-foot cliff. Books are a 'must' for these boys—they need all they can get."

A Nursing Sister writes the I.O.D.E. from Italy: "I would like to tell you how delighted I and the other Canadian girls with this unit were when your splendid parcel of books arrived. They will help pass many an hour during the cold wet weather which is starting in earnest now. We find it almost impossible to get reading material for either ourselves or our patients. Thank you so much!"

There's Still a Job to Be Done...

Over a million books have been given to the Forces by the I.O.D.E. already—more than 234,000 last year alone. But thousands more are still urgently needed, and still more will be required for use in military hospitals long after Victory is won. You can help this important work by making a cash donation now to the I.O.D.E. You can help throughout the coming months, too, by donating books from your own library.

Prices For Rye Are Irregular

WINNIPEG, Jan. 20—(CP)—Influenced by weaker trends on the Chicago market, rye futures prices today traded irregularly on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Continued favorable war news was held responsible for the weaker trend on the southern market.

Trade was scattered here and prices closed ⅛ - 1⅛ cents lower with the May at 1.16¾; July 1.12⅛, Oct. 107.

Shippers reported 50,000 bushels of oats and 200,000 bushels of barley sold for shipment to eastern Canada.

Chicago's Grains Weaken at Close

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Grain futures markets recovered some of their early losses after mid-session today but the rally failed to hold and most prices were sharply lower. Rye and barley's suffered the worst setbacks.

General liquidation at the start, attributed to favorable war news and weakness of the cotton market, uncovered stop-loss orders.

Wheat lost more than a cent before commission house buying stopped the decline.

At the finish wheat was ⅛ - 1⅛ lower. Corn was off ½ - ⅞, oats were ⅛ - ⅞ lower, rye was off 1⅛ -3, barley was off 1⅛ - 2.

Livestock

Weekly report from the Edmonton Stockyards for week ending Jan 19.

Receipts:	Cattle	Calves	Hogs	Sheep
Today	171	23	800	129
Week	2762	203	2458	710

Under liberal receipts the forepart of the week, trading opened slow, but closed active, due to somewhat lighter offerings and a keener interest by local packer buyers. Salesmen generally were able to maintain values on all classes of good heavy butcher cattle and a good clean-up was expected of this particular class. Plain and in-between kinds, however, were slow and hard to move at prices from 25c per cwt. to 50c per cwt. lower for the week. The bulk of the good to choice steers sold from $11.00 to $11.50 per cwt., with the really choice kinds realizing $11.75 per cwt. Choice butcher heifers traded from $10.50 down, with the light weight heifers definitely under pressure. The cow market firmed slightly and at the close of trading the bulk of the good cows were selling from $7.25 to $8.25, with fat heifery kinds topping $8.50 per cwt. Bulls were steady throughout trading from $5.00 to $7.00 per cwt., and extreme tops at $7.25 per cwt.

The following are the quotations:

CATTLE—
Good-choice fed calves	11.00	to	11.75
Good-choice steers	11.00	to	11.75
Fair-medium steers	9.25	to	10.00
Common to fair steers	8.00	to	9.00
Good-choice heifers	10.00	to	10.50
Fair-medium heifers	8.00	to	9.00
Common to fair heifers	7.00	to	8.00
Good cows	7.50	to	8.50
Fair to medium cows	6.50	to	7.50
Common to fair cows	5.00	to	6.50
Canners-cutters	2.50	to	4.50
Bulls	5.00	to	7.00
STOCKERS AND FEEDERS—
Good to choice	8.00	to	8.50
Common to fair	5.50	to	7.50
Stock Heifers	6.50		down
Stock cows	5.50		down

Stockers and feeders of suitable quality in fair demand, a few short-keeps selling around $9.00 per cwt., the bulk steers trading from $8.00 to $8.50. Common kinds not wanted and are being sold to packers as boners, at definitely low values. Heifers $6.50 down. Cows $5.50 down.

Veal calves steady. Good handyweights $11.00 to $11.50, but really choice would bring $12.00. Common and heavy kinds down to a low of $5.00.

Hogs steady. Grade A, $16.35, B1, $15.95. Sows, liveweight, $9.75, dressed, $11.00. Grade A's for coast shipment, $16.70. Feeder hogs, $11.00 to $12.25 according to weight and quality.

The lamb market advanced to good to choice handyweights, locals, $11.00 to $11.50. Off cars, $11.50 to $11.75. Yearlings, $5.00 down. Good light ewes $6.00 down. Feeder lambs under limited demand from $6.00 to $7.00.

CHICAGO, aJn. 20.—(AP)—Hogs 500, not enough good and choice kinds on sale to test the market.

Cattle 500; strictly choice 1,450 lb steers $17, with numerous loads $16 to $16.60; bulk all grades $13½ to $16¼, top heifers in load lots $15½, bulk $12½ to $14½; good cows singly and in load lots up to $15; bulk beef cows Sheep 2,500; week's bulk good and $9 to $12½; cutters $8 down, canners $6½ to $7¼; heavy sausage bulls $13½ and fat beef bulls $14.

choice fed wooled western lambs $15.35 to $1565, week's top $15¾; several loads good lambs $15.10 to $15¼; bulk medium and good $14 to $15, several loads common and medium light lambs $11½, to $13; good and choice fed clipped lambs fall shorn pelts $14.60 to $14.90. good and choice yearling wethers $13 to $13.60.

LIVESTOCK TRAFFIC

EDMONTON, Jan 20.—Total receipts of cars trucked, driven and shipped by rail to local livestock agencies: Cars 1, cattle 223, calves 23, hogs 170, sheep 339.

Shipments on Jan 18 — to British Columbia 1 car cattle, to Eastern Canada, 1 car cattle, 1 car hogs, to country points, 3 cars cattle.

New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, Iowa, and Tennessee, are the only states which have no official bird.

Struck by Auto: Farmer Is Dead

Frank Warner, 67-year-old farm worker, who was struck and seriously injured by an auto Wednesday afternoon, died in Royal Alexandra hospital about 6:20 a.m. Saturday. His death marked the second traffic fatality since the new year.

City police, advised of the death, announced the importance of finding all witnesses to the accident. Anyone who saw the accident is therefore asked to communicate immediately with police officers, telephone number 27171.

Warner was struck by an auto said to have been operated by Cline B. Webb, 9813 105 street, about 4:15 p.m. Wednesday, thrown on top of the engine hood, and then slipping to the icy pavement. His injuries included broken limbs, lacerations and internal.

He reportedly came to the city recently from Clover Bar, where he was working, for treatment for frost-bite.

A post-mortem has been ordered, and an inquest will be held.

To View Moon

University of Alberta observatory will be open to the public Saturday night between 8 and 10 p.m. for examination of the planet Saturn and the moon, provided the weather is clement and atmospheric conditions are suitable.

City Veteran "Rehabilitated" During Service

heavyweight boxing championship of the Canadian Army overseas for a time. He was also a good cross-country runner before the war.

ACTIVE IN SPORT

He has continued to be active in sport since his return to civil life and has appeared on several of the wrestling cards held in Edmonton recently.

His brother and business partner, Nick, has had a hard time trying to serve his country in this war.

He enlisted in The Loyal Edmonton Regiment on September 23, 1939, but much to his sorrow was discharged on medical grounds just before the regiment left for overseas in December of that year.

In the spring of 1940, Nick, then a logger in B.C., joined up in a forestry unit being recruited for overseas service. He went overseas and was on landing leave at Inverness, Scotland, when a Nazi bombing fleet wiped out the whole camp that had been prepared for the Canadian loggers. There was fortunately no fatal casualties.

Nick naturally couldn't find the camp so he went to a holding unit and while awaiting posting again got tangled up in one of the worst bombing raids of the war on the Midlands.

Sent back to Canada with a bad case of shock he was discharged in the fall of 1941.

He has always had a yearning to be a writer. So he went back to the coast and worked for a time on a Vancouver newspaper.

The urge to get back in the service hit him again so he joined the Canadian Merchant Marine as a cook.

He served for one year and again obtained an honorable discharge.

He returned to Edmonton and is now learning the shoemaking business fast, under the expert direction of Brother Steve.

But he plans to return to his real "love," the writing game, and is now on a course with the Newspaper Institute of America of New York.

Steve Jossul thinks he's been pretty lucky. He misses the army a lot and he also misses England, which he dearly loved.

The money with which he purchased his shoe business was earned while working on northern war projects. In addition he purchased Victory Bonds worth $1,000.

"I did not find the struggle for readjustment too hard although I found wearing civilian clothes very strange at first. I think the fact I had learned a trade in the army helped me a lot. I would advise every returning serviceman, who has not already done so while in the service, to take trade training of some kind before starting to look for work."

Youngest brother of the Jossuls, Billy, is now serving with a Tank Transport unit of the RCASC in Holland.

Steve and Nick live with their widowed mother in Beverly. One other brother, Alex, and two sisters, Victoria and Stephana, are also at home.

Steve and Nick are members of the Canadian Legion and of the 49th Bn Association.

They find civilians a little more exacting as "customers" than the G.I. brigade in the army.

Seek Damages Result Accident

Damages totalling $3,365 are sought against the Edmonton Hospital Board on behalf of Margaret Olson, Edmonton child, for burns received while being treated as a patient in the hospital. The statement of claim was filed in supreme court, Saturday by Gerald O'Connor KC.

It is alleged in the action brought by the child's mother, Mrs. Adalaine Olson, that her daughter's hand was severely burned through the negligence of the hospital. As a result of the burns the girl suffered permanent limitation of movement of fingers and thumb of a hand, and also ugly burn scars.

BEFORE THE MAGISTRATE

Hiram W. Lendrum of Edmonton was placed on six months' suspended sentence and ordered to keep out of the departmental store which charged him with theft of a bottle of extract, by Magistrate Harold L. Hawe, KC, Saturday morning. The accused, more than 70 years old, had been kept under observation by store detectives while he wandered about the store for more than half an hour, the court was told.

Hector Quintal, pleading guilty to carrying a national registration certificate not issued to him, was remanded until Feb. 1. Other charges were to be laid against the accused, the crown intimated.

AS A service to its readers The Edmonton Bulletin has prepared a booklet of correct wordings for "Cards of Thanks." Call, write or telephone 26121.

May we take this opportunity of thanking our many friends and relatives for their kind expressions of sympathy, and for the beautiful floral tributes received during our recent bereavement in the loss of our very dear mother, Mrs. Eliza Holmes.
—The Holmes Family

We wish to extend to our many friends and relatives our heartfelt thanks for their very kind expressions of sympathy, and for the beautiful floral tributes so graciously tendered during our recent bereavement in the loss of our dear wife and mother. Special thanks to Miss Bernice York and Miss Olive Russell.
—Mr. John Bychyk and Family.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Flying Officer Courtney T. Spooner, killed on active service, January 21, 1944
"There is a link death cannot sever, Love and remembrance last forever."
—Ever remembered by Dad, Eileen, Ernie, Donald and Gordon.

COONEY—In loving memory of a beloved son and brother, Anthony Cooney, who passed away on January 3rd, 1944.
He had a nature you could not help loving,
And a heart that was purer than gold;
And to those who knew him and loved him,
His memory will never grow old.
—Ever loved and remembered by Mother and Dad, sisters Gertrude and Margaret, and brother Jim.

In loving memory of Lora Jane Gosling, who passed away January 21, 1940.
In our home she is fondly remembered,
Sweet memories cling to her name;
Those who loved her in life sincerely,
Still love her in death just the same.
—Ever remembered by her loving sons and daughters.

HEGLER'S HOUSES

Would you like a revenue that is sure no matter what the changing conditions may be? Then read the following.

An 8 room house, hot water heated, perfect hardwood floors, grand high basement, coal stoker for furnace. All in first class condition and all rented in suites.

A 6 room house with hardwood floors below, rented in two suites to steady, reliable tenants. In A-1 condition.

Another building 16x32, now a garage, but not now in use. In line with the other two houses, and could be converted into a nice dwelling.

Another building 16x32, used as a workshop and chicken house, could be moved over in line and be made into a lovely little house.

There is about an acre of land with plenty of room for two more new bungalows. This property is all landscaped in a beautiful situation bordering the river. The vacant land is set out with apple trees and other fruit. Only $8,500 for all of it.

NORWOOD BUNGALOW

One of the better class. Built two years ago by the owner, now retiring. Living room with fireplace and radiant, small dining room, lovely well lighted kitchen, two beautiful bedrooms, all hardwood floors, nice stairs to unfinished attic. It's a good house at a fair price. Enquire.

WEST END—INGLEWOOD

Near Westglen School. A frame house of 7 rooms. Rented at $45. Can be purchased for $4,200 cash. All utilities. Large corner lot. Garage. This house is away below value as it is in finest condition. No safer investment can be had.

SOUTH SIDE BUNGALOW

Five rooms, King Edward district, not old, in the pink of condition. Owner occupied. All utilities and everything that goes with a real up to date bungalow. It's $5,250 cash. Some terms might be arranged.

NOW ABOUT FARMS

An excellent half section three miles from Millet. All under cultivation. 40 summerfallow, fair buildings and the very finest kind of land. Possession anytime. Good roads. Good district, and well worth the price, $50 per acre.

If you want a lower priced farm farther away, how about Lloydminster district at $12 per acre? This is a section—not a poor one. It has good buildings and rich black land with a lot under cultivation and is just an excellent mixed farm. Some equipment also included at that price.

One good quarter in Mayerthorpe district at $1,800.

If it's anything in houses or farms, see the fastest selling office in Edmonton.

PRIVATE BREGER ABROAD

"Why, Darling! What makes you think I go out with anyone else but you?"

Richard Crooks, Arthur Le Blanc, Acclaimed in Celebrity Concert

Richard Crooks, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Association returned to the Empire Theatre on Friday night for his fourth concert here, and was fervently received by a capacity audience with the overflow seated on the stage and in the orchestra pit. There was prolonged applause when Mr. Crooks who by right of conquest has proved to be this city's favorite singer, appeared on the stage, and whole-hearted ovations greeted his successive songs and groups of songs.

Assisting in the complete success of a concert which for general excellence and pleasure seldom has been equalled here, was Arthur LeBlanc, highly accomplished Canadian violinist and composer, while at the piano for both, was Frederick Schauwecker, who stands in the front rank of world accompanists.

For Mr. Crooks it was a repetition of his previous triumphs. His voice was amply supplied with that thrilling quality that has endeared him to music lovers the world over.

GENUINE ARTIST

His consummate musicianship, sincerity of purpose, well-founded technique and superlative interpretive qualities, to say nothing of his admirable stage presence and winning personality were in evidence at all times. "I could sit and listen to him all night," was an expression heard frequently during the program, and as the audience filed out into the cold night air—a change from the warmth and conviviality inside with Mr. Crooks singing.

His program included Comfort Ye My People from Handel's "The Messiah"; Bach's Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring; Handel's Silent Worship and Love Sounds the Alarm; a Schubert group of four songs, Du Bist Die Ruh; Halt, Mein and Eifersucht und Stolz; the Lament of Frederick from Cilea's "L'Arlesiana"; Rachmaninoff's To the Children; John Ireland's Sea Fever; LaForge's Retreat, and Geoffrey O'Hara's There Is No Death.

As at all Mr. Crook's concerts, encores were demanded and he graciously responded with several, namely, Have You But Seen a White Lily Grow?; The Dream from "Manon"; the Aubade from "Le Roi d'Ys"; Land of Hope and Glory, and two in which he was assisted by Mr. LeBlanc, Schubert's Ave Maria and Massenet's Elegie.

For Mr. LeBlanc the concert was the medium by which he firmly entrenched himself as a favorite. He played with flawless intonation, delicacy, refinement and genuine artistry. His tone, though not large, was sweet, pure and at all times pleasant. He won a host of friends.

His contributions included the Vitali-Charlier Chaconne; the Bach-Kreisler Prelude from Sonata in E Major for violin; Cyril Scott's Lotus Land and the ever-welcome Saint-Saens Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso. His own Child's Caprice and later as an encore his Rustic Dance showed that he is a composer of merit. His music showed the hand of a well-trained musician.

Other encores were the Beethoven-Kreisler Rondino; Kreisler's Liebesfreud and a Spanish Dance, Grandina.

Mr. Schauwecker has given proof of his ability and artistry on several occasions, and his work on Friday was all that could be desired.—J. O.

Water Projects Are Considered Minister Says

Dominion and provincial authorities are giving consideration to an arrangement for the joint construction and operation of seven water development schemes it was announced Friday by Hon. D. B. MacMillan, minister of agriculture, and in charge of water resources.

The seven projects when fully constructed would add between seven and eight hundred thousand acres to the irrigable lands now in the province and most of the area would be available to new settlers, he said.

At the request of the province the projects have been surveyed and investigated by the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration, under the direction of George Spence.

For the purpose of discussing progress and policy in connection with the water development schemes which are to be included in the government's post-war program, the minister met on Wednesday with E. L. Gray and George Spence, representing the PFRA, Dr. W. H. Fairfield, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental farm, Lethbridge; and P. M. Sauder, manager, Western Irrigation District, Strathmore.

The projects are East Pothole Coulee reservoir; Redcliff-Ronalane extension of the Canada Land and Irrigation project; Aetna Irrigation district; proposed Carmangay irrigation district; proposed Granum irrigation district; proposed Willow Creek reservoir; Alberta section of the North Saskatchewan irrigation project.

The East Pothole Coulee reservoir is one of the essential storage sites which should be built as soon as possible to make additional water available for the sugar beet crops, and to establish priority to more of the flow of the St. Mary river, an international stream of great importance to both the United States and Canada.

The Redcliff Ronalane extension is the first step in the development of a 225,000 acre project including lands in the Retlaw-Lomdon, Redcliff-Ronalane and Medicine Hat areas.

The Aetna district project will provide the works for other facilities to irrigate a small tract of land between the St. Mary River and Lee Creek, south of the town of Cardston.

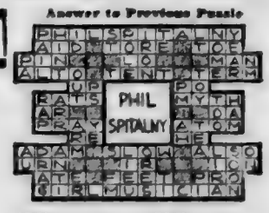

An extension of the Lethbridge Northern canals would irrigate a small tract of land near the town of Carmangay. The proposed Granum district irrigation includes lands in the area south and east of the town which could be irrigated from Willow Creek.

A BAD JOKE

The Teenie Weenies

BY WM. DONAHEY

IT had been cold during the past week and the Teenie Weenies were having fine skating. They had found a tiny pond in the middle of a dense thicket of tall weeds where big people were not likely to go.

Most of the Teenie Weenies would gather at the pond near the Teenie Weenie Village just as soon as their daily tasks were done. They would build a big fire out of weeds and twigs where they could warm their Teenie Weenie toes and fingers. They played games of all sorts, and sometimes Nick the squirrel would let the little people catch onto his long tail and he would pull them around the pond.

The Turk and the Old Soldier had made skates for all the little people. They had hammered runners out of pins, which were then fastened to wooden soles that had been carved from burned matches and these could be securely bound onto Teenie Weenie feet.

The Cook often brought an acorn basket filled with Teenie Weenie doughnuts and sandwiches to the pond and the little folks would eat their lunch there. They had lots of fun and sometimes they tumbled and bumped their Teenie Weenie heads, but no one was really hurt. One day, though, the Dunce played a thoughtless joke that might have been very serious. He stuffed two grains of popcorn into a hollow reed which had been dragged up to be used for firewood. The Policeman threw the reed onto the fire and when the grains of popcorn grew hot they exploded with a loud bang.

The two grains popped at almost the same instant, scattering hot coals and bits of burning firewood all about the place. One grain of corn popped right at the Policeman, hitting that plump little chap right in the tummy. It knocked the breath out of him and tumbled him over. The General fell off the stick on which he had been sitting and upset the basket of sandwiches and doughnuts. It was mighty lucky that none of the hot coals flew into Teenie Weenies' eyes.

The General was terribly angry. He knew the Dunce had put the corn into the fire, for he had done that very thing once before. Besides, the Dunce was the only Teenie Weenie who laughed over the accident.

The General sent the Dunce home to bed for the rest of the day. He ordered that the Dunce should have no dessert for a week and that his skates should be taken away from him for two weeks. During those two weeks he was not allowed to go to the skating pond to watch the other Teenie Weenies on the ice. The poor foolish Dunce! But he really deserved it.
